Caught in Terrific Blow on Lake Michigan They Dropped Out of Sight Today.

EFFORTS TO REACH THEM OF NO AVAIL

Men Went Out Yesterday Morning to Fish Far Off Port, and Were Unaware of Approaching Storm.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 28.—42)—
The two fishing tugs, Helen M. and Indian, with eight men aboard, caught in the terrific gale on Lake Michigan, dropped out of sight at 8 a. m. today, coast guards reported. The tugs had been driving to the south during the night, and the blizzard made it impossible to locate them.

Shortly after daybreak the coast guard crew started out again in the blizzard in search of the tugs. During the night the coast guard got within half a mile of the tugs, but could not shoot a line to the helpless vessels.

Says Miss Cole's Letters Will Be Read Before Jury

Raleigh News and Observer.

A decaration that the much discussed correspondence between Miss Ellizabeth Cole and his son, W. W. Ormond will be offered in evidence, features the reply of Rev. A. L. Ormond in his $150,000 damage suit against W. B. Cole, wealthy cotton manufacturer of Rockingham, for the slaying of his son. The reply, which constitutes the final pleading in the case, was filed in Wake County Superior Court and the case now stands for trial with only the priority of ther cases was filed in Wake County Superior Court and the case now stands for trial with only the priority of ther cases was filed in Wake County Superior Court and the case now stands for trial with only the priority of ther cases was filed in Wake County Superior Court and the case now stands on the calendar. It is possible that the case will be reached this Spring and unless continued it should in due course go to trial sometime this year. The hitherto suppressed correspondence which the minister states in his reply will be read in the civil action was the center of popular interest during the trial of Cole at Rocking, ham last October for the murder of young Ormond which resulted in the acquital of the defendant, the jury reaching its verdict on the ground that the slander of Miss Cole by young Ormond which resulted in the acquital of the defendant, the jury reaching its verdict on the ground that the slander of Miss Cole by young Ormond which resulted in the acquital of the defendant, the jury reaching its verdict on the ground that the slander of Miss Cole by young Ormond which resulted in the acquital of the defendant, the jury reaching its verdict on the ground that the slander of Miss Cole by young Ormond which resulted in the acquital of the defendant, the jury reaching its verdict on the ground that the slander of Miss Cole by young Ormond which resulted in the acquital of the defendant, the jury reaching its verdict on the ground proped at State Colege as an electrical.
