This necklace is made of large pearls and a square cut emerald bounded on all sides by seed pearls. It is a most satisfying ornament for one woman to own.

Entertains Wedding Party.
On the evening before the marriage of Miss Mary Caveauigh to Mr. Hugh Maxwell Morrison, of Concord, her step-mother, Mrs. J. A. Caveauigh, entertained in her honor, the bridal party and a few out-of-town guests. The table, lighted with yellow tapers, was one of artistic beauty, the color scheme, yellow and white, being minutely carried out throughout the entire decorations, in place cards, ices, etc. On the table, covered with a spotless embroidered linen cloth, was a large silver basket as centerpiece, filled with a "bride bouquet" of yellow and white chrysanthemums. At the conclusion of the first three courses, the ice cream, in wedding slipper shape in yellow, was served with plain and fruit cake, followed with mints in yellow and white.

Those of the party were Misses Louise McCallum, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCallum, of Maxton; Misses Fannie and Mildred Morrison, and Mrs. W. F. Morrison mother of the groom, of Concord; Misses Rebecca Colwell, Pauline Knowles and Aggie Caveauigh, of Wallace, Mr. Maxwell, of Charlotte; Messes, I. H. Bost and Lee Lee Dees, of Wallace; Mr. James Caveauigh, of Goldsboro; Mr. Herbert Caveauigh, of Wilmington; Mr. Aubrey Caveauigh, of Beulahville. Following the rehearsal Wednesday evening, an informal reception was held at the Caveauigh home. Here the same color scheme of yellow and white was artistically carried out in the refreshments, decorations, etc.

Miss Rebecca Dayvault in Wedding. Miss Rebecca Dayvault left this morning for Hendersonville where she will attend the wedding of Miss Dixie Dixon to Robert M. Lupo on Monday afternoon. Miss Dayvault is to be in attendance in the wedding. Miss Dixon is well known in Concord, having been the attractive guest of Miss Dayvault on several occasions. The wedding is to be one of the feature events of Hendersonville society this fall.

NEW MANAGER HERE TO TAKE CHARGE OF THEATRE
H. H. Bumgardner Succeeds Miller Meriwether Who Goes to Florida Next Week.
H. H. Bumgardner, formerly of Mt. Holly, has arrived in Concord to take charge of the Concord Theatre in place of Miller Meriwether, whose resignation takes effect on Monday. Mr. Bumgardner has had a number of years experience in the moving picture business, having managed a motion picture house in Mt. Holly for the past seven years.

His plans are to continue the showing of the high class productions which have been shown at the Concord Theatre since its opening last May. In a statement this morning, he declared that he would uphold the standard which Mr. Meriwether had set and would do all in his power to please the patrons of the movie house. Mr. Meriwether will leave the city early next week for Winston where he will remain several days before moving to Florida, where he hopes to make his future home.

A conference was held this afternoon between Mr. Bumgardner and N. L. Royster, general manager of Southern Warner Theatres, on the plans for the future. Mr. Royster left soon after the conference for Charlotte, where he has the southern offices of the Warner company.

Timothy Hay, when visiting the Hoosier county fair at Frogtown, saw his neighbor Al Flafa riding time and again on a merry-go-round. Tim couldn't quite understand Al's fondness for this childish sport, and he said: "Say, Al, what are you spending so much of your time riding on the merry-go-round for? You don't look as if you were enjoying it, and I should think it would make you dizzy."

Al responded: "I don't enjoy it, and it does make me dizzy; but the cowardly skunk who owns this machine owes me some money he won't pay and I'm determined to get it out of him."

Miss Elizabeth Evans, three years out of college, has achieved brilliant success as an architect in Kansas City.

A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

Miss Mary Caveauigh Becomes Bride of Hugh Maxwell Morrison. Wallace, Nov. 12—A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the Wallace Presbyterian Church today at high noon, when Miss Mary Caveauigh, became the bride of Mr. Hugh Maxwell Morrison, of Concord, Rev. W. P. M. Currie, pastor of the bride, officiating.

The church had been most effectively and exquisitely decorated for the happy occasion, the color note of yellow and white prevailing. On each side of the chancel, in front of the altar, which was a bank of green with the large yellow chrysanthemums, were several large standards, each supporting three white columns, intertwined with Southern snail. At the base of the columns were grouped growing ferns. At the entrance to the chancel stood tall receptacles of yellow chrysanthemums, tied with yellow tulle. Banked high against the piano and in the corner recesses were ferns, interspersed with stands of the yellow chrysanthemums, completing the lovely scene, and making a beautiful setting for the bridal party.

