MUSIC DEPARTMENT OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. W. M. Linker and Mrs. H. C. Herring were joint hostesses. Mrs. W. M. Linker and Mrs. H. C. Herring were joint hostesses to the Music Department of the Woman's Club Tuesday evening, December 3. The home was made unusually attractive by the many cut flowers and especially attractive were the pink roses, shedding beauty, fragrance and inspiration to the twenty-seven music lovers assembled to hear the well rendered music program. Handel was the subject for study and following program was given.

Sketch of Handel's Life—Mrs. A. E. Harris.
Piano Duet—Mrs. Chas. Porter and Miss Laura Gilton.
Largo from Xerxes, Arm Ye Brave from Judas Maccabeus.
Hallelujah Chorus from "The Messiah"—rendered on Victrola.
Mr. Albert C. Hall, of Virginia, gave several vocal solos. Mr. Hall has a rich full baritone voice and his renditions were greatly enjoyed.
Master Eugene Kidd gave several violin selections. Eugene is a promising young musician and this music department bespeaks for him success as a violinist.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Ritchie. Mrs. Ritchie stressed the point that "we should do things worth while." It was voted to put on a memory hymn contest in the city Sunday schools. As outlined by the general chairman of Federated Clubs, Mrs. Mary Orbenlander. Mrs. Janie Patterson Wagoner, who is a club member, was urged by members of the music department to give at an early date a musical evening of her own compositions, to which Mrs. Wagoner kindly consented. The department voted to sponsor this recital.

The meeting adjourned to meet in December at the home of Mrs. R. E. Ridgeway. The guests were invited by the hostesses to the dining room for a social hour being served sandwiches, coffee, tea and candy.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Take up Variety of Matters in regard to Y Work.—Mr. Niblock Makes Report.
At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. held on Thursday evening, P. C. Niblock made a report of the National Convention from which he has just returned, and particularly stressed the prominence which has come to Concord through her Y activities.

Mr. Niblock declared that he was approached by a number of the delegates present at the Washington meeting who inquired about the work in Concord.

In addition to Mr. Niblock's report, other matters of interest were taken up. Prof. A. S. Webb told of the fine work which was being done by the Y force in the schools of the city and lauded its benefits. He said he had received inquiries about it from a number of other schools.

The matter of subscriptions which were due the Y. M. C. A. was discussed and it was decided to make an immediate request that people pay their obligations and thus make it possible for the Y. M. C. A. to meet its bills. Practically every cent which the Y spends, said Mr. Blank, is being spent in Concord.

It was decided to get the business men of the city to take opportunity of the classes which were offered for them.

FLOWER SHOW AGAIN SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Chrysanthemums Not So Large as They Have Been in Past.—Supper Enjoyed by Hundreds.
Concord's Annual Floral Show was held Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. and proved to be as great a drawing card as it has ever been since its beginning as one of the city's institutions.

The flowers this year were not quite so large as they have been some years. They were injured somewhat by the very dry and very hot weather which was prevalent this summer, it was declared. Especially beautiful, however were three prize winning chrysanthemums of pure white, of enormous size. A group of pink chrysanthemums were also almost universally admired.

Fancy work and potted plants also proved to be interesting. The fancy work, according to the ladies, was being sold at prices which was dirt cheap.

Hundreds of people attended the supper which was served in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A.

The Flower Show, as it is usually called, has been an annual affair in the city for years. It is conducted by the women of St. James Lutheran Church but has grown to be a city-wide affair, owing to the interest which is taken in it.

STREET CAR SYSTEM POLES AND WIRES ARE REMOVED

City Workmen Have Removed Equipment That Was Considered Dangerous to City.
City workmen have completed the task of removing poles and wires of the North Carolina Public Service Co. here. Several weeks ago certain city officials, after an investigation, advised the street car company that the equipment of the street car company has become dangerous and the aldermen authorized the removal of the poles and wires.

The work was done by employees of the city, and street railway company refusing to do it. Copper wire salvaged will be sold to pay the expenses of the work, it is said.

There seems no possibility of street cars operating in Concord again and the aldermen were unwilling for the equipment to remain standing after they had been advised that it had become a public danger.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR P. & N. OBTAINED

Mecklenburg Commissioners Give Interurban Right to Pass Through County Home Property.

That definite steps for the extension of the Piedmont & Northern lines from Charlotte to Winston-Salem are still being taken is shown in the following dispatch sent out from Charlotte Thursday:

Confirmation by the lieutenant that the death of James B. Duke will not halt any of the projects in which he was interested at the time of his death was given Wednesday in connection with the proposal to build extension of the Piedmont & Northern railway system from Charlotte to Winston-Salem.

The county board of commissioners Tuesday granted a right-of-way for the proposed Piedmont and Northern extensions through the county home property, nine miles from Charlotte.

It has been known for weeks that Piedmont and Northern executives were considering ingress and egress of the proposed extension in Charlotte and that stakes have already been driven to indicate the line the road may take in Charlotte's suburbs and beyond.

