KINGS DAUGHTERS HOLD REGULAR MONTHLY MEET

Reports Received From Various Committees.—To Look After Christmas Opportunities Again.

The King's Daughters held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. H. Jarratt, on West Depot Street, Monday evening. After the devotional conducted by Mrs. S. J. Ervin, the reading of the minutes and treasurer's report, the visiting committee, Mrs. C. W. Rydell, Miss Mary King and Mrs. Guy Beaver, made the following report: Fifteen homes visited, clothing given to seventeen people, medical services and medicines secured for two parents, roller chair furnished to old lady, several cheer visits to shut-ins and flowers and fruits given, tender services rendered in the burial of an infant whose parents were strangers in our midst and all arrangements made for the placing of an unfortunate negro in a hospital for the treatment of gunshot wounds.

The King's Daughters were gratified with the hearty response their friends made in returning well-filled Opportunity envelopes. This co-operation and helpfulness on the part of the public is a source of encouragement in the work of relieving suffering and needs amongst us. The Circle decided to look after Christmas Opportunities again so as to make it possible that needy, needy will not be neglected at this coming Christmas season. The Christmas Opportunity is a work of love and the Circle hopes to have the co-operation of every individual, church and patriotic and civic organization in Concord.

The visiting committee for December is composed of Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour, Sr., Mrs. M. L. Marsh, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Mrs. J. Y. Pharr, Mrs. S. L. Post and Misses Laura Gillon and Elizabeth Woodhouse.

The Circle adjourned to meet the first Monday evening in January 1926, at the home of Mrs. Guy Beaver, on Georgia Avenue.

NEW AUTOMATIC SIGNALS TO BE ERECTED AT ONCE

Three New "Stop and Go" Signs Have Been Purchased and Preliminary Wiring Is Being Done.

At an early date, Concord citizens will see the new electric "stop and go" signals, similar to the one in use of the square, erected at three other intersections of the city. The intersection which will be served by the new automatic signals are Corbin and Union at the Lutheran Church corner, Depot and Church at Bell & Harris, and Grove and Spring at the Baptist Church corner.

Purchase of the new signals was made some months ago, after it was found that the one erected on the square was so satisfactory. They were purchased from the same firm in Raleigh that the first one was bought from J. K. McCarthy Company.

Work in erecting them was delayed when the special wire cable which was ordered for the purpose of suspending them, failed to arrive. The signs themselves have been here several weeks.

When the cable arrived Monday, a wire was sent to Mr. McCarthy to come and erect the signs. The city Water and Light Department has men today fastening the wires at their places. It was said by Frank Mund, who has this work in charge, that it would be a week before he completed the preliminary wiring.

All the signs are to be suspended from overhead wires and this will make possible the removal of the concrete go-to-the-right sign at the Lutheran Church corner.

Honors Mrs. Kenneth Royal. Mrs. J. F. Cannon was hostess at two tables of bridge Monday afternoon honoring Mrs. Kenneth Royal, of Goldsboro, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Jones York. At the conclusion of the game, refreshments were served.

KANNAPOLIS LEADS IN Y. M. C. A. SERVICE

Local Association is Blazing the Trail For 342 Cities. (BY JAZZY MOORE)

Kannapolis, Dec. 1.—According to facts the Kannapolis Young Men's Christian Association so far surpasses in efficiency, membership and Christian influence most of the 342 Y. M. C. A. cities of its class. No city of its size can boast of two such large and well equipped Y's as Kannapolis.

Cabarrus Y. M. C. A. The Cabarrus Y. M. C. A., of which John S. Carpenter is general secretary, is a fine structure. It is equipped with a recreation room, gymnasium, swimming pool, forty dormitory rooms and spacious dining room, in which 70,000 meals were served last year amid most artistic and congenial surroundings.

In every dormitory room there is hot and cold water, and on every floor there are drinking water fountains and showers. The kitchen is equipped with modern-up-to-date and down-to-the-minute conveniences. All the cooking is done by electricity.

Cabarrus athletics are known far and wide. As a matter of fact the sports department has become an integral part of the organization. The director of athletics receives the same pay as any other department head. Recently the committee elected James L. Moore to head this department. He will exercise general supervision over the entire athletic program. Assisting Moore in this work are several finished college athletes, namely: Bozo Bozeman, ex-Georgia Tech star; Homer Ketchie, former Duke University star; and Ray Roberts, late of Vanderbilt University.

