Stanly to Build Hard Surface Road to Rowan County

Albemarle Press. Stanly county citizens sat up and took notice latter part of last week when the news was heralded that Rowan county would proceed to build a hard surface road to the Stanly county line, but that Stanly had decided to withdraw from her end of the project.

In a nutshell, the local attorneys were familiar with previous demands and plans to the effect that $400,000 was required. These attorneys investigated the laws and outstanding obligations. It was found that, to go farther than a loan of $350,000 was impossible, since the county could not increase its existing obligations to a point of that dimension.

Good Advertising.

Gastonia Gazette. Mention has been made in this paper more than once about the yellow tag that Spartanburg uses on the cars of strangers who come to the city. The practice is gaining a lot of favorable publicity for the South Carolina city. The visiting motorist gets quite a "kick" out of the tag.

tourists who, all other things being equal, will make it a point to make their return trip that way. "It is an example many other cities could follow with profit. How much better than to hoot and jeer cars that display a Florida pennant! It will give Spartanburg valuable advertising which could not be purchased."

Cecil De Mille Can't Tell Which Is Prettiest

When the students' year book at the Oklahoma State Agricultural college conducted a beauty contest it sent pictures of forty-three co-eds to Cecil De Mille, movie director, asking him to select the most beautiful. He rejected all but these two, saying he couldn't decide between them, so they'll get equal prominence in the book. They are, left, Miss Mary Janet Turnbull, Woodward, Okla., and right, Miss Lorene Rayburn, of Clovis, N. M.

WAS 105 YEARS OLD

An Old-Time Faithful Negro.—Was Married Five Times. Henderson, Dec. 28.—(AP)—"Uncle" Tom Cheatham, old negro, much loved in this community, is dead. He would have been "105 years old this coming Easter, an hour to sun," he said. With his death, there ended the picturesque career of a unique character. While the exact date of the old negro's birth is not known, it is placed by the Cheatham family at 1820 or 1821. He belonged to Isham Cheatham, and is said to have driven his master's twin daughters to school each day. They would have been 101 years old next February, the family say, so the old negro's estimate of his age must be almost correct.

FLAPPER FACES MENACED

English Beauty Being Lost Through Too Great Indulgence in Sports. London, England, Dec. 28.—England is threatened by a new menace. While the underground railways have not yet evolved in English maidens the equivalent of what in New York is termed the "subway mouth," the English flapper is endangered from another source. She is, say her critics, in danger of becoming too masculine through over-indulgence—not in synthetic gin or the Charleston—but in "manly" sports. The latest prophet of despair is no less an authority on feminine charms divine than Alfred Praga, R. B. A., the portrait painter and president of the Society of Miniatures. He looks into the future and sees nothing but great big beefy beldames all over Britain if the girls hereabouts continue in the manly sports.

STINGIEST PERSON.

New York Mirror. The stingiest person I know is a man who has a pin attached to the end of his walking stick to pick up cigarettes with. The stingiest person I know is my boss. Every pay day he is a cent or two short for my envelope. The stingiest person I know is a fellow who buys me a book and reads it himself before he gives it to me. The stingiest person I know is a lady who has a telephone pay station in her store and when she wants to call anyone she walks three blocks to a friend's house.