Rights-of-way are being obtained between here and Winston-Salem and the fact that the line is being definitely marked out by the securing of rights-of-way are accepted as further indication that the line will be built.

Post and Flag's Cotton Letter.

New York, Nov. 5.—Strong buying combined with good trade buying caused the market to open strongly this morning. The initial advance, however, was not maintained as some hedge selling and local short selling appeared on talk of increased gin-positions and the idea that the technical position had been weakened by the recent advance. The trade continued to buy on the decline, however, and when the local element attempted to cover their contracts there appeared to be practically nothing for sale, and the market worked into new high levels.

Business during the day was generally light and sentiment on the floor was rather mixed as is almost invariably the case when another one of these bureau reports is approaching, but is generally felt that the low price for the season has been seen and the market is a buy on dips.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Will Be on Wednesday, November 18th, This Year.

Local Red Cross chapter officials are busy with preliminary plans for the annual Roll Call this Fall. Howard Collier, chapter chairman, stated today. Roll Call day in Concord will be on Wednesday, November 18th.

The Roll Call, he added, is the annual enrollment of Red Cross members through which the work of the local chapter and the national and international work of the organization is financed.

Tentative plans call for a thorough house-to-house canvass of the entire residential section as well as a canvass of the business houses. The aim of the solicitors will be to visit personally every resident of the community and to enlist his support.

"The American Red Cross," Mr. Collier stated, "is our most effective instrument for helping the unfortunate in our community, our state, and all over the world. This community is one of several thousand in the country which will conduct the Roll Call simultaneously. When the returns are in, I am confident that we will have done our part and will have the satisfaction of knowing that in all of its many humanitarian activities during the ensuing year, we will have a personal part. The American Red Cross is race, creed and color blind. It sees in suffering only a challenge to be accepted. The least that we can do is to make possible a continuance of its good work."

Philatelic Class Second Presbyterian Church.

On Wednesday night the Philatelic Class of the Second Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Victoria Holbrook on Kerr street for the quarterly business and social meeting.

Devotional was conducted by Mrs. Fletcher Dry, president of the class, and prayer by Rev. M. E. Hansel. The reading of the report showed an average attendance for the quarter of 13.

During the business session committees were appointed to call upon the delinquent members.

During the social hour hot chocolate, chicken salad sandwiches and wafers were served. There were 25 members present.

We enjoyed having with us as visitors, Miss May White, a former teacher of the class, and Mr. Hansel, our pastor. A MEMBER.

Every Child Should See Peter Pan.
November 8th through 14th is Children's Book Week all over America (the motto for this week is "More Stories and Books for Children.") There is no more beautiful story than Barrie's "Peter Pan." The screen production of it is a masterpiece of art, and to see it is to believe in fairy tales.

At the request of the teachers of the public schools, this Paramount picture will be produced at the Star Theatre on November 9, 10 and 11, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It is hoped that every child in Cabarrus county may be given the opportunity to see this fairy tale.

Only fifteen cents for children and twenty-five cents for grown people. Go and the world will seem a better, brighter place to you.

What Dame Fashion Bids You Wear!

THE SELECTION of a fall wardrobe is pure delight!

The shops are filled to overflowing with exquisite gowns and wraps and smart costumes for sports and street wear. With this generous offering of all that is new and correct, it is easy to be "well-dressed."

Every conceivable shade, from the most brilliant to the palest pastel, is represented in the fall showing. Color is dominant! It runs riot in formal gowns, in sports apparel, in military, and in coats and wraps. Select the shade that most becomes you, and be happy in the assurance that you are in the mode.

The silhouette has taken a decidedly unique turn—it is still straight if you wish, but if you prefer a change, there is the flare, in all its grace and freedom; or pleats of all descriptions—knife pleats, box pleats, inverted pleats, and what not. The younger miss will no doubt prefer straight lines, probably diversified by some form of the pleat. Simplicity is, after all, best suited to youth.

Rich fabrics in countless numbers are offered in street and evening costumes, and in coats and wraps—velvets, brocades, fabrics of suede finish, novel weaves in homespun, tweeds and worsteds. These are beautifully developed in an infinite variety of styles. They are all so lovely that one wants half a dozen. It is hard to make a choice of one or two.

Joy of joys! The truly feminine spirit can now freely indulge her love of finery and "trimmings." Heavy embroideries and braids, laces and ornaments are lavishly used this season. Furs, too, continue to be a popular means of adornment, both at the neck and sleeves, and on the hemline.

Evening gowns and wraps are lovelier, more sumptuous and extravagant than ever before. They revel in color, in exquisite embroidery, and in sparkling gem adornments. The girl of today is a true princess—at least insofar as clothes are concerned.

Footwear is novel in design and leather. For street wear, lizard and snake skin, suede, brown and black kid are in good taste, and for evening wear, there are dainty models of satin, brocade, and gold and silver kid.

If a woman would be termed "well-dressed," she does well to carefully make a list of her fall needs, and her discrimination and good taste will direct her to the best shops at which to obtain each individual article.

In our various departments each of these articles can be found in the Most Attractive Styles and Colors
