Thoughts

How wonderfully pleasant it really is to think of the approaching holiday and all its attending festivities. Relatives and friends will mingle joyfully, enthusing in the spirit of the season.

To assist mother, busily engaged with her planning, FIGGLY WIGGLY buyers have labored for weeks, collecting the Cream of the Harvest for her selection.

(UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT)

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

CENTER GROVE.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Center Grove E. L. Church will render the missionary Thanksgiving pageant, "A Gift of Dreams," the fifth Sunday, November 29th.

The hour will be announced later. All are invited to attend.

Last Sunday the membership of Center Grove voted to install, right away, a hot air furnace underneath the church.

Six new Sunday school rooms were added the past summer. These will also be heated by the hot air plant.

Misses Rebecca Castor, Lenora King, of Liberty, and Elizabeth Lingle, all of Mooresville, spent the week-end at D. B. Castor's.

These young ladies are cousins, all attending Lenoir-Rhyne College.

Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Brown, of China Grove, and Mrs. Brown's sister and H. A. Brown and wife, of Salisbury, visited Mrs. L. W. Earnhardt Sunday afternoon.

Uncle Henry Blue is right sick at this time. Uncle Henry is one of the few remaining Confederate soldiers. He also served in the Mexican War, he says.

Mrs. D. B. Castor and Miss Maggie Lou Castor spent Wednesday with Mrs. A. F. Hartsell in Concord.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Roof and son, Edwin, took dinner last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bost.

After November, the Sunday night services—each second and fourth Sundays—will be discontinued during the next three winter months, December, January and February, at Center Grove.

C. H. Castor has just had a new barn erected on his lot which will add much to convenience of cars, stock, etc.

Right much butchering is going on in this neighborhood. Its rather early, but the porkers are ready to slaughter and these cold days "fresh meat" tastes good.

Mrs. Very Earnhardt is spending a while with her father-in-law, D. A. Earnhardt. Very Earnhardt accompanied his wife here and visited a while. BUSY B.

LITAKER SCHOOL.

School is progressing nicely with Mrs. F. A. Barrier principal, Miss Catherine Ridenhour assistant.

A few of the girls of this school joined the biscuit contest. We expect if we were to go to their homes we would get some good bread. We congratulate their mothers.

The farmers of this community have about finished their fall work.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Roy Barnhardt, who has been in the Concord Hospital for some time, has returned to her home in Kannapolis.

Venus, Mrs. G. F. Litaker has a pepper box one hundred years old. If you can beat that, trot out your pepper box.

Three girls on Route Five would like very much to meet Venus. Fred, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Krimminger, is ill at his home with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrel Lyles and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Barnhardt.

Lowe Stallings, who died Saturday in Morganton, was brought here for burial. Funeral services were held Sunday at Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Faggart and little son, Archie, spent Sunday in Charlotte.

We are listening for wedding bells to ring soon.

Come on, White Hall, we like to read your items.

There will be preaching at Mt. Hermon Church Sunday at 11 a. m. Everybody is welcome. BROWN EYES.

HARRISBURG.

The health of our community is very good at present.

Luther Taylor, of Gastonia, spent the week-end with home folks.

Mrs. John Young, of Greensboro, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Stallings.

Mr. and Mrs. James Barbee and two little sons, Jimmie and Bobbie, of Gastonia, are spending a few days with relatives in the village.

Misses Kate Hilton and Rosalie Hooks, of Kannapolis, and Ervin Baker, of Jefferson, were guests of Miss Evelyn Barbee Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Charlie Hall, of Spencer, is spending a few days with home folks.

Baxter Clanton, of Charlotte, spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. Richard McEachern.

Mrs. D. A. Gross and little daughter, of Greensboro, are visiting her brother, J. C. Higgins. ECRIVIAN.

LOCUST.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Teeter have set out ten thousand cabbage plants.

Miss Lillie Dunn, of Oakboro, spent last week here with relatives.

Misses Maurine Jenkins and Lena Honeycutt, of A. N. I. I., were at home from Saturday evening until Monday afternoon.

J. S. Osborne has gone to Seagrave where he has accepted work.

Glenn Turner is nursing a broken arm—the result of being kicked by a truck which he was cranking.

The beauty of the woods is fast fading. Never have we seen them adorned in such gorgeous colors. Their brilliancy is simply intoxicating.

What gross ingratitude one shows to his or her Maker to pass through life without a thought or look at the beautiful things He has placed all around us.

J. B. Osborne, who was run over here last Monday by a car returned home from the hospital Thursday.

Rev. Mr. White, who was to have begun a meeting here Sunday morning, failed in getting here owing to another meeting but the pastor preached at the usual hour. Mr. White to continue the services from Monday night through the week. M.

FAITH.

