Feather Daisies

The high crown of this black gown grain hat, and the four feathers daisies of red, blue, yellow and green are new notes from Paris.

PERSONAL

Mrs. A. B. Pounds and Mrs. Chas. Johnson attended the bridge luncheon given in Lexington today by Mrs. Andrew Crowell.

Myrtle Hopkins is confined to her home on North Spring street, by measles.

Nevin and Nancy Archibald, children of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Archibald, are able to be up, after having measles.

Miss Mary Smith is spending today in Charlotte.

Mrs. W. D. Pemberton, Jr., of Monroe, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Pemberton for several days.

Miss Bernice Rippey, who has held a responsible position for some time at the Southern freight office here, has accepted a similar position in Gastonia. Mr. Cash succeeds Miss Rippey at the office in Concord.

Karl Broome returned to his home in Hickory this morning after spending Tuesday and Tuesday night here with relatives and friends.

W. T. Jerome, of Greensboro, spent Tuesday and today in Concord on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Prevost, of Thomasville, spent the day here, coming to see their son who is undergoing treatment in the Concord Hospital.

Miss Wilford will be given in marriage by her brother, Bruce Wilford, on account of the illness of her father, J. C. Wilford, while Mr. Goodman's best man will be his brother, G. G. Goodman, of Greensboro.

Mrs. Bruce Wilford, of Kannapolis, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, is to act as dame of honor, and Miss Pink Wilford will be her sister's maid of honor.

The bridesmaids are: Misses Ruth Cannon, Annie Sumot, Mary Crowell and Mrs. T. N. Dorton.

Mary Dell Long, of Concord, and Margaret Goodman, of Greensboro, the latter a niece of the groom, are to be flower girls, while Eleanor Wallace will act as ring bearer.

The groomsmen will be Archie Foil, Joe Bost, J. B. Womble, Jobie Goodman, of Greensboro, and Dr. J. A. Shavers.

Dr. J. A. Hartsell, Dr. P. R. MacFadyen, Dr. W. H. Wadsworth, Dr. W. D. Pemberton, and William Bingham will be the ushers.

Mrs. J. B. Womble, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. V. A. Means are in charge of the bridal music.

After the rehearsal, the bridal party was entertained at the home of the bride's parents, on South Union street at an informal reception.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Grace Brown Sanders, Mrs. T. N. Spencer and Mrs. A. W. Folkes. The bridal party and out-of-town guests received in the living room, which was profusely decorated with apple blossoms.

In the dining room, where frozen salad and coffee were served, white lilies were used as decorations.

A shower of tiny white bridal bells were suspended on narrow ribbons above the wedding cake. These bells were presented to the guests as souvenirs. The wedding cake was artistically arranged on the dining room table with white lilies, and contained the usual good luck tokens.

During the evening William Clegg Monroe, of Charlotte, sang several delightful numbers.

MRS. ERNEST PORTER DIES IN HOSPITAL EARLY TODAY

Death Came as Great Shock to City.—Condition Became Critical at Midnight.

Mrs. Frances Craven Porter, wife of Ernest Porter, prominent Concord druggist, and one of the most popular women in Concord, died at the Concord Hospital early this morning, her death coming as a shock to the city.

Mrs. Porter entered the hospital several days ago and submitted to a serious operation. Her condition had been regarded as favorable and there was no change for the worse until about midnight when she was seized with a sinking spell from which she did not rally. She died at 5:30.

Mrs. Porter was 32 years of age and was a daughter of the late K. L. and Mrs. Craven. She was born and reared in Concord, being prominently identified with the social life of the younger set. She had been married about 10 years.

Surviving are her mother, husband, two sisters, Mrs. L. A. Weddington and Miss Adah Craven, both of Concord; and three brothers, B. R. Craven, of Concord, and Henry and Lois Craven, of Raleigh.

Few deaths within recent months in Concord have come with such an unexpected suddenness as that of Mrs. Porter. While it was generally known that she was in the hospital, her condition until midnight had apparently been as favorable as could be expected. The news of her death spread rapidly, casting a pall of gloom over the city, where she and members of her family are widely known.

ADD MRS. PORTER DEATH

Funeral services will be held in the First Presbyterian Church here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by the pastor of the Church, Dr. J. C. Rowan. Interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

The pall bearers will be: J. L. Cannon, P. B. Fetzer, E. T. Cannon, Frank Crowell, L. A. Fisher and Leslie Correll.

The tone of these singers will sound as though it is coming from the organ in brilliancy and buoyancy and those that are lucky enough to hear these wonderful singers will get something to remember for a long time.

The attack of these singers, with the music assembled will inspire you to such a degree that you will get up in your seats and shout with admiration.

"Somebody's Knocking at Your Door," a negro spiritual, with tenor solo by Dr. T. E. Sikes, will thrill you. "Summer Evening," an old English folk song with tenor solo by Mr. Robinson Wunsch and the beautiful Russian folk song "Volga Boat Song" will be other songs that will haunt you who are lucky enough to hear them.

