NORTH CAROLINA GIRL BECOMES STAGS STAR

Minerva Arrington Sherman, formerly of Charlotte, Attains Success on New York Stage. New York, Dec. 26.—A North Carolina society girl is the latest addition to the long list of stage workers who have come from the south.

C. and New York. She is the wife of Charles Austin Sherman, Jr., of New York City, scion of a noted family here. Miss Sherman was Minerva C. Arrington, of Charlotte, and she had made numerous appearances throughout North Carolina in various little theater and amateur productions.

by a noted artist, were hung in Richardson's and the Anderson Galleries, and were viewed by New York's social set with interest. Sportlife, a Macfadden publication, in its January issue is filled with stories of sports of every kind. "What the Tennis Season Showed," by Carl H. Getz, hits the high spots in tennis.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth attends the sessions of the House of Representatives, as a spectator, almost as regularly as her husband attends them, as a member and as speaker. Mrs. Longworth has a forgotten and makes frequent use of it. She always brings with her a handbag, which is the subject of a lot of curiosity.

During a performance there was a sudden commotion on the back of the stage, and the manager dashed behind. "Look here," he said, "what is all this row about?" A scene shifter smiled broadly. "You know the magician who eats fire," he said. "Well, he just put the wrong end of a cigar in his mouth!"

Justice and mercy can be so blended as to lift up, instead of push deeper into the mire. The Dartmouth College Out Club, founded in 1909 to conduct the winter sports at the New Hampshire institution, now has more than 1800 members on its rolls.

OUT OUR WAY

HERE'S WHERE I DO A LITTLE SHERLOCK HOLMES STUFF AND SHOW THAT KID THAT HE CAN'T GET OUT OF PAYING FOR THAT ENGAGEMENT RING—TILL GET A DISGUISE SO HE WON'T RECOGNIZE ME.

NOW I'LL PARK MYSELF IN FRONT OF HIS OFFICE AND WHEN HE COMES OUT FOR LUNCH I'LL CATCH HIM REDHANDED.

I'VE GUARDED THIS DOORWAY LIKE A SENTRY BUT I HAVEN'T SEEN A SIGN OF HIM AND IT'S SIX O'CLOCK—HE MUST HAVE STAYED HOME TODAY.

AND I ALMOST SMOTHERED MYSELF WEARING THESE FALSE WHISKERS TO FOOL THAT COLLECTOR BUT HE NEVER SHOWED UP—MARGE'S HE'S TIRED OF CHASIN' ME!

FRIGID TEMPERATURES CAUSE SCORE OF DEATHS

Even Lower Temperatures Tonight Are Predicted For Some Places—Freezing in Georgia.

New York, Dec. 27.—Zero weather swept over the northern states today from the Rockies to the Atlantic, pushing freezing temperatures before it into the south.

Nearly a score of deaths have resulted in the two days from the frigid weather born on the northwest wind of yesterday. Continued cold and in some places even lower temperatures, were predicted by the weather bureau tonight in issuing storm warnings along the Atlantic seaboard from Boston to Cape Hatteras and parts of the Alleghenys also recorded minus temperatures.

Seaweed is Table Delicacy in Japan—Declared Nutritious. Tokyo, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Seaweed in Japan is a dinner delicacy—for the Japanese. In fact, the harvesting of seaweed is one of Japan's large industries.

Teacher: "Jimmy, where is the North Pole?" Jimmy: "I don't know." Teacher: "You don't know?" Jimmy: "No, ma'am, if all the explorers couldn't find it, how can you expect me to know where it is?"

DINNER STORIES

An army officer was showing his fair guest about the camp when a bugle sounded. "What's that for," the fair one inquired. "That's tattoo," the officer explained. "Oh, I understand," she remarked. "I've often seen it on soldiers' arms, but I did not know they had a special time for doing it."

Doctor: "Remember and take a spoonful of this tonic after every meal." Patient: "Yes, but who is to furnish the meals?"

"Dauber may be a great artist," said the sweet young thing, "but he certainly has a peculiar way of painting his pictures." "Why, how is that?" asked her friend. "Well, when I visited his studio recently and asked him about his work, he told me he painted his greatest pictures on an empty stomach."

Bill Collector: "Shall I call tomorrow?" Young Lawyer: "Do. Call often. People will think you're a client and that may bring others."

Author: "Mary, I've made a mistake in my calling. I'm not an author, but a born chemist."

His Wife: "What makes you think that, Laurence?" Author: "Well, every book I write becomes a drug on the market."

In a recent golf tournament for Rock Island employees held at Herrington, Kas., James Hume, a section hand, won against a field which included a number of the highest officials of the railway system.

It is an error to say that Franklin's kite experiment led to the construction of lightning rods. We have Franklin's own words that the kite experiment followed the rods.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

Goldsboro News. Almost a dozen young boys, ranging in age from 14 to 19, were arrested yesterday by city policemen, charged with participation in a number of store-breakings which have occurred in Goldsboro this week.

It is indeed a problem for the law-enforcement officials of the city. The lives of some of the boys may be ruined by the disgrace that will accompany prison sentences, but, on the other hand, if they are released without being punished, they may be inclined to consider their escapades in the nature of a humorous prank to be repeated whenever the urge comes upon them.

The News does not condone the acts of the boys. They did wrong, and those whose duty it is to meet out justice must not be lax in the performance of their duties, but justice can often be tempered with mercy, especially in the instance of first offenders. It is deplorable, indeed, that when so many youths should have become embroiled in the breaking of the law, but it is not possible to weed out the leaders—who are probably those who have police records—and deal with them in such a manner as to more or less nullify their evil influence.