Walter C. Gant, who has been confined to his bed for five weeks, was up in his room for a while Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gant, of Winston-Salem, motored to Faith to visit Mr. Gant's parents Sunday.

L. L. J. J., and E. D. Hunnicutt, all brothers, and T. L. Blackwelder of Gold Hill, Route 2, motored to Faith and met Venus. They read his items.

We met David Glover from Alton, Ill. He is in Salisbury visiting his brothers.

Mr. H. S. Livengood and his blacksmith, Mr. Eudy, are doing a good business in Salisbury.

At the American Lunch today they had a large crowd for dinner.

A little house on wheels passed through Salisbury today, from Ohio.

Everybody in Faith has all the work he can do. That is good news.

One boy motored up to Faith from Concord and got a jar of eczema salve. He said his mother sent him after it.

We met William J. Fesperman, of China Grove, Route 2, one of the county's biggest farmers. He said he reads the items by Venus. He has regular customers for his produce in Salisbury.

We visited Clyde Ennis at the Yarkin Hotel. He is in the tailoring business and is doing nicely.

T. R. Jenkins, of Salisbury, has been working at the carpenter trade over fifty years, and has done work for one man. His children and grandchildren are now building a house for his great grandson with prospects of another generation of the same family. If you can beat this for a carpenter, trot out your carpenter. VENUS.

ROBERTA.

Winter seems to be paying us a visit again.

We are still being blessed with occasional showers for which we should be very thankful.

Master Rae Clay, who was burned very badly a few days ago, seems to be improving very nicely.

Miss Ethel Blackwelder, who is teaching in Georgeville, spent the week-end at home.

Moving seems to be all the sport of the season in our little village.

A number of our people enjoyed the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Motley last Saturday night.

M. Adam Blackwelder spent a few days last week visiting relatives in Stanly county.

Seems that all of our boys are stuck on the Ford plant.

There was a large crowd at Mrs. G. M. Furr's sale Friday afternoon. All the things brought a very good price.

The box supper at Roberta school-house Friday night was a success.

Miss Ruth Miller won the prize box of candy as the most popular lady. E. J. Linker won the prize as the ugliest man.

A large crowd attended prayer meeting Saturday night at W. H. Biggers.

Mr. Marshall Furr entertained a number of his boy friends at a pigeon stew Saturday night. All report a nice time.

W. H. Biggers is suffering with a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Lewis Trembley is able to sit up again.

There will be prayer meeting Saturday night at Sam Linker's. Everybody is invited.

We were very glad to have Rev. J. F. Alexander preach for us Sunday. He certainly delivered an excellent sermon. Sunday was the day for the election of officers in the Sunday school. Nearly all the old officers were re-elected. SWEET DREAMS.

ROCKWELL ROUTE 2.

Miss Lillie Troutman, of Concord spent the week-end at J. A. Taylor's.

Miss Hoke Ritchie, of East Spencer, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ritchie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Connell and family, spent Sunday with his brother, H. R. Connell, of Stanly County.

J. A. Taylor and family, Mrs. Mary Troutman and Miss Lillie Troutman spent Sunday evening in Kannapolis with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Troutman and family.

Ernest Yost, of Raleigh spent a few with his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Yost.

Mrs. G. C. Dry and little son, Joe, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Lou Cranford, of Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor and children, and Miss Lillie Troutman spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Funderburk and family near Rockwell.

Ernest Yost, of Raleigh, spent a short while Sunday night with Miss Sarah Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dry are going to move soon. We regret to see them go.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Dry and family, and Miss Ruth Ritchie, of St. John's, Mrs. C. P. Hahn, of East Spencer, and Miss Sarah Jackson, of Rowan, were visitors at W. L. Ritchie's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dry and children, Helen and Nora Belle, spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Penninger.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Dry and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dry, of Cabarrus.

Misses Lillie Troutman, Elmer, Sara and Hallie Ritchie and Sarah Jackson spent a while Saturday night in Salisbury.

There will be Sunday school at Phaniels Church Sunday at 1:15 p. m., and preaching at 2:0 by the pastor, Rev. G. L. Hodge. Everybody is invited. SUNSHINE.

ALLEN.

Sunday, November 15th, was Mrs. J. T. Estridge's birthday anniversary. Miss Victoria Estridge gave her a birthday dinner, and when Mrs. Estridge went to dinner in the center of the table was a big birthday cake with 65 lighted candles. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Estridge and family, of Charlotte, were there, and enjoyed the big dinner. The table was loaded with good things to eat. Mrs. Estridge's health is better now than it has been.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Estridge spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. J. T. Estridge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flowe spent some time Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Alma Bradford.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Eudy and family visited Br. and Mrs. John Eudy Sunday evening. A READER.
