HOWARD BOST SENTENCED TO STATE PENITENTIARY

Plead Guilty to Manslaughter Charge.—Other Cases in Cabarrus Superior Court.

Howard Bost, negro, charged with killing "Dad" Palmer, another negro, was sentenced to serve not less than six years nor more than 8 years in the State penitentiary when his case was called in Cabarrus Superior Court Tuesday.

Bost was charged with murder in the hill returned by the grand jury. However, through counsel he entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter and this plea was accepted. He was immediately sentenced by Judge T. D. Bryson to serve the sentence in the State penitentiary.

The jury in the case against L. A. Fortner, charged with selling a crop without consent, returned a verdict of not guilty.

A. C. Lambert was fined $50 and the costs for possessing liquor.

Arthur Edwards, charged with larceny, plead guilty to forcible trespass. He has not yet been sentenced.

Not a true bill was the verdict of the grand jury in the case of Marr Sanders against whom the State sought an indictment for larceny.

Taylor Anton was sentenced to serve 13 months on the chain gang for selling liquor.

Counsel for the defense made a motion that the bill of indictment, charging Alex Walton with abandoning a crop, be quashed and the motion was sustained by Judge Bryson.

Britt Pharr was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Sentence in his case has not been entered by the court.

Hazel Newton was freed upon payment of the costs in a case charging assault with a deadly weapon.

The case against Ike Evans, charged with larceny, was being heard when court recessed Tuesday afternoon.

Former Governor Lowden to Be in Charlotte

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, is coming to North Carolina this week for speaking engagements at Charlotte and Raleigh. He will speak at Charlotte at 11 a. m. on Friday, April 23, in the Charlotte Auditorium. He will speak in the State theatre at Raleigh Saturday at 1 o'clock p. m. April 24.

Governor Lowden is known as a national agricultural leader and speaker. Being a live stock, grain and cotton farmer on an extensive scale himself, he is well qualified to speak on the farmers' problem.

It is expected he will discuss the proposed farm relief bill now under consideration in Congress.

Many Cabarrus county people are expected to bear Mr. Lowden in Charlotte.

The Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union of America is to hold its annual convention in New York City during the first week of August.

GIBSON MILL DEFENDANT IN $15,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Rev. B. F. Fincher Suing Local Cotton Mill as Result of Accident Here.

Complaint in a $15,000 damage suit was filed in Charlotte Tuesday against the Gibson Manufacturing Company, Concord, by Hollis Fincher, nine-year-old son of Rev. B. F. Fincher, Methodist minister.

The complaint charges, through his father as next friend, that on October 26, 1923, the youth was knocked down and dragged ninety feet by a truck operated by an employe of the company.

As a result, it is alleged, the boy suffered permanent injuries from shock, lacerations of the head and fractures of the foot, ankle and leg. He charges that the flesh was ground from the foot and leg and the bones of the limb were crushed.

The complaint charges that the truck was being driven at a "terrific rate of speed" down a grade and that the driver was unable to bring it to a halt until it had skidded ninety feet.

Mr. Fincher was serving a local church when the alleged accident occurred.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR THE BANK OF MIDLAND

American Trust Company of Charlotte Appointed by Judge T. D. Bryson.

Judge T. D. Bryson, in Cabarrus Superior Court, Tuesday afternoon signed a petition naming the American Trust Company, of Charlotte, as temporary receiver for the Bank of Midland, which was recently burned.

The appointment was made at the request of the State Corporation Commission and Clarence Latham, State bank examiner. Mr. Latham was here when the petition was presented to Judge Bryson.

As a result of the court order, the affairs of the bank temporarily will be in the hands of John Fox, trust officer of the trust company, who is quoted as saying it would be impossible to make a statement about the bank's condition until an audit is completed.

All cash and records not burned were taken to Charlotte the day following the fire, being held there by bank examiners in the employ of the State. What progress has been made with the audit by them is not known.

"High Cast Hindu For First Glimpse of Amer.,"

Possibly all readers of this morning's Charlotte Observer were interested in the picture of Mr. R. C. Bannerji the High Cast Hindu of India. If you did not read the Observer it would interest you to look for this article and read it.

Because some have phoned me concerning this I wish to announce that Mr. Bannerji will be in Concord in the near future. All the people of Concord should hear this wonderful man.

It is estimated that the American oil industry loses $200,000,000 a year by evaporation losses, which amount to over 6 per cent of all the oil produced.

AMERICAN LEADS WORLD IN BUSINESS THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

WHILE we Americans as a people are more extravagant and more wasteful of our resources than others, we have no superiors in real business efficiency.

An example of this is shown in the building and construction industries. It takes twice as long, and sometimes more, to erect a building in England as it does here. The result is that buildings over there, generally speaking, cost as much as they do here although the craftsmen engaged in construction work are only paid a third as much as they are here. Rents, of course, must be in keeping with building costs because the only way a building can be operated profitably for the owner is to secure an adequate income. Thus a heavy burden is placed upon working people through lack of efficiency in the building industry.

When we look about us in this country and note the great progress being made on every hand, how our cities and smaller places are forging ahead and how great building projects are going forward, we gain an appreciation of the value of American efficiency. Better standards of living for the masses of the people are continually being developed, education is broadened more amicable relations between employer and employe are fostered, and higher ideals of citizenship are brought into existence.

American efficiency means simply the elimination of the greatest possible amount of waste, in other words thrift applied to business. And it is to be said to our honor that European countries are taking note of our methods and are beginning to follow them.

As a nation we are often criticized for our commercialism. Nevertheless it can not be denied that we have developed a type of industrial thrift that is a strong factor in solving many of our great social problems.

Let us remember that standards of individual efficiency bring the same benefits to the individual as business efficiency brings to industry. If we would make progress in the world, we must learn to forego habits of waste. Thrifty ways, followed consistently from day to day, can bring us only to successful destinations.
