

THE FORD COUPE STIMULATING THE DEEPEST INTEREST

Enthusiasm of the Candidates Spreads to Friends and Acquaintances Throughout Section.

DO YOU WANT TO WIN TWO CARS?

The Third Period Now On and Present Vote Schedule Will Close Saturday Night.

Together with the announcement of the special prize of the $921 Ford Coupe during the third and fourth periods of The Tribune and Times campaign, and the advent of the next campaign, and the advent of the next campaign, and the advent of the next campaign...

Enthusiasm of the candidates has spread to their friends and acquaintances. In many sections of the city and surrounding territory a great amount of "neighborhood pride" is being shown and great effort is being made to have one of the biggest of the prizes won by the favorite contestant of each community.

Many candidates who call at the election department are expressing new determination to put forth their best efforts during the important period when it is possible to win not only one, but two cars. Letters from candidates in the outside districts and their friends filled with the same sort of enthusiasm, makes one believe that the remainder of the race will be more spirited and exceedingly close.

Up until Saturday night, November 14, every new five-year subscription to The Tribune counts a total of 175,000 votes. Just five of these would be as well as 15 points toward winning the Ford Coupe special prize in addition. Just five of these would be nearly 1,000,000 votes.

The third period is now on and the present vote schedule will be in effect until Saturday night, November 14 when the schedule is very sharply reduced to the lowest vote schedule of the entire campaign which is effective in the final period.

The longer you delay in getting in full swing the less valuable your subscription will be from a vote standpoint. And that is what you are after—votes—or you should be after it if you expect to be one of the big prize winners. The gifts are to be distributed to those who deserve them—to those who make the best records in the vote column. "Wishes" won't get anywhere in this campaign, but the vote producers will be handsomely rewarded in accordance with the effort put forth. This is a campaign of "live ones."

The race in the first and second periods was truly a neck-and-neck affair and is attracting attention all over this territory. It is interesting to see which of the several contenders prove themselves the most popular in the list—the owners of the five big cars. Second payments on subscriptions taken early in the campaign are proving an important factor in the race just now. Those contestants who are working on these are profiting mightily.

Think of having prizes worth up to $2731 given you for your efforts in

CAPT. DAVIS SAYS MISSING SHIP WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Commander of Schooner Mary A. Sharpe Says He Saw the Burned Hulk of the Yacht Bunny III.

PROMINENT MEN WERE ON YACHT

Secretary of State For Delaware Among Persons Missing—Saw Hulk of Yacht Saturday.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Definite information that the yacht Bunny III carrying prominent men from Wilmington, Del., has been burned at sea was brought to Savannah by Capt. J. F. Davis, of Norfolk, commander of the schooner Mary A. Sharp which made port today.

Captain Davis reported to the commander of the United States coast guard cutter Yamacraw that he visited the burned hulk of the Bunny III at 3:45 o'clock on Saturday, October 24th, ten miles from Murrell's Inlet and three miles off shore.

The Mary A. Sharpe stood by until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and made a thorough investigation. The craft was identified by the letters M-1014 and on each bow was a red bit's head in black and gilt. All decks were burned away and there was only a small part of the forward deck remaining. The sides were half burned away. No bodies were found on the craft.

Another Man Says Yacht Was Burned—Newport News, Va., Nov. 4.—(AP)—T. S. Phillips, of this city, who is on a yachting trip to Florida, wrote his wife from Beaufort, N. C., that the yacht Bunny III had been destroyed at sea by fire and that all on board had perished. Mr. Phillips and E. R. Pusey, owner of the yacht, were guests aboard the Old Glory at Newport News' yacht at Southport last week.

GOVERNOR MEETS COLORED BISHOPS

Also Sees Colored Ministers Who are Boys Lived in Father's Farm.

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—(AP)—One of the most interesting conferences Governor McLean has had in a long while, he says, was one a few days ago with three members of the negro race. Nicholas and Noah Shamburger, ministers in the negro Methodist Episcopal Church, called on the governor, bringing with them their bishop, Bishop Clair, who was here presiding over the annual conference of the church, which adjourned on Sunday.

The two Shamburgers, both now ministers of their church, Nicholas, or "Nick"—as the governor calls him, being the pastor of a large negro church in Chicago, were known to the governor when they were boys. "They worked on my father's farm," Governor McLean stated, "and were 'ol' boys together."