Tickets are now on sale at the box office, leading drug stores and by the local women clubs of this city.

KANNAPOLIS VOLLEYBALL TEAM OFF FOR CONTEST

Will Leave Tonight for Selma, Ala. Where Southern Championship Will Be Determined.

The crack volleyball team from Kannapolis, champions of North Carolina for several years, will leave tonight for Selma, Ala., to take part in the Southern tournament which will be staged there on Friday and Saturday.

The Kannapolis team will be led in the championship games by its fine leader, Dr. Frank Flowe, star of the championship series last year in Chattanooga. Dr. Flowe is recognized as one of the outstanding players in the South and his work in the series in Selma is expected to play a major part in the success of his team.

Other stars will play under the Kannapolis banner at Selma, the entire squad being far superior to anything else in North Carolina. Captain Flowe will take with him the following players: Lawrence Gilliam, Clem Smith, Henry Brown, R. R. Allison, and H. A. Alfred. Substitutes will be Chick Fagan and Tom W. Widenhouse.

At the Southern finals in Chattanooga last year the Kannapolis team lost only one contest, being defeated by Chattanooga, winners of the championship. With the same fine squad this year the players from the Towel Town expect to return with highest honors.

Choral Art Club at Concord Theatre April 19th.

The Choral Art Club, of Greensboro, with a cast of forty wonderful singers will be at the Concord Theatre on Monday night, April 19th under the auspices of the Concord Music Club and The General Federation of Women's Clubs under the direction of the local Federation.

Mr. Charles Troxell, director of the ensemble of 40 men and women is a finished artist himself with a tenor voice equal to anything ever heard in Concord.

The tone of these singers will sound as though it is coming from the organ in brilliancy and buoyancy and those that are lucky enough to hear these wonderful singers will get something to remember for a long time.

The attack of these singers, with the music assembled will inspire you to such a degree that you will get up in your seats and shout with admiration.

SIGN WILLIAMS BAND FOR THE COUNTY COMMENCEMENT

Famous String Band of Mooresville Will Be Added Attraction at the County Finals.

Continuing plans to make the county commencement program this year one of the best in the history of the county, Prof. J. B. Robertson, superintendent of county schools, has engaged the Frank Williams string band of Mooresville for the afternoon of commencement day.

Capt. Williams is a musician of rare attainments and his corps of musicians is composed of artists who always please. The musical program is expected to be one of the finest features of the commencement exercises.

L. C. Brogden, of Raleigh, State supervisor of elementary schools, has been secured to deliver the literary address. Mr. Brogden is one of the best known men of the State department of education, and his message is certain to be heard with interest and benefit.

The entire program this year will be held on the afternoon of Saturday, April 24th. The program has been set for the afternoon so farm people can spend the morning at work and enjoy the entire program with only a half a day away from home.

Bowley Circulates Washington Order Against Swearing.

Fayetteville, April 13.—General George Washington's general order deprecating the foolish and wicked practice of profane cursing and swearing is being distributed among the troops of Fort Bragg by General A. J. Bowley, commanding officer of the post. General Bowley is insistent that the old y-word, "to swear like a trooper," should become a thing of the past, and is having copies of General Washington's now famous order circulated to all commands.

General Washington's order, issued in July, 1776, is as follows:

"The general is sorry to be informed that the foolish and wicked practice of profane cursing and swearing, a vice heretofore little known in an American army, is growing into fashion. He hopes that the officers will, by example as well as influence, endeavor to check it, and that both they and the men will reflect, that they can have little hope of the blessing of heaven on our arms if we insult it by our impiety and folly. Adding to this it is vice so mean and low, without any temptation, that every man of sense and character detests and despises it."

In the May Muscle Builder, a Macfadden publication, will be found "Muscles That Heroes Are Made Of," a fact story of New York's finest as told by W. Harry Tins, physical instructor on the New York City police and fire departments. "Training on the Trains," or how Daniel Josselyn, an athletic actor, keeps fit while en route. The world's most ardent advocate of brain and brawn—Bernarr Macfadden, tells "How to Strengthen Your Shoulders," "Muscular Wonder Workers" concerns Cornelius Dixon, dare-devil athlete, and Joseph Rothman, his partner in athletic stunts.

The attorney general has made a recent very important decision in which he holds that the State cannot charge inmates of the schools for the deaf and blind for their training in these schools. The ruling seems to be entirely just and reasonable.—Charity and Children.

Gas Service has a two-fold meaning

WHEN you turn on the gas to cook your dinner, heat the water or bring cheery warmth to a chilly room, you are benefiting by just one phase of your gas service. This is the service of individual comfort and convenience.

There is another service equally important—the service represented by the influence of an efficient public utility upon the growth and prosperity of the community as a whole. A town well served by public utilities attracts desirable citizens and successful industries.

We are putting every effort into rendering this two-fold service—in the interests of customer satisfaction and community growth.