The Pioneer Boy Scouts of Kannapolis, troops one and two: Effe for young men; Hi-Y for boys; Hi-Y for girls; and Tuck-a-bathies for juniors, are included in the social clubs.

Cannon Y. M. C. A. The Cannon Y. M. C. A. is also a fine structure. In addition to the fine features that go to make a first class Y, it has magnificent auditorium with a seating capacity of 1400. The auditorium is used as a moving picture theatre five nights each week.

Cannon Y. operates a twelve table pool room and a small barber-shop also. Numerous boys' and girls' clubs are numbered in the social curriculum. Troop three of Boy Scouts represent the upper scout movement under the auspices of this Y. M. C. A. This institution is sponsor of the fourth scout contingent, a troop of colored Boy Scouts.

In 1924 the Cannon volley ball sextette won the North Carolina state championship.

Edward J. Sharpe is general secretary of the Cannon Memorial Y. M. C. A.

Messrs. Carpenter and Sharpe are Michigan men but they have resided in Kannapolis so long they seem to be more like Tar Heels. Both secretaries are leaders of everything progressive in the city. The former is teacher of the Tuck-a-bathies, the largest junior Sabbath school class in Cabarrus county. Mr. Sharpe also takes an active part in the Sunday school work of his church. They have been frequently used in seeking engagements in this county and in nearby association centers.

The membership of the two associations is over three thousand, while the value of the institutions is approximately one half million dollars.

CHAPEL OF UNDERTAKING PARLORS BEING USED

Men's Bible Class of St. James Lutheran Church Using Bell & Harris' Chapel.

Due to congested conditions within the Church, members of the Men's Bible Class of St. James Lutheran Church are now meeting in the Chapel of the Bell & Harris Undertaking Parlor.

M. M. Linker, manager of the undertaking parlors, last week extended to the class the use of the chapel and the offer was immediately accepted. The class met in the chapel for the first time last Sunday.

The chapel is arranged to comfortably seat 200 persons, and is elegantly fitted out with modern equipment. At present the men's class of St. James Church has 60 members enrolled and for the service Sunday 40 members were present. Prof. J. B. Robertson is teacher of the class.

The growth of the Sunday School at St. James resulted in a congestion and the men's class is pleased to find suitable and excellent quarters for their future meetings.

WINSTON COURT CROWD IS MUCH DISAPPOINTED

Case of Man and Woman, Sunday School Workers, Continued.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 30.—The city police court proved a popular place this morning, the court room being crowded to the doors and in the hall were a number of people who were unable to get on the inside.

The case that was looked for with chief interest was the one in which M. W. Brabham, of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Virginia Jenkins, of Salisbury, were charged with violating the hotel law, having been arrested early yesterday morning at one of the leading hotels in this city. In the hearing of this trial the crowd was very much disappointed, as the case was continued until December 8th.

Mr. Brabham and Miss Jenkins are taking no part in the Sunday school training school now being held at Centenary Methodist Church. While no attorneys appeared in the municipal court this morning to represent the defendants, it is understood that able counsel has been employed.

With the December issue True Experiences, a Macfadden publication, makes its initial bow to the reading public. "Songs and Shadows" is the record of one girl's amazing adventure. "Her Unpainted Story" concerns itself with a reporter who squashed a story contrary to the law of newspaperdom. "Two Kinds of Love" is Malva's extraordinary story, while "Who Was to Blame" draws a vivid, relentless picture of modern life.

LUTHERAN BROTHERHOOD WILL MEET IN CONCORD

E. W. G. Huffman, of Salisbury, to Deliver Principal Speech.—Business Matters to Be Discussed.

The annual meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood of North Carolina will be held next Sunday at St. James Lutheran Church in this city, the opening session of the meeting beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

A large attendance is expected from the entire state, delegates having been selected from the various brotherhoods to attend the meeting in Concord next Sunday.

The principal address of the evening is to be delivered by the Hon. E. W. G. Huffman, of Salisbury, who is chairman of the stewardship committee. This is to be followed by a business meeting in which the election of officers will be held.

Among the other important business matters to be brought up is the loan fund of $100,000, all of which is expected to be raised by the time of the meeting. An effort has been made to secure $1,000 from 100 men in North Carolina for use in building new churches in new territory.

Up to the time of the meeting of the synod in November, a total of $67,000 had been subscribed and there were indications that the remainder would be raised at an early date.

