LOCAL MENTION

You will find our memorandum books for 1926 very convenient. Call at our office and get one as we have one for each subscriber of this paper.

Concord Kiwanians will hold their regular weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock. A fine program for the meeting has been arranged.

You've never seen the Charleston done the way they do it in Monta Bell's "Pretty Ladies" at the Concord Theatre today and tomorrow. See this great chorus of beauties.

Gastonia Gazette: Concord is rivaling Kingston as a breeding place of animal stories. Those rattlesnake tales coming out of Cabarrus county are the "stuff."

A. K. Hammet, painter, paper-hanger and decorator, formerly of Greensboro, has located in Concord at 12 James Avenue. A letter, addressed to him at P. O. Box 46, Concord, will reach him.

Rain continues to fall in Concord with little prospects now of clear weather. Throughout Wednesday afternoon and night rain fell intermittently, with little change in temperature during the day and night.

Police officers this morning stated that they had nothing new to report. No session of the recorder's court was held yesterday and only one case developed during the day and night. Citizens of the city seem on their good behavior for Christmas, the officers state.

Persons wishing to secure tickets for the play which the Hi-y Clubs are putting on Monday night, "Why the Chimes Rang," are asked to see the members of the clubs. Every member has been furnished with five tickets to give away and Mr. Blanks has 50 tickets. A total of 300 tickets will be distributed.

Fines collected at the local police court during the month of November amounted to $1294.70, according to figures made public at the city treasurer's office. This amount is much larger than is customary, the average month's fines being in the neighborhood of six or seven hundred dollars.

Practically all of the public schools in the county will close tomorrow for the Christmas holidays. The work will be halted only one week in a majority of the schools, but those schools which are operated more than six months plan a vacation of two weeks work to be resumed January 4th.

A number of the people on the Mt. Pleasant highway, members of the Cold Water Light Company, have already had their electric lights installed and are using them. The lines and wiring are expected to be completed at an early date, thus serving over twenty families in that section of the county.

Regular work in the city schools will be halted at noon tomorrow for two weeks. This morning children in several primary grade gave short Christmas plays and tomorrow other Christmas exercises will be held in various grades in the schools. Work in the schools will be resumed on January 4th.

The Tribune can not publish any Santa Claus letters from the children after Saturday. Santa must have some time to get his presents for them ready, and letters printed after Saturday can not reach him in time. Let us have your letters not later than 9 o'clock Saturday, December 19th, children.

Get the shopping habit now. Only six more shopping days until Christmas and the grand rush for last minute goods begins next week. Also mail now the presents that are to be sent out of town. The mails are not so crowded now and gifts mailed now will reach their destination before Christmas.

Concord citizens have adopted so far many of the "Opportunities" discovered in the city but others remain and if Concord is to have a "White Christmas" these needy persons must be cared for. Read the list of opportunities in another column of this paper and select the one you want to adopt for Christmas.

Grammar grade teachers of the county will confer here Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock with Prof. J. H. Robertson, county superintendent of schools. It is planned to discuss at the conference various subjects of particular interest to grammar grades. The conference will be held in the court house.

Owing to the fact that the gymnasium at the Y will be filled with scenery preparatory to the play which the Hi-y Clubs are presenting Monday night, the regular Saturday night moving picture performance will be held in the large room upstairs at the Y, an early show for children at 6 o'clock and a second one for the grown-ups at 8 o'clock.

The new County Highway maps have been completed and are on display. The county is shown on them as having a network of highways throughout the county with the exception of in the Harrisburg section and in Number 4 Township. Plans are being made to construct roads in these parts of the county, it is said by officials.

10,000 FORD TRACTORS TO BE SENT TO RUSSIA

Plans For Next Spring Farm Work Included in a $6,000,000 Contract.

The Ford Motor Company closed a contract yesterday for 10,000 Fordson tractors with equipment, plows and spare parts, to be sold to the Russian Government for an aggregate amount of $6,000,000. News of the contract was given out by the Amtorg Trading Corporation, 105 Broadway, purchasing and selling agents in this country for the various Soviet industrial and commercial organizations.

Shipment of the tractors will be made in time for them to reach the agricultural districts of Russia for the next Spring work. These shipments will be to the ports of Novorossisk and Odessa during December and January. It was said yesterday by officials of the Amtorg Trading Corporation that special schools would be held by the Soviet Union during the early Spring throughout all parts of rural Russia and that the peasants at the schools would be taught to use the tractors which have been purchased from the Ford Motor Company.

In cotton manufacturing South Carolina in third place, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi are next in order of the Southern States in cotton manufacturing. Ninety-three cities in South Carolina and fifty-seven cities in North Carolina are listed as cotton manufacturing centers. In South Carolina the cotton mills are often the center of whole towns owned by the companies.

Missouri has the largest lead mines in the world and the largest limestone marble deposit.

TOM SIMS Says

The goal of many a college boy vanished at the end of the football season. The bad luck about a two-dollar bill is that you are so liable to pass it off for a one. The only safe bet on coal prices is that they will be too high. There is a lot of money in working, but it is hard to get. The too smallest place in the world is a boy's stomach on a holiday. No matter how many autos are sold there doesn't seem to be any more room in the street cars.

DR. RUSSELL H. CONWELL

Founder of Minneapolis Tribune Became Noted Minister. The Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, Baptist clergyman, founder and president of Temple University, Philadelphia, and former newspaper man, died in Philadelphia December 6th. He was renowned as a lecturer, author, and philanthropist. He wrote the famous lectures, "Acres of Diamonds."

At 19 Mr. Conwell left Yale University when the Civil War started. He was twice wounded and at the end of the war came out a lieutenant colonel. The young ex-soldier finished college and became a lawyer, but turned for a time to newspaper work. He founded and owned the Minneapolis Tribune, was a traveling correspondent for the New York Tribune, and later a reporter for it and editor of the Boston Traveler. In Boston he took up law again, and began preaching, while he still practiced, at the age of 35. His son Leon Conwell is editor of the Somerville, Mass., Journal.
