Slayer Thinks His Victim Is "Shadowing" Him.

Stanly News-Herald. Crowell Lilly, the young negro who shot and killed George Wall, another negro at Norwood two weeks ago, is now having fits or some kind of spasmodical spells. Only a few days ago Lilly was chopping wood peacefully when all of a sudden he flung his ax into space and sped into the house and jumped into bed, exclaiming that George Wall was chasing him with an ax.

According to one of "Norwood's" leading citizens Lilly has been acting a little funny ever since the killing occurred. It seems he will not go anywhere at night now but is continually throwing a spasm and complaining that George Wall is after him.

Lilly was given a preliminary hearing some time ago and bound over to the superior court, upon the charge of manslaughter.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS SAYS USE HICKORY AND TRAIN YOUTHS

Former Secretary of Navy Tell Kentucky Teachers World Has Departed Too Far From Solomon's Advice of "Spare the Rod and Spoil the Child."

Louisville, Ky., April 23.—A plea for the inculcation of respect for authority and for discipline in the school child of today was voiced here tonight by Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy under Wilson, in address before the Kentucky Teachers' association.

Just as the military service in America needs the "broadening spirit of the schools" so there is a crying need at this hour for the spirit of discipline in the schools and colleges," declared Mr. Daniels, who believes that the pendulum has swung too far from the practice of the "Solomonian precept, 'spare the rod and spoil the child.'"

"The breaking down of discipline and the lowering of standards is not debatable. The only debatable question is how to secure adherence to high standards and respect for authority. I submit that, as the military service needs the ameliorating influence of the school room, so the school room needs in need of the principles inculcated in military men. They are:

- "1. Respect for authority.
- "2. Acceptance of discipline.
- "3. Love of the flag."

"The goal," the speaker asserted, "is self discipline, but youth must be taught the everlasting truth that obedience to the constituted authority is the first lesson of life, and that without such respect there cannot be developed the sturdy qualities essential to noble character."

The speaker told of his experiences, while secretary of the navy in putting into effect in the navy a system of compulsory education. He predicted that "the day will come when this country will accept the 'essential peace making provisions of Wilson's league.'"

Mr. Marshall declined to comment further on the matter, declaring that the Governor's action was open to no criticism, so far as he was concerned.

Winston D. Adams, of Charlotte, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, declined to make any statement regarding the matter.

Continued Activity in Southern Textile Stocks But Prices Decline. Gastonia, N. C., April 24.—According to R. S. Dickson & Company, Gastonia, N. The payment of dividends during the past few days by some of the Belmont, N. C. Mills created a demand for certain stocks which sold off immediately after payment of the dividend.

Sound issues of preferred stocks continued in demand in North Carolina, as tax listing time draws near.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER

The American newspaper is a marvel of intelligence and enterprise; in many respects the most wonderful production of our civilization. Consider the brains, the hard work, the incessant vigilance, and the mechanical ingenuity needed in one issue of a great daily, which is an amazing conspectus and reflection of the life of the entire globe the day before. Remember the hurry and excitement in which it must be made up, and the brief time allowed for deliberation, the wonder is, not that there are in it so many mistakes, but so few. And considering its contents, and its cost in its pay of employees, in its outlay for news, in its ingenious machinery, it is the cheapest of all human products. The reader pays for that which gives him the daily history of the world (and most of that he uses in conversation) scarcely more than the price of white paper.

Driver Escapes/ injury when all steel car turns upside down

An icy pavement between Piqua and Dayton, Ohio . . . traffic complications . . . and the car shown above plunged through a wire fence and turned completely over.

"The driver," reads the report, "only found it necessary to operate the window crank in the left front door and crawl out. He had not received a scratch."

Lucky motorist to have been driving a Dodge Brothers all steel sedan!

Imagine what would have happened, under similar circumstances, to a motor car with a body of wood—and to the driver!

Every automobile body should now be all steel just as every sleeping car is now built of steel.

All steel bodies are safer. Anyone knows that. Steel doesn't splinter. Steel doesn't burn. Steel is tough and strong—the modern ship metal—the modern airplane metal—the modern bridge and building metal.
