TOM SIMS says

Love at first sight would be all right if you could keep from looking at anybody else later on. Don't worry about your big feet. When you buy shoes you get more for your money. When public opinion is boiled down you find nothing. There are people who never lose an opportunity to enjoy being miserable. Love's blind, but that shouldn't make a girl kiss everybody. We all know what we would do if we had a million dollars. We would wish it was two million dollars. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc)

WHITE HALL

The White Hall Literary Society met Friday, October 30th. The debate was as follows: Resolved: That a person should not give money to a beggar. The affirmative was upheld by Miss Annie Mae Sides and Master Elmer Earl Christenbury, while the negative side was upheld by Miss Carrie Best and Carey White. The judges, Jack Wilson, Miss Margaret Brooks and Miss Ruth Kiser, decided in favor of the affirmative side. The debate for Friday, November 20th, is as follows: Resolved: That a child while going to school should not have any regular work to do. The Young Peoples Missionary Society of Rocky Ridge met Sunday evening. The following program was rendered: Scripture Reading and Prayer by Harold Linker. Minutes Read of Last Meeting. Song: "Somebody" by Society. Reading: International Revenue. Ruth Kiser. Song: In the Garden—Lionie Stough, Kate Best, Nellie Stough. Reading: Stand Side by Side—

Viola Sides. Song by Society: I will sing the wondrous story. Benediction. The society then adjourned to meet on the first Sunday in December. WAS SO NERVOUS HE COULDN'T SLEEP AT NIGHT

Says HERB JUICE Relieved Him of Nervous Indigestion.—Now He Feels 100 Per Cent. Improved.

"Yes, I feel 100 per cent. better since I have taken your HERB JUICE medicine. I had suffered so much with stomach trouble and was in such a general rundown condition that really I did not have enough energy to carry on my work, but HERB JUICE fixed me up in good shape and now I am glad to tell others about it." said Mr. P. C. Cooper, efficient mill employer on Robinson's Street, Concord, N. C., when he called to see the HERB JUICE demonstrator a short time ago. "I think I was in about as bad a condition as anyone could be," Mr. Cooper remarked, "without just being down and out, and I assure you I was not far from that. My trouble started with constipation which became chronic and the result was that in a short time my whole system was out of working order, liver was very sluggish, bowels irregular and I would have frequent headaches and dizzy spells. It is quite natural that when a person's system is in this condition to absolutely detest the very smell of food, and what little I dared eat, I just forced it on myself after which I would suffer for hours with gas and indigestion pains. My stomach just felt sore all the time and I had lost considerably in weight and strength. I was advised to try HERB JUICE for my trouble, and I must admit it proved to be the very thing I needed all the time. I was really surprised to find that I could eat anything I wanted and not suffer with indigestion pains after eating like I did before using HERB JUICE. This wonderful medicine has regulated my liver kidneys and bowels with the result that I never have any more trouble from constipation and my stomach is now in good shape, and I have gained 15 pounds in weight. I have more energy than I have had in years and can do my work with ease. HERB JUICE medicine I have used, and will say HERB JUICE is without a doubt, the greatest that is responsible for the good health I am enjoying today." HERB JUICE is sold and guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded, in Concord by Gibson Drug Store. Also by F. L. Smith Drug Co., Kannapolis, N. C.

BRIDE LEAVES

AGED HUSBAND

Ada Gurganus Had Rather Be a Young Man's Slave. (Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 19.—P. T. Harvell, local man, who advertised for a wife—no flappers wanted—and married 16-year-old Ada Gurganus, of Bladen county, who left him to return to her father's home, said he would "give a million dollars to get her back." She was a good cook, he said.

But it wasn't his fault that she left him, he said. He treated her right, he said, and doesn't know why she left. However, if she sues for divorce and gets it, he will try again. He likes married life. Harvell advertised in a Danville, Va., paper, for a wife and received hundreds of replies. The ad. was reprinted in many papers as a news story. On some papers Harvell would get a score of letters from women and girls asserting their qualifications. He stipulated that the bride-to-be must not be over 24 years of age and not have bobbed hair. "I don't care how ugly her face is," the ad read. It is understood that the girl was heard saying, "I'd rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave," but she has changed her mind.

Young America. Little Mabel came home from school with a report which showed that she was excellent in all her studies but that she was very poor in deportment. Her mother quizzed her to find out what was wrong. At last Little Mabel blurted out: "All I did was to stand on my head with my feet against the wall, to prove I could do it."

The winter meeting of the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Washington, January 13-15.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer Washington, Nov. 19.—It must be nice to be a diplomat in a foreign land, for diplomats, so circumstanced, can't be arrested like ordinary folks. To be sure, there's no law exempting the diplomatic corps from the same rules that natives have to abide by, but international custom does exempt them from punishment for these rules' violation.

If a diplomat makes himself unpleasant, it's perfectly in order to ask his government to take him away, but for the government of the country he's accredited to do anything to him would be a breach of etiquette too awful even to be considered. By the time a diplomat reaches ministerial or ambassadorial rank he's very apt to have acquired an acute sense of responsibility—to his own superior if not to the officials of the country where he represents them. He knows it's essential to a good job on his part that he should be on his best behavior, so he minds his P's and Q's.

But occasionally some young secretary or attaché abuses his privileges. He seldom commits a very high crime, but it's by no means unusual for him to knock the stuffing out of all speed regulations with his automobile, and prohibition has suffered a considerable number of infractions at his hands.

Only a few days ago one of Washington's young diplomatic auto scoorchers overdid matters to an extent which forced the police to complain to the State department. The department, in turn, tactfully suggested the offender's embassy that it thought a spanking would do him good. There's small doubt that he got it red-hot from his chief.
