CABARRUS YOUTH DIES FROM GUNSHOT WOUNDS

Another Seriously Injured When Child Shot Him With "Empty" Gun After Hunt.

One Cabarrus county youth was fatally injured and another painfully injured as the result of Thanksgiving hunting trips. The dead youth was Howard Cochrane, and the injured youth is David Montley.

Funeral services for Cochrane were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Robert M. H. where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cochrane reside. The Charlotte News of Friday carried the following story of the two accidents:

While walking several hundred yards from his home, Howard Cochrane, aged fourteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cochrane, who live about four miles from Concord, was accidentally shot by a shotgun in the hands of his brother, whose name was not learned. The boys had left their home about 9 a. m., on a Thanksgiving hunting trip.

The injured boy was rushed to the Charlotte Sanatorium, where he died at 3 p. m. from the shock and loss of blood. The shots perforated young Cochrane's bowels and his left leg was almost torn away from his body. The body was returned to Concord.

David Motley, 20, of near Harrisburg, Cabarrus county, received a load of shot from a shotgun fired accidentally into his face by the seven-year-old son of Zeb Starnes. The accident happened about 4 p. m. at the home of Zeb Starnes, after Monday and others had returned from a hunting trip. The guns were laid aside, and the Starnes boy, it was reported, picked up one of the guns, which was supposed to be unloaded and began playing with it.

Leveling the gun in his play, the lad pulled the trigger and a load of shot went into Motley's face. He was brought from Harrisburg, which is about twelve miles from Charlotte, to the Presbyterian Hospital.

An operation was performed immediately after the arrival of Motley at the hospital and the shots were removed from one side of his face which was reported to be badly perforated. Motley was reported not to be in a serious condition at the hospital Friday morning. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Motley, of Harrisburg.

A Thanksgiving Service and Donation

On Thanksgiving Day appropriate services were held at Grace E. L. Church at 10:30 a. m., by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Brown. A large part of the congregation and a number from Prosperity congregation and some friends attended the services and truly manifested the spirit of the day.

After the services, a council meeting was called which engaged the pastor and councilmen for some little time of which the other members of the congregation took advantage and made their way to the parsonage at China Grove, and when the pastor arrived he found that they had taken possession of the house and premises, and while he was somewhat surprised he was not alarmed. In due time the ladies retired to the yard where a large table had been erected and spread a most bountiful Thanksgiving dinner. Every day at the parsonage is a day of thanksgiving, but this one became the more so because of the many manifest tokens of esteem and appreciation of the pastor and his wife, by those to whom they minister in spiritual things.

The donations consisted of much for the kitchen and pantry. The pastor and his wife are truly thankful for every gift, and are much encouraged thereby and feel that their lot has been cast among a kind and appreciative people.

The work in the pastorate, consisting of Grace and Prosperity E. L. churches, is progressing nicely.

Southern Mill Shares Remain Active

The past week witnessed renewed activity in Southern mill-stocks, and while no large gains took place, more stock changed hands than in the previous week, and the market as a whole appears to be in stronger position than it has been since 1923. This is more significant in view of the mid-week holiday, which usually causes a let-up in trading.

According to figures released by R. S. Dickson & Company today, the average of 25 active stocks stood at $118.72, a gain of 14 cents per share over the previous week. Earlier in the year when the demand for stocks was somewhat weaker, this average stood at $112, or a rise of $5.44 per share in less than five months.

As evidence that textile securities are still the most popular investment in the Carolinas, the new issue of American Yarn & Processing Co., 7 per cent. participating preferred stock released on November 10th has been sold, and the issue was taken largely by Carolina investors.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated at Allen

Allen, Nov. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Heffner, of Hendersonville, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last week at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John N. Cook, of Allen. The anniversary was planned to have been held at their home in Hendersonville. However, on account of Mrs. Cook being injured several weeks ago in an automobile wreck, it was held at her home in Allen. They received many lovely gifts. The bridegroom presented the bride with a gold ring. Miss Ruth Cook presented the presents in a gold waiter.

