Urged That the Publishers Strive to Serve Public Rather Than Seek Alone Great Profits.

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—A discussion of schools of journalism in an address by Vice President Dawes, and establishment of a permanent organization engaged the attention of the newspaper men of 21 republics as the reception. concluding events today of the first Pan-American Congress of Journalists.

Josephus Daniels, publisher of the Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer, and war time Secretary of the Navy, in a paper on "Newspaper Ethics," urged that service to the public be emphasized by publishers rather than the building up of profits. He deplored the tendency toward consolidation of newspapers even when movanting

Immerality and Will Honeycutt Kills Him.

Monroe April 12.—As a result of a row with his wife, who accused him of being intimate another woman. Ed Honeycutt, a large land owner of New Salem township. Union county, received into his right brenst, at 9 o'clock last night the charge from a 12-gauge shotgun, in the hands of Will Honeycutt, his 20-year-old son, and died instantly.
The tragedy occurred on Honeycutt's farm on Rocky river near the Union and Stanly county lines.
Will Honeycutt, who married about a year ago, was, living on the farm with his father, about 400 yards away, it is said that father and son have not been on the best of terms, but the dead man ate supper with his son last night, and after passing some time with him, went over to his home.

He was arranging, according to some time with him, went over to his home.

He was arranging, according to statements of the family, to go away for a while, when his wife began to make accusations against him. He knocked her down and kicked her, it is said, and the two engaged in a general row. Ed Honeycutt sent his second son, Guy Honeycutt, to ask Will to come over. Guv went and reported the row, and Will, in a fit of anger, grabbed his shotgun and ran ahead of Cuy and his wife to the home of his father, paesed through the house, and found him standing in the backyard. As he approached he raised his gun and fired.

The young patricide left immediately for a doctor and as he went, sent neighbors to the home. He returned later in the might, having failed to find a doctor at both Oakboro and Middead Legans and the order of the might, having failed to find a doctor at both Oakboro and Middead Legans and the control of the cont sent neighbors to the home. He returned later in the night, having failed to find a doctor at both Onkboro and Midland. In company with two of his neighbors, S. C. Thomas and W. D. Smith, he drove into Monroe and told Sheriff Clifford Fowler what he had done. Sheriff Fowler went to the scene of the murder and secured the gun with which the father was murdered, the clothes he wore at the time of the shooting, and other articles which might bear on the evidence in the case.

The slain man is a son ot Rev. Harrison Honeycutt, of Stanly county. Rev. Thomas Honeycutt, of Lancaster, S. C., is also a relative. He was 49 years of age, and leaves six children, his slayer being the oldest one.

that it had been accepted.

The Governor stated that, since there seems to be nothing in the statutes which requires him to appoint a public director, although it is requested in the by-laws of the association, he sees no reason why he should be called upon to fill the vacancy thus created. It is his present intention to take no further action in the matter.