The stewardship side of church life will also be taken up and an effort will be made by the brotherhood to see that the churches raise their apportionment to benevolences.

Owing to the fact that the duties of the president of synod have become so heavy, the matter of procuring an executive secretary will be taken up and may be secured to assist a president.

Discussion will probably be held, it is said, on the matter of the construction of a church at Chapel Hill, for the use of the students. The $5,000,000 pension fund for aged ministers will also be discussed.

Officers of the state brotherhood are Bismark Capps, of Gastonia, president; A. R. Rhyne, of Charlotte, vice president; H. E. Isenhour, of Salisbury, secretary; and R. W. Graber, of Statesville, treasurer.

BASKETEERS PRACTICE FOR SALISBURY TILT

Former High School Stars Boost the Prospects For Y Team This Year.—Charlotte Next.

In preparation for the first game which is to be played at Salisbury on Thursday night, the Y basketball team put in hard practice Monday night and showed some of the classiest that has been exhibited on the local floor in a number of years.

From present indications the team will be a shooting aggregation which will take as its motto that an offense is the best kind of defense. Three former high school stars were used in combination with the two regulars from last year. They were Livingston Easley, J. F. Harris and James Lindberger. The last two were playing in guard positions and the first was a forward.

Cole, a newcomer to the city, employed with the surveyors for the P. & N. railroad, has also been doing good work at both forward and guard as has "Bub" Sullivan, a high school football star.

There are an unusually large number of candidates out for the team this year, there being twenty men out for practice Monday night.

After the Salisbury game, Charlotte Y is the next on the schedule and toward the last of December several college games will be played.

Salisbury is very anxious to win the game since they lost in the series last year after winning the first game of the three.

REV. C. H. TRUEBLOOD MOVES TO THIS CITY

Ready to Begin Duties as Pastor of First Baptist Church in Concord.

Rev. C. H. Trueblood, who comes to Concord as pastor of the First Baptist Church, expects to move his family to this city on Friday of this week, it was stated this morning by a member of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Trueblood spent Monday night and part of today here with friends, making final plans for the work he is to conduct as pastor of the church here.

The household goods of Mr. Trueblood and family were shipped to Concord last Friday from Thomasville, and have been stored in the parsonage of the church. The parsonage has been completely overhauled during the past several months.

The following story from Thomasville will be of interest here: "Rev. C. H. Trueblood conducted a farewell service as pastor of the First Baptist Church Sunday night with a full house, the Main Street Methodist, the Reformed and Presbyterian pastors, W. L. Hutchins, J. A. Palmer, and A. N. Moffit, respectively calling in their services and their congregations joining in the one farewell occasion."

STATE CHAPLAIN FOR JUNIOR ORDER IS DEAD

Rev. Charles A. G. Thomas, Once Chaplain in the Junior Order, Dies at Rocky Mount.

Rocky Mount, November 30.—Rev. Charles A. G. Thomas, pioneer Baptist minister and prominent fraternal leader, died at his home in this city late this afternoon, following a decline in health for the past several years, but after being in a serious condition only since Thanksgiving.

The body was taken tonight to Salisbury, where he served one of his longest pastorates and where funeral services and interment will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, of which Rev. Mr. Thomas had long been state chaplain, to which position he had been elected for life at the last state meeting of the order.

MOTOR ALTERS SHOW BUSINESS

Gasoline Transportation Makes Possible Big Productions in Smaller Centers.

Ten years ago any producer who had undertaken to present a show of the size and cost of operation surrounding World of Pleasure, in other than New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, the so-called "run" cities would have been considered a fool—and what is more he would have been.

The automobile and hard roads has revolutionized not only the theatrical business but outdoor amusements as well. A decade or more ago an attraction was obliged to depend largely upon the citizens of the immediate show stand for support. Now companies of importance do not worry so much about the size of the city in which they play as to the seating capacity of the theatre, the nature of surrounding country and facilities for motorists.

Theatrical papers last fall commented that the greatest single performance in money gross, in the history of American amusements was rung up by the combined Barnum & Bailey-Ringling brothers shows, not at Chicago or New York, but at the little Kansas town of Concordia. At Mitchell, South Dakota, the annual Corn Palace attracts a money gross exceeding that enjoyed by, even the largest New York musical shows.

These straws show which way the wind blows and the sponsors of the World of Pleasure are observant business men. They are willing to allow Mr. Ziegfeld peace in his own