Just prior to the ceremony, Miss Louise McCallum, of Maxton, in her rare charming soprano voice, sang Cadman's "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me." Miss Madge Southerland, who rendered all the wedding music, gave several selections. The first of the bridal party to enter the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin were the ushers, Mr. A. L. Caveauigh, of Beulahville, and Mr. James Caveauigh, of Goldsboro, brothers of the bride. Following came Miss Mildred Morrison, sister of the groom, followed by Miss Pauline Knowles and Miss Rebecca Colwell, of Wallace, down opposite aisles. These wore ensemble suits of white flannel, with soft white hats, carrying arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums, tied with streamers of yellow tulle. Miss Annie Caveauigh, one of the bride's bridesmaids, of Beulahville, also wore a white flannel ensemble, with soft white hat, carrying an arm bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums, tied with tulle of the same shade. The bride, who entered with her brother, Mr. Herbert Caveauigh, of Wilmington, who gave her in marriage was met at the altar by the groom, who entered from the vestry with his best man, Mr. Lee Dees, of Wallace. The beautiful ring ceremony was used. The bride was strikingly handsome in her going away suit of brown, with her close fitting hat, and accessories to match, and carrying a bride's bouquet of roses, valley lilies and fern.

After congratulations and hasty good-byes, the happy couple left in their car for some point, not told by them, where they will board the train for a southern trip.

The bride is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Caveauigh, of this place, and has lived practically all her young life in Wallace, where she is loved and popular with a large circle of friends, which was attested by the number of social affairs given in her honor since the announcement was made of her approaching marriage. She was educated at Flora Macdonald College. The groom is with the State Highway Commission, which is completing some work near here. Mr. Morrison has made Wallace his home for more than a year, and his exemplary habits and splendid traits of character have won for him the confidence and esteem of all with whom he has come in contact. The home of the young couple will for the present be at Kenansville.

TIYPHOID CARRIERS FOUND IN GREENSBORO CAFES
Four of the Disease Carriers Have Been Located By Health Officers. Greensboro News.

Three typhoid carriers, persons who carry live typhoid germs but who are not subject to the disease, have been located within the last month by the health department in examination of employes in restaurants of Greensboro.

The three have been discontinued from their duties, of course, for public protection and their discovery is taken as proof of the service which the health department is capable of rendering the people. Examinations of discharges were made by the state laboratory.

The location of these three typhoid carriers runs the year's total to four. The first was found working in a dairy serving the city. Some persons who have typhoid carry the germs in their bodies for years while from 10 to 15 per cent of them, according to Dr. C. C. Hudson, carry the germs for several months.

KIWANIANS HEAR TALK BY J. P. COOK ON CONVENTION

Work of Clubs in Carolinas Landed.—Mass Meeting For Hospital to Be Held on 23rd.

Kiwanians, in their regular weekly luncheon Friday, heard a report from the district convention of North and South Carolina clubs at Pinehurst by J. P. Cook, who made an interesting talk on the work which Kiwanis is doing in these two states.

Mr. Cook was enthusiastic in his praises of the service which was being rendered by the organization. He also told of the convention meetings at Pinehurst and of the business at the sessions there.

Attention was also called by Mr. Cook to the fact that a public meeting at the court house would be held Monday, November 23rd, in the interest of the new hospital for Concord. Mr. Cook, as chairman of the committee in charge of the effort to get money from the Duke foundation for this purpose, urged every member of the club to be present and hear Dr. W. S. Rankin, who will attend the meeting.

Julius Shauers, chairman of the program introduced as his guests Miss Nellie Boston, of China Grove, Dr. H. A. Stirewalt, also of China Grove, and Rev. L. A. Thomas, of this city.

Miss Boston delighted the club with the lovely rendition of two vocal selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Dr. Stirewalt.

Mr. Thomas made an interesting talk on the history of the Red Cross and urged the members of the club to do their bit in the coming Red Cross roll call.

The attendance prize, given by Julius Shauers, was drawn by Brevard Harris.

The next meeting will be in charge of Fred Sheppard.

Baroness de Alcahall, a noted Spanish painter and newspaper correspondent who is now in America, is one of the two honorary captains in the Spanish army, the queen being the other. First as a newspaper correspondent and then as a Red Cross nurse the baroness spent months in Morocco with the army. She was twice wounded, once shot down from an aeroplane and again during an infantry engagement. She bears the military medal of merit, presented to her by the Queen of Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown seem rather unhappy lately. I think there must be a rift in the lute somewhere. Didn't even know they were musical.
