Special music was rendered by a quartette composed of H. E. Ridenour, Jr., Prentiss Raeford, Jesse Raeford, and Albert Hall, of Danville.

THE COTTON MARKET

Although Nervous at Opening, Market Later Showed Steady Undertone.

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The cotton market was rather nervous and irregular, preceding today's government crop report, but on the whole showed steady undertone in early trading.

The opening was steady at an advance of 18 points to a decline of 1 point in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of unfavorable weather in the South over Sunday. A good deal of pre-bureau liquidation or realizing sent prices off from 19.90 to 19.74 for January contracts after the call, or about 10 to 11 points net lower, but the market steadied up again on covering and showed net advances of 4 to 11 points at the end of the first hour.

Cotton futures opened steady: December 20.50; January 19.90; March 20.01; May 19.85; July 19.35.

Greater Demand Causes Rise in Textile Stocks.

Gastonia, Nov. 7.—The wide demand for textile securities during the past week centering upon Carolina stocks caused a further gain of 28 cents per share in the weekly average of 25 active stocks, according to the figures released by R. S. Dickson & Co. The average price stands at 118.22, against 117.94 for the previous week.

The outlook at the present time for southern mills is extremely bright, with the power situation greatly relieved by a general rainfall throughout the piedmont section, thus making possible six hours more operating time per week. In the general list a number of changes took place, causing the following stocks to advance $1 to $5 per share in bid price: Acme, American Yarn and Processing, Arlington, Chesnee, China Grove, Clifton, Dixon, Durham Hosiery, Gaffney, Globe, Gluck Hamrick, Linford, Majestic, Mooresville, National, Pa-color, Ranlo, Rowan, Sterling, Victory and Winget, and a decline of 50 cents to $5 in Chiquola, Musgrove and Southern Bleachery.

KING TUT'S MUMMY IN MOULDED COFFIN

Beads and Flowers About Head and Chest, Modeled in Pharaoh's Likeness.

Cairo, Nov. 9.—The body of King Tutankhamen has been uncovered, a communique issued in Arabic by the Minister of Works announces. Tutankhamen's tomb was re-opened October 12th in the presence of Egyptian officials. The lid of the first sarcophagus was lifted, showing another, on which lay linen coverings and bouquets. These were removed, revealing a work of unexampled beauty.

This second sarcophagus bore an effigy of the god Osiris, embellished with multicolored pieces of glass. The sarcophagus was covered with a thin layer of gold on a marble ground and adorned with the vulture goddess Nuebit. After this sarcophagus had been scientifically examined, it was removed from the first—an extremely delicate operation, as the one fitted exactly inside the other, and the delicate ornamentation might easily be injured.

By October 22nd it was possible to remove the cover from the second sarcophagus, disclosing a human-shaped coffin, covered with a linen shroud. Around the head and chest were a string of beads and flowers. The face was uncovered and is believed to represent young King Tutankhamen himself.

After photographs were taken, the shroud, beads and flowers were removed, revealing a superb coffin of most artistic design, covered with gold ornaments. Unfortunately, a large part of the coffin was marred by a shining black deposit, apparently some glutinous liquid poured over it at the time of burial.

The most important problem now is removal of the human-shaped coffin from the second sarcophagus, which, in addition to fitting very closely, has adhered on account of this glutinous liquid.

TRIAL OF ALLEGED MOB MEMBERS NOW READY FOR COURT

Judge Rules That 32 Men Alleged to Have Been in Mob Must Stand Trial Together.

TWO DEFENDANTS LEAVE ASHEVILLE

Bondsmen Required to Appear in Court, Forfeit Bonds and Tell Court What They Know.

Asheville, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Motions of defense counsel to separate the trials of 32 men charged with participating in the mob attack on the Buncombe county jail the night of Saturday, September 19th, were overruled by Judge A. M. Stack at the opening of the cases in Superior Court this morning.

The court ruled that all the cases grow out of the same indictment, that the charge of conspiracy by its very nature necessitates trying all the defendants at one time. Judge Stack said if the men were to be given individual trials the court would be in session "from now until Christmas."

Lawrence Creaman, local real estate dealer, and Paul Pegrum failed to appear for trial and the court ordered bonds forfeited and the bondsmen to appear in court and show why the defendant had not appeared for trial. Bond in each case is $2,500.

PROPOSED DUKE MEMORIAL POSTPONED TO NOV. 23rd

Duke University Faculty and Trustees and People of Durham to Take Part in Celebration.

Durham, Nov. 9.—The proposed memorial to the late James Buchanan Duke, which was to have been held at Duke university next Saturday, and in which all of the students, members of the faculty, board of trustees and others were to have taken an active part, has been postponed until Wednesday, November 23, according to announcement made by Dr. W. P. Few, head of the college.

On the latter date the board of trustees of the college is to hold an important meeting and it was thought best to have the memorial at that time. Then, too, the postponing of the date gives opportunity to arrange for a more complete and impressive program than it would have been possible to prepare otherwise.

James B. Duke was the college's greatest benefactor and students and faculty alike are anxious to pay tribute to his memory which will be most fitting. It is likely that the service will be open to the public at large and, if such is the case, hundreds are expected to attend from all parts of the state.