"They came to extend their congratulations," the executive explained. In answer to a question as to whether he thought the negroes, too, deserved congratulations, the governor replied:

"Yes, indeed, I did congratulate them. It was an exchange of congratulations. The governor expressed his pleasure in seeing the two ministers, as well as the bishop of the church, and declared that he enjoyed the conference greatly.

W. N. Reynolds' Condition May Call For Operation.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—(AP)—It has not been determined definitely today whether the condition of W. N. Reynolds, head of the Reynolds Tobacco Company, who entered the Johns Hopkins Hospital yesterday, would necessitate an operation. Dr. J. H. Shoke, assistant superintendent, said it was too early to ascertain what would be necessary. The condition which brought Mr. Reynolds to the hospital was not divulged.

this campaign. Think what it means to win any one of these fine new cars. There are 10 grand prizes to be awarded to the live wire hustlers, on November 21, just a matter of days now. As to which five will be numbered among these as close as the race stands, all depends upon who accomplishes the most during the short time that remains, especially while the "second payment" schedule is in effect this third period.

November 14 is your last big opportunity to win.

And the Navy Got a New Admiral

BABY'S SUIT FOR FORD CAR HOTLY CONTESTED

Whole Trouble Arose When Three-Year-Old Won Automobile at Land Sale.

Haleigh, Nov. 3.—Howard Patton, infant plaintiff suing for three Heaths for a $238.25 Ford, was in the Supreme Court today in quite an argument in which Judge R. C. Strudwick stood up for three-year-old's right to the flivver and Andy Joyner, Jr., and E. D. Kuykendall backed him.

The issues are not many. There was a land sale at which the baby was one among the 2,000 or more present. Undoubtedly the brass band was there and of course the machine was given away. When a paper writing was handed out, the infant's name checked. But he could not go up and claim the prize. This had to be done for him. Judge Strudwick tells how the advertising was done by John, Cecil and Tal Heath. "Come and be our guest whether you buy or not," the invitation reads. "Take a chance at the Ford to be given away absolutely free. All you have to do is to be on the grounds when the sale starts, and stay there until the sale closes. We guarantee a square deal to every one."

VALENTINO ON PROBATION

He Has Not Made Good, Says Wife, Still Adherent.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Is the modern young woman of the fashionable set "stronger" minded than man? Such is the question now becoming the topic of Paris because of two intense human cases in which prominent young matrons—Mrs. Rudolph Valentino and Mrs. Charles Nungesser—are proving adamant against the entreaties of their husbands to call off their "marriage vacations."

Although softened by a few weeks of separation, Mrs. Valentino recently decided to let bygones be bygones, but she has now changed her mind and declares to shorten by one day the delay she set before agreeing to a full reconciliation.

"I gave Rudolph one year to make good. He hasn't yet, so he must wait," confided Mrs. Valentino to a friend last week on arriving here.

Thus, the big welcoming party which Valentino had joyously planned to take place in Los Angeles to solemnize his wife's return to Hollywood this month, may be indefinitely postponed, while Rudolph is doomed to ten more months of bachelor life.

Mrs. Valentino will sail tomorrow on the Leviathan, but her journey will end in New York, where her mother, Mrs. Hudnut, who accompanies her, will remain long enough to see her daughter comfortably installed in her Park Avenue apartment.

Running somewhat parallel with the Valentino case is the story of Consuelo Hatmaker, who was married a year ago to the famous ace, Nungesser. She recently decided on a marriage vacation because her aviator husband would not give up work to live a life of luxurious leisure on her millions.

Three weeks of separation were apparently enough to melt the heart of the war hero. "But not his bride's."

GUILFORD COUNTY HOME NO PLACE FOR PRISONERS

Guilford Commissioners Will Not Allow Institution to Become a Dumping Ground.

Dumplings, Nov. 3.—The board of commissioners of Guilford county today serve notice upon the city and superior courts that the practice of sending women to the county home to serve sentences must stop—that the place is no prison, but a home for the dependent aged and infirm.

Heretofore women, white and black, have been sent there to serve sentences for immorality or dealing in liquor, and the commissioners resent the use of the place, a fine, modern, well kept building, as a jail.

Smith, state senator from Portsmouth and South Norfolk and Norfolk county, to show cause on November 18th why a certificate granted him to practice law in the courts of the commonwealth should not be revoked. The action was brought by the Norfolk-Portsmouth Bar Association, which charged that Senator Smith was sentenced in court of general sessions at Clarendon county, South Carolina, on June 2, 1923, for forgery, and that under the name of Charles A. Smith, Jr., he was dishonorably discharged from the United States army on August 6, 1914.

