P. T. A. MEETING

Many Matters of Business Discussed at Meeting of High School Parent-Teachers Association.

The High School Parent-Teachers Association met in the school auditorium on Wednesday, February 17th, at 3 p. m.

Although not largely attended, the meeting proved to be an interesting one. A great many matters of business were discussed and those present felt the work is steadily going forward.

Mrs. T. H. Webb gave an interesting talk on the work that is being done on the school grounds.

An article entitled, "Questions For Mother to Ask Herself" was read by Mrs. Laura L. Ross.

The president read the State president's message, the general theme being, "Do Parents Need Information?"

The association, acting upon a suggestion in this message, decided that shelves be provided in the High School library known as parents' book shelves and that fund for this purpose be started at once.

The principal of the High School, Prof. Hinton McLeod, told the association that he recently attended a State meeting of principals of high schools at Greensboro and that there are eighteen high schools in the state that have the A classification, one of which is the Concord High School.

He commended the members of the association for their co-operation in helping to place our schools on the list last October when the last of the 1,000 volumes were placed in the library, this being the only point lacking.

He spoke also of the fine piece of work that has been done by the association on improving the school grounds.

The High School Parents-Teachers' Association accepted an invitation to meet with the Central Parent-Teachers' Association on March 16th in a program in memory of Miss Constance Cline.

Physical Culture Magazine for March, a Macfadden publication, has among its outstanding articles, "Let's Make Health Contagious," voicing the sentiments of Dr. Herman N. Bundeisen, health commissioner of Chicago who prescribes large doses of sunbathing and suggests that we walk, ride, play, sing—anything, but do it out-of-doors.

A. J. Powers, president of the Powers Reproduction Corporation, tells how he turned the grouches of his employees into grins and doubled their efficiency in "How I Helped the Help But a Kick in My Business." "The Next World's Heavy-weight Champion a Physical Culturist," proving there is more than might behind Gene Tunney's punch.

THE USED CAR

The Ford Plan is to Guarantee Individually Each Car Sold. Even more authentic than the first robin as a herald of coming spring, is the start of activity in the used car market. On used car lots and in dealers' garages all over the country, prospective owners are inspecting thousands of cars which will be seen this summer on highways and boulevards.

Used car buying, however, is on a new basis. The old order of bargaining is gone, for buyers have learned that the concern whose reputation is staked upon the kind of service it renders the public, is the most reliable place to buy the "unused mileage" represented in a used motor car.

Interesting in that connection is the first anniversary of the Ford guaranteed used car plan, which has not only raised to a new height public confidence in used Ford cars, but due to the fact that approximately half the cars in use are Fords, has gone a long way to stabilizing this phase of the automobile industry. The plan is made simple and positive in operation by the fact that each car is guaranteed individually by one who is in the best position to know its possibilities—the Ford dealer.

By virtue of the fact that every community has its authorized Ford service, the local dealer maintains personal contact with practically all the cars handled through this agency. When the car is eventually turned in, he frequently knows just about how far it has been driven and the kind of driving to which it has been subjected.

If the car needs reconditioning when turned in, the dealer is in a position to give it the needed mechanical attention at the lowest possible cost and when ready for service, can definitely determine the amount of mileage it should deliver, the price depending entirely upon this unused transportation.

Public acceptance of the Ford used car plan is clearly indicated in reports made to the company's general offices in Detroit.
