

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL NOW GO TO THE SEALED BALLOT BOX

Vote Standing Today Will Be the Last to Be Published Until the Contest Closes Saturday.

WHO WILL BE THE PRIZE WINNERS?

Every Hour is Highly Important in These Last Few Closing Hours of the Campaign.

Today's vote standings in The Tribune-Times gift distribution will be the last until the publication of the winners and their standings in next Monday's issue of The Tribune and Times.

At the close of the contest Saturday night the judges will audit and add all votes cast this week to the reserve votes and to the standings of the respective candidates as published in today's vote standings.

The question now foremost in every one's mind is "Who will be the big prize winners when the judges announce their official decision on Saturday night?"

Every hour is highly important these last few hours of the contest. In fact, after today there are only four days left—and every single minute of these last fateful hours is vitally important to the final success.

Not one candidate will admit the possibility of defeat, for every one of these five wires is working with might and main to be one of the victors in the election.

It is believed here that Col. Harris' career as an editor will challenge any in the state for length of service, and for volume of editorial matter written over a period of fifty years.

At first, a few friends of Col. Harris in Charlotte, learning that it had been a half century this year since he entered upon his career as an editor, had planned a small, informal dinner.

Today, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday up until 10 o'clock is sufficient time to get the winning votes that will elect the prize of your choice.

Remember that the long-term subscriptions count the greatest number of votes. New subscriptions this final period carry no bonus vote out to carry points toward the winning of the Ford coupe special prize.

The winning power of a five-year subscription without club votes would be $125,000. Make a thorough canvass of your friends and make positively certain that you are not omitting any subscriptions that might mean winning one of the cars.

A few long-term subscriptions might prove to be the very ones needed to win one of the attractive and valuable cars.

The ballot box is now sealed and has been placed in the Cabarrus Savings Bank, where candidates and their friends may deposit their final votes.

No one but the candidates knows the number of votes each one is piling up there last few days of the election. This assures absolute fairness to all and prevents any possibility of favoritism being shown.

Simply put your subscription stubs in an envelope with remittance to cover, and be sure sufficient remittance is made to cover the subscriptions, so that votes can be counted for you.

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The cotton market opened barely steady today at a decline of 6 to 13 points in response to relatively easy late cables from Liverpool, reports of picking and ginning in the south becoming more active, with improvement in the weather and further pre-bureau liquidation.

There also was some southern selling here, and offerings were comparatively high and covering on scale down buying checked the decline around 19.04 for January, prices later showing rallies of a few points.

Shenandoah Court Of Inquiry Tossed Over Squally Course Now

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Joseph Davies, counsel for Mrs. Margaret Ross Lansdowne, was ejected from the Shenandoah court of inquiry today by a marine guard.

Over objection of the court, Davies had insisted on appearing as counsel for the widow of the Shenandoah's commander, and declared he would make his statement regardless of the ruling against him.

As Admiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the court, rapped vigorously for order, an assistant judge advocate called a marine who threw his arm over Davies' shoulder and led him outside the room.

Judge advocate Leonard objected that "witnesses are not in the status requiring representation by counsel" and the court after a conference announced that it objected also to the time and manner of the lawyer's appearance.

RALEIGH BANDIT SLAIN IN FIGHT WITH OFFICERS

Officer Mangum Also Is Badly Wounded in Street Gun Battle.

Raleigh, Nov. 16.—Metropolitan banditry in a small town today cost the life of "Slim" Anderson, the bandit, and caused wounds to Policeman Will Mangum from which his recovery was tonight regarded uncertain.

Anderson was shot down by a volley of fire from police guns after he had gunned Mangum's abdomen with a ball from his own pistol when officers sought his capture following a bold robbery of a man's clothing store in the heart of the business district shortly after noon.

The bandit died in a hospital at 5:30 o'clock after having given directions to the county coroner as to where his body should be sent. The policeman was resting well at the hospital tonight, but definite information as to his condition awaited the completion of an X-ray examination.

The gun battle which caused the bandit's death and Mangum's serious wounds, followed a chase of three blocks in which many people participated and which came near causing another casualty when Anderson, pressed, fired his assailant and the ball grazed the left ankle of Cleveland Gild, young garage man.

Anderson, a trimly dressed man of about 35, seemed a good prospect when he entered the clothing store of King and Holding, on Martin street, across from the post office, shortly after 2 o'clock, and asked to look at some clothes. Willis Holding, one of the proprietors, waited on him, and soon a suit was found which he said he wanted, explaining that he wished to put it on and take his old one with him.

After making the change of clothes, Anderson asked the price, and then reached toward his hip pocket apparently for his wallet. Instead, he whipped out an automatic pistol and ordered Holding and two clerks to back off. He pushed them to the rear of the store and stepped over to the cash register. Finding himself unable to open it, he called for Holding, and the proprietor did the job. The bandit gathered up paper and silver money to the amount of about $47.

With the warning that if any one left the store in fifteen minutes he would kill him, Anderson backed out the door and ran. Holding started after him immediately, calling for help as he ran. Soon a considerable crowd joined in the chase, which led three blocks to the new Professional building at Hargett and MacDowell streets, just being put into condition for occupancy.

