LOCAL MENTION

Come in and get one of our Vest Pocket Memorandum books for 1926. We want every subscriber to have one. The condition of W. C. Barrier, of Mt. Pleasant, who was operated on at the Concord Hospital Monday, is reported as being unchanged.

W. F. Morrison, of No. 2 Township, is at the Concord Hospital, where he was operated on Wednesday. His condition is said to be favorable.

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. will hold its regular meeting tonight in the Y directors' room at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Holy Communion Services will be held at New Gilead Reformed Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. C. W. Warlick. Preparatory service will be held Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

For the convenience of some shoppers who find it impossible to get to the business section during the day, some business houses of the city are open until 9 o'clock at night now. It is said that other concerns will remain open at night beginning in the near future.

Relatives here have been advised of the death early this morning at China Grove of Mrs. George Davis. Death occurred at 3 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband and several children. She was a cousin of Mrs. L. A. Talbirt and Mrs. W. F. Litaker, of this city.

The aldermen are all set for their meeting at the city hall tonight. This will be the regular December meeting of the board and it is reported that several matters of importance will be presented for action by the board members. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Legion Club Rooms. All members are urged to be present at this time as important business in connection with a new year's celebration is to be discussed.

A fire chief and several regular firemen are to be elected by the aldermen tonight to serve the city for the next two years. Under an ordinance passed several weeks ago, the aldermen choose the fire chief and firemen, the old law leaving the election to members of the fire department.

Sheriff Caldwell reports that one day last week he collected a little more than $85,000 in county taxes, the amount being the largest in one day since he has been sheriff. This is about $3,000 more than was collected Monday by City Tax Collector Fields for Concord.

High winds which swirled through the city Tuesday night and part of Wednesday, quieted down yesterday afternoon, resulting in higher temperatures. Although it was exceedingly cloudy early this morning, it became clearer during the day and signs of rain are less apparent now than on yesterday.

Shirley James, of London, general manager of Pickford's, the largest shipping company in England, and J. T. Martin, general manager of the International Mercantile Marine Co., of Atlanta, are in the city today arranged with Mr. Blanks the tour to Europe next summer, one feature being an automobile tour of England, Scotland and Wales.

While local cotton mills are standing but a day and a half a week now, they are busy and those mills which do not operate a night shift are operating the day shift until 9 p. m. It was reported here last week that the Southern Power Co. expected to be able to lift the ban on power entirely this week, but so far this has not been done.

Defendants paid $138.40 in fines and costs in police court yesterday. In addition one man was given 30 days in jail and required to pay the costs in the case and his jail fee on a charge of having liquor. On another liquor charge he was given a 30-day suspended sentence. One boy 16 years of age was bound over to Superior court on a charge of check flashing.

Traffic on Union street in front of the new hotel building is badly congested today owing to the fact that the street is blocked with the single exception of space sufficient for passage of one automobile. Half the street is taken with building materials for the hotel and bank, and most of the remainder is taken with a trench which has been dug through the asphalt to connect the hotel with the water main.

It is said that King George maintains a custom, initiated by Queen Victoria, of sending Christmas puddings to most of the rulers of Europe. These are all prepared in the royal kitchens at Windsor, from a recipe dating back to the 18th century, and are despatched to their destination in airtight containers.

Miss A. M. Maloney, a Cincinnati woman who in twenty years rose from a position of stenographer to the sole ownership of a proprietary medicine concern with a countrywide reputation, has recently disposed of her business to a syndicate for a sum said to be nearly one million dollars.

BASKETEERS TO PLAY FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Local Quint Takes on Salisbury Tonight at Salisbury.—Concord Prospects Are Good.

Concord Y basketeers, play their first game of the season today when they go to Salisbury for a match with the Y team of that city. The local are not too hopeful for a victory. The prospects are good for the season but there has been less than two weeks practice and the team is hardly up to mid-season form as yet.

Practice this week indicated that there will be a smooth-working five when the team work is worked into more polished form. The influx of new blood seems to have helped and the new team looks like one of the best that has been here in recent years.

From the lineup of the first team at practice Wednesday night, it looks as though Livingston Easley will be at center, Dick and Lineberger will be at forward and Wolf and Harris at guard. Cole, a newcomer, showed up well at center and guard and will get a chance to show what he can do tonight.

The Salisbury team has been practicing for a number of weeks and for that reason will have the edge on the locals in tonight's game. Persons who saw them in action against Kannapolis say that they have an unusually good team this year. Hermon Brown and Dunham are their outstanding men again this year.

THE TEXTILE FUTURE IS LOOKING BRIGHT

State's Cotton Manufacturers Are Optimistic, Says Hunter.

Charlotte, Dec. 2.—A more hopeful and optimistic spirit prevails among the cotton manufacturers of this state today than has at any time during the past two or three years, according to Hunter Marshall, Jr., secretary and treasurer of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of North Carolina, who has just returned from Pinehurst where he attended the mid-winter convention of the organization.

"With the exception of a very few specialties for which a fair market has existed, the mills of this section generally speaking, have made no money during the past two years," remarked Mr. Marshall. "In fact many of them, in order to provide work for their complement of help, have manufactured goods at an actual loss. Market conditions during re-

The best sympathy. IT is only human for a funeral director to feel sympathetic in the presence of bereaved patrons. But it is real sympathy when he recognizes an obligation to see to it that the highest character of burial equipment is furnished at honest prices. Such a policy has been responsible for the success of this concern.

cent weeks have improved greatly, however, and the majority of mill men are anticipating a period of reasonably profitable operation.

Mr. Marshall stated that in formal and informal discussion at the Pinehurst meeting the matter of taxation received a great deal of consideration. This was also true on the summer convention of the association at Asheville a few months ago.

"The textile industry in North Carolina has developed and prospered because our legislators in the years gone by have maintained an attitude of fairness in the matter of taxation and regulations," declared Mr. Marshall. "Under this sort of treatment at the hands of our legislative body, and with the interested and sympathetic moral support of the people of the state generally, the textile industry in North Carolina has reached the point where it consumes more cotton than does any other state in the Union. It has played the Old North State on the map industrially and economically and the taxes, at reasonable rates, have helped to put North Carolina in the forefront of the states in the matters of educational progress and assistance to the helpless through our eleemosynary institutions.

"The last legislature, pressed for funds, imposed upon the cotton mills and other industries in the state taxes heavier than had ever been imposed before and the disposition manifested by some members of the legislature has caused quite a bit of uneasiness among cotton manufacturers. There is little doubt in the minds of observant mill men and economists that burdensome taxes will put the brakes on the development of the industry in the state, and in the end, produce less revenue to the state as well as put a handicap upon the industry.