Mr. and Mrs. Heffner were married November 18, 1875.

FERGUSON ADMITS HE IS TEXAS GOVERNOR

Tells Newspaper That Wife Has Abilcated Part of Executive Functions to Him.

New York, Nov. 27.—The New York Times in a dispatch from a staff correspondent at Austin, Tex., will say tomorrow that former Governor James E. Ferguson today admitted that he and not his wife, Governor Miriam Ferguson, is the real governor of Texas.

The newspaper will say "he tacitly admitted" to newspapermen during a two-hour interview that his wife had abdicated part of her executive functions to him and that he justified her in doing so. He said she had told the voters during her election campaign last year that she lacked experience in statecraft and depended on him to help her.

Prison Atrocities

Charlotte Observer. The North Carolina organization of charities and women a few weeks ago brought to light stories of brutal treatment of convicts in the Stanley camp, and included in the charge was allegation that at least one convict had been whipped to death. With publicity of the alleged situation came denials, and one prisoner upon whose affidavit the prosecution relied, afterward came out in another affidavit renouncing his first statements. Nevertheless, Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, leader in the movement against the camp management, struck to her story and the matter has now got into the courts. That there was foundation for much of the bad treatment condition is manifest in the outcome of the hearing. Crawford, superintendent of the convict camp, must defend for brutal treatment to the extent of charge of murder. The evidence is contradictory, and the superintendent is yet to be convicted in court, but for all that, the exposure of conditions that have existed is of a kind to shock the people.

However the indictment may issue, good is going to come out of the affair, because there is no number of doubt about the fact that in some prison camps prisoners have been subjected to inhuman treatment. There will be revolt against disclosed conditions at the Stanley camp that will result in a general revision of prison treatment and lead to establishment of condition more in accord with the sentiment of the people of the state.

Barnard College Girls Get Advice on How to Smoke

New York, Nov. 27.—If the girls of Barnard college simply have got to smoke, at least they have an unofficial guide as to how, where and when to do it.

A list of nine rules—unofficial and unposted—has been prepared by Dr. Guillaume F. Alsop, college physician, for every girl who smokes, says the physician, for a weak man may easily be outsmoked by a husky college girl.

The rules suggest that a girl should not smoke until she is 21 and until she has been examined by a physician to determine whether it would be injurious.

Another rule places the number of cigarettes a day at five while a fourth describes how the tobacco should look.

Inhaling and blowing through nose are bad, say rule number five and number six says smoking should be done outdoors "if you can get away with it."

After dinner smoking is wisest, says number seven, and number eight advises use of a holder. The last rule suggests one month a year total abstinence ostensibly to get in trim for the rest of the year.

Cigars and pipes are not mentioned—yet.

Oh, That One? "I want to buy a cake of soap," said Mrs. O'Brien to her grocer. "What kind?" "I don't remember the name," replied Mrs. O'Brien. "But it's the one the advertisements speak of so highly."

"Whussamattuk, I'll run, ain't Ah give you a run for money?" "Ah sh'd say you did. Three fellows what held de winnin' numbuh in dat lot'y you made me stakeholder is lookin' to me yet."

The Necessary Accessory. "I hear Ford bought four hundred ships from Uncle Sam to make divers out of them." "Yeah? Then I suppose he'll throw in a life preserver with each one for use at railway crossings."

Prairie dogs and prairie owls are good neighbors, but both hate the rattlesnakes which infest their burrows.

BILIOUSNESS
 Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form With the Assistance of Black-Draught.

West Graham, Va.—The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, now past 80, living here, has a high opinion of Black-Draught, which he says he has taken when needed, for 25 years. "For years I had been suffering with my liver," he says. "Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief."

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot of trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headache, caused from extreme biliousness."

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver. NC-166