It was reported here Monday that a person had been killed Sunday on the Kannapolis road; that a woman had been crushed on the Mt. Pleasant road in an accident; and that several persons were seriously injured on the Charlotte road. Inquiry failed to get any definite information about any of the reports.

MAJOR WILLIAM A. FOIL

Prominent Citizen of Concord, Whose Death Occurred Here This Morning.

MAJOR FOIL DEAD AT CONCORD HOME

Death Followed Illness of Several Months—Funeral Services Will Be Held Thursday Morning.

State Senator W. A. Foil died at his home in this city at 3:50 o'clock this morning after an illness of several months, his condition during the past several days having been so critical that announcement of his death did not come as a surprise to relatives and friends.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the home on North Union street, conducted by Rev. L. A. Thomas, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church. Assisting will be Rev. J. H. Keller and Rev. C. P. Fisher, both of China Grove. Interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

William Archibald Foil was fifty years of age, having been born March 27, 1875. He was a son of the late Joseph Wilson and Hettie Clifton Foil and was born and reared in Cabarrus county. He was married September 28, 1898, to Addie Boger, who with one brother, one sister, and four children, survive.

The greater part of Mr. Foil's life was spent in this county although for a number of years he was associated with the management of hotels in Charlotte and Roaring Gap. During the latter years of his life he engaged in both wholesale and retail grocery business, retiring from active work some months ago when his illness became more aggravated.

Mr. Foil was prominently known throughout North Carolina, serving on the staff of Governor Kitchin, later serving in the State Senate and being always actively interested in the work of the Democratic party in North Carolina. He served with the rank of Major on Governor Kitchin's staff and since then was popularly known throughout the state as Major Foil. His counsel was sought much time and thought to problems confronting his party.

At the time of his death he was State Senator from the district embracing Cabarrus and Mecklenburg counties, and was chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Cabarrus county. It was under his leadership three years ago that Cabarrus again went Democratic after a Republican regime of several years.

All public matters received unstinted support from Major Foil. Since his organization several years ago he had been a vice president of the Cabarrus County Fair Association, taking unusual interest in the success of the fair. He also was a very active member of the Kiwanis Club here being one of its charter members.

Matters pertaining to his church also received hearty support from Major Foil, he having been a member of St. James Church here for a number of years.

Major Foil conducted the campaign of Governor McLean in this county during both the primary and election, and in 1920 was local campaign manager for O. Max Gardner. He was a member of several important committees during the last session of the State Legislature and since then had been appointed by Governor McLean to represent the State at various conferences held in the South.

Relatives here have received many messages of sympathy from men and women prominent in the state during the day.

Surviving are Mrs. Foil, one sister, Mrs. J. B. McAllister, of Mt. Pleasant; one brother, John M. Foil, of Lynchburg, and four children, W. A., Jr., Martin Moger, Joe Orchard and Adelaide Elizabeth Foil.

It was reported here Monday that a person had been killed Sunday on the Kannapolis road; that a woman had been crushed on the Mt. Pleasant road in an accident; and that several persons were seriously injured on the Charlotte road. Inquiry failed to get any definite information about any of the reports.

COUNTY PHYSICIANS GO ON RECORD FOR A NEW HOSPITAL HERE

of Obtaining the Money if Possible From the Trustees of the Duke Foundation.

ASK COUNTY TO TAKE UP MATTER

Petitions Now Being Circulated Throughout the County.—All Present Are in Favor of It.

Cabarrus county physicians in session here Monday evening went on record as favoring the establishment of a new hospital in Concord and of obtaining money, if possible, from the Duke foundation when they signed a petition asking the county to take the matter up at once.

A copy of the petition was not available for publication this morning, the only copy having been sent to Kannapolis where it is to be signed by doctors of that city.

Twelve of the twenty-three physicians in the county attended the meeting and all signed the petition. The personnel of the organization was, to a man, heartily in favor of the proposition of acquiring new hospital facilities in the city and the petition was unanimously signed by those present.

Efforts will be made at once to get in touch with the other doctors of the county who were not present Monday evening and their signatures will be obtained at an early date. No opposition is expected from any quarter as the medical profession has been backing the movement since its inception.

The sentiment of the profession was expressed this morning when a prominent physician declared that with twenty-three doctors backing a hospital, it was bound to be a paying thing and could not but be successful. Other doctors were enthusiastic over the prospect.

An effort will be made to get money from the Duke foundation, of which Dr. W. S. Rankin is head. This money will take care of the charity work in the county if it can be secured.

A mass meeting is to be held in the court house on next Monday night at 7 o'clock at which time Dr. W. S. Rankin will address the people of the community on the matter of the new hospital. All citizens are expected to attend, the committee which has arranged to have Dr. Rankin here, declare.

Dr. Rankin is to explain to the people of the city how the county may participate in the benefits of the Duke foundation. His address will be listened to with much interest in Concord, not only because of the fact that he is chairman of Duke medical foundation but also because of the fact that he was born and reared in this county.