WOMAN ACCUSER OF MANSEL ON STAND

Testimony Taken in Presence Only of Court Officials, Attorneys and Jurors.

Asheville, Nov. 3.—Behind closed doors and with a heavy guard of deputies and troopers from the local unit of the National Guard on duty, the victim of an alleged assault by Alvin Mansel, negro, who is on trial for his life here, went on the stand tonight and told her story of the crime. The testimony was taken only in the presence of court officials, attorneys and jurors.

Two hours and twenty minutes were required to select the jury, the last man to be picked taking his place just before court adjourned for the afternoon. It is believed that the trial will be concluded tomorrow so that the second case in which Preston Neely is charged with criminal assault, may be taken up Thursday morning as scheduled.

When court opened this afternoon Mansel was confronted by his alleged victim, a white woman, whom Mansel is alleged to have criminally attacked near Sunset Moonrain on September 19th.

Surrounded by National Guardsmen from Troop F. N. C. National Guard, Mansel was brought into court at 2:30 this afternoon, the hour when the special venire of 100 men, from whom a jury is to be selected, was to report.

Some fifteen troopers and armed deputy sheriffs formed the bodyguard about Mansel. He was given a temporary seat next to two guardsmen until his case was called.

The order to search every person entering the court room, which was placed in effect yesterday by Judge A. M. Stack, was continued today. Deputies at the door searched every person passing into the auditorium of the court room.

WOMAN'S THROAT CUT WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Jugular Vein of Mrs. Ellen Dahlman, of Charlotte, Barely Missed.

Monroe, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Ellen Dahlman, of 1210 South Boulevard street, Charlotte, and M. K. Thorne, of Charlotte, were rushed to the Ellen Fitzgerald Hospital late yesterday afternoon in a serious condition as a result of an automobile accident two miles out on the Charlotte road. Mrs. Dahlman and Mr. Thorne were on their way to Marshville to visit sick relatives when the coupe which they were driving skidded and made a head-on collision with a roadster occupied by two gentlemen from Charlotte, whose names were not learned.

Mrs. Dahlman had her throat cut from ear to center by shattered glass, the laceration extending to near the roof of the tongue and barely missing the jugular vein. She also sustained a broken arm and several gashes about the head.

Mr. Thorne had a knee cap fractured and was badly cut in several places. The occupants of the car into which they made a dive were slightly injured.

ALVIN MANSEL WILL ATTEMPT TO PROVE ALIBI AS DEFENSE

Negro Charged With Assault on White Woman Hopes to Be Able to Establish Alibi.

WAS WORKING AT TIME OF ASSAULT

Say Counsel Who Are Defending Him—Negro Spectator at the Trial Is Arrested.

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Acting on telephonic instructions received from Adjutant Gen. J. Van B. Metz at the scene, Major Gordon Smith shortly before midday today ordered additional troops to proceed at once to Asheville, where two negroes are being tried for attacks on white women.

Major Smith said he understood the orders were issued as a precautionary measure. Three squads of Company B, 105 Engineers at Morganton, N. C., were ordered to proceed at once, and Major Smith was advised they would leave Morganton shortly after noon.

Asheville, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Attempt to prove an alibi for Alvin Mansel, 17 year old negro on trial for his life, charged with criminal assault up a white woman, was being made by the defense today. Mansel, who was employed as orderly at a sanatorium expected to show, his attorneys said, that he was on duty at the time of the alleged attack.

It is anticipated that the case will reach the jury late tonight or tomorrow morning. Night session was held last night, and another will be held tonight if necessary to conclude the case.

The alleged victim of the attack positively identified Mansel as her assailant last night. Testifying behind locked doors after all spectators had been excluded from the court room the woman told how she had started from her mountain home with flowers to sell, that she met Mansel and asked him if he knew where she might sell some flowers. Mansel, she said, directed her to a house. After she left the house and had proceeded a little way she saw the negro approaching her. The negro seized a stone, she testified, and struck her on the head.

It was established by evidence that the woman had lain in the ditch about two hours before she was sufficiently recovered to drag herself to a house and give the alarm.

Sheriff Mitchell said Mansel was arrested a few hours later and was taken by him to the bedside of the woman, then in a hospital, and positively identified.

Kelsey Bartlett, negro spectator, was last night ordered jailed by Judge A. M. Stack, after persons in the court room reported that Bartlett had made the statement that white men were testifying to lies about Mansel.
