Embarrassing Moments

New York Daily Mirror.

A few weeks ago I went to the barber shop to get a shave which I need et very badly. The barber had just finished half my face when somebody ran into the shop and shouted that the barber's child had been run over by a taxi. He ran out of the shop and I was forced to go on the street with half my face shaved.

The boss had gone for the day, and the office employes were getting ready to start home when one of them asked me to give an exhibition of the Charleston. I started at my desk and danced towards the door. Suddenly the applause ceased, but I continued dancing, and danced right into the arms of the boss who, had returned for his rubbers.

One Sunday last summer I went to Coney Island with some friends. We went on a joy ride there. Coming out, one of the girls handed my escoret a mirror, and pointed to his face. Trying to see the joke, I looked at him, and to my horror saw the outline of my lips on his face.

He-I offer you my hand and fo my—. e—Oh, I will be satisfied with Ted—Can I go out to play?

Mother—What! What with the coles in your stockings!
Ted—No, with the boys on Grocer—Did you want to buy some andy, Willie? Willie—Yes, but ma sent me to buy Supprised.

Richard—Did you hear 'bout the panic in the picture show? William—No. Did a fire cause it? Hichard—Naw; the lights were turned on suddenly."

Trying to see the joke, I looked at him, and to my horror saw the outline of, my lips on his face.

In the telegraph office the other Then They Dritted Apart.

"Mess Upso:—Mildred," said the poor but otherwise honest and umbitious young man. "I have paddled my own canoe for years and feel sure I can support you, Will you be my wife?"

"Nothing doing in the canoe line," "Nothing doing in the canoe line," "Prompt Action.

A tourist, who had stopped at mountaineer's cabin, noticed four holes in floor of cabin. Tourist—"Friend, I do not like to be too inquisitive, but what are the four holes in your door for?" Mountaineer—"Wal, you see I has got the choir a new tune at a Menday evening's practice; to be sung on the following Sunday.

"Well, Hobson," she said to one of them on the Sunday morning, "I would, the one tune, for we depend on you."

"No, miss., not a Dit," the yoke! assured her. "I've been a-skeerin' rows with it all the week."

Tourist—"Friend, I do not like to be too inquisitive, but what are the four holes in your door for?"

Mountaineer—"Wal, you see I has got the choir a new tune at a mountaineer's said to one of them on the Sunday morning, "I would, the work in the sunday morning."

Tourist—"Vy wouldn't are a mountaineer's cabin, noticed four holes in floor of cabin.

Tourist—"Why wouldn't are a mountaineer—"Wal, you see I has got the choir a new tune at a mountaineer and the sunday morning."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer
Washington, Feb. 15.—Does a congresswoman socially outrank the wife of a cabinet officer?
This is a serious question, now that women are breaking into Congress in increasing numbers—siready a quarter of a dozen strong. It needs to be answered immediately, but there's no prospect of it.
The highest authorities disagree.

The inglest authorities disagree.

That a cabinet officer outranks a representative is a well recognized principle of social law. It seems to follow naturally that his wife outranks a representative's wife. Presumably he (a cabinet officer) outranks a congresswoman, too. Only, as between cabinet officers (at any rate until some woman gets a portfolio) and congresswomen, there isn't much prespect of a clash.

But, as between cabinet officers' wives and congresswomen, there's such a prospect—or rather, it's right with us now.

When the present Washington "season" opened the capital's social arbiters first thought seems to have been to class Congresswomen Florence P. Kain, Mary T. Norton and Edith

P. Kahn, Mary T. Norten and Edith
N. Rögers among representatives' wives, as, indeed, Congresswomen Kahn and Norton (not Congresswomen Kahn and Norton (not Congresswomen an Rogers) had been:
But the White House dopes the situation out differently.
There it's argued that an official status is binding and that, before it, a social status has to wive way. Well,
a congresswoman has an official status
and a cabinet officer's wife has none.
She shines only by a reflected light.
A congresswoman shines by her own.

Hell in the Making.

Hell in the Making.

The newly appointed pastor of a megro church faced a packed audience when he arose to deliver his sermion on the burning question: "Is There a Hell?"

"Bredren," he said, "de Lord made the world round like a ball."

"Amen!" agreed the congregation.

"And the Lord made two axies for de world to go round on, one axie at the north pole and one axie at the north pole and one axie at the souf pole."

"And de Lord put a lot of oil and grease in de center of the world so as to keep the axies well greased and oiled."

"Amen!" said the congregation.

"And then a lot of sinners dig wells in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, and Mexico and Russia, and steal de Lord's oil and grease.

"And some day dey will have all of de Lord's oil and grease, and dem axies is gonna git hot. And den, dat will be hell, bredren, dat will be
