GOSPEL MEETINGS CLOSE

Dr. West Gave Three Messages Yesterday—A Day Long to Be Remembered. The Gospel meeting in Trinity Reformed Church closed last night. Rev. Edward F. West, D. D., gave three messages yesterday. After the service last night a large number of the congregation gathered at the depot to bid him Godspeed on his way home to Columbus, Ohio. There he is pastor of the Reformed Church, the largest congregation in the town, a membership numbering about 600. The service in the afternoon for the "old folks" was the most impressive service of the day. More than 40 were present. There was a congregation of 160. There who have been in this life for more than 65 years joined in the singing of such gospel hymns as "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Dr. West sang a gospel song "Home Over There." The subject of his sermon was "The Home Beyond." Text John 14:2 "In My Father's house are many mansions." "I go to prepare a place for you." Dr. West spoke in part as follows: Benjamin Franklin said "Heaven is a state of happiness infinite in extent and eternal in duration." It was Daniel Webster who said, "Heaven's gates are open to them who pass through them with their knees." It is good for us to know that God has some place better for us. If there is a heavenly life, then there must be a heavenly life here. This is eternal life: to know God and Jesus Christ whom he has sent. Heaven is pictured to us through the medium of those things which we see about us. It is a city, the most beautiful city with walls of Jasper, gates of pearls and streets paved with pure gold. Heaven is a country more glorious than Canaan, a better country. Heaven is a Temple. Heaven is a Home. And I suppose that the picture of heaven as a home is the best of all. We have here no abiding home. There is light in that home. I saw the wonderful light of the St. Louis Exposition, celebrating the Louisiana Purchase. There was a flood of light from 300,000 electric lights. But the light of the Home above shines in the light. There is sweetness in that home. And took his servants there. The Patriarchs are there. The Prophets, the Apostles, the martyrs, and the glorious company of the redeemed there. Oh! the memories that we will recall from that Home. Then there are no tears there. There are no headaches. The misery and the pain of this present world are left behind. No wonder the gates are of pearl. Pearls are the production of great suffering and pain. And it was Jesus Christ, who was made perfect through suffering. The gates to this Home are always open. There is a standing invitation to come home. At the close of the service each one who had passed the 65th birthday was presented with a carnation. They lingered to tell the preacher how much good had come to their hearts. Some mentioned the service in the old Church more than five years ago. At the Sunday School Dr. West spoke to the Juniors, Intermediates and the Young men. A number, all 10 years of age and upwards, who are not members of the Church signified that they would publicly confess Jesus Christ and unite with the Church. The pastor later announced that such reception would be Whit-sunday, May 23rd. PASTOR.

SUPERIOR COURT IS IN SESSION AGAIN THIS WEEK

Trial of Civil Cases Was Begun This Morning With Judge T. D. Bryson Presiding. The second week of the April term of Cabarrus Superior Court began this morning with Judge T. D. Bryson, of Bryson City, presiding. Sessions of court this week will be devoted to the trial of civil cases, the criminal docket having been completed last week. The calendar calls for enough work to keep the court in session during the entire week if all the cases docketed are ready for trial. First Baptist Church. Large congregations attended the morning and evening services at this church Sunday. There was also a splendid attendance at the Bible school. Mr. Trueblood, the pastor, left the city today for Rosemary, where he will be engaged for ten days in a revival meeting, assisting the pastor of the First Baptist Church of that place. All services here, in the absence of the pastor, will go on uninterrupted. The prayer meeting next Wednesday night will be conducted by Luther Burdard. The regular weekly choir practice will follow the prayer meeting. Next Sunday at 11 a. m. the Woman's Missionary Society of the church will render a special program, and at 7:30 p. m. next Sunday the final Bible story contest will be held in this church. FINE CONVENTION OF DEMOCRATS WAS HELD SATURDAY

County Agent Goodman Making Plans For Fine Program Here Next Saturday

In a statement this morning R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, called attention to the meeting here Saturday in the interest of "National Egg Day." His statement follows: "Remember that next Saturday, May 1st, is 'National Egg Day,' and on that day at 2 o'clock p. m. Dr. B. F. Kaupp, will deliver an address at the court house in Concord. Every one interested in poultry should attend this meeting as it is intended as the first step towards a county-wide building-up of the industry. "The poultry industry of the United States has been steadily coming into its present position of commercial importance since 1880, at which time poultry was first included in the farm census. The poultry industry, like other commercial and industrial developments, has followed very closely the increase and massing of our population in cities. The great increase which has taken place in the number of city dwellers has created an immense demand for the increased commercial production of poultry and eggs. "The poultry industry has developed during the past fifty years from a neglected side-line on the average farm to a point where the farm yard flock has been increased in size, is better handled and is considered by the farmer a very efficient contributor to his yearly income. Recent years have witnessed the establishment of thousands upon thousands of specialized poultry farms at commercialized henneries. These are found in the largest numbers near intensive centers of population where the demand for nearby high-quality eggs is ever present. Great Revival at Kerr Street Baptist Church. Saturday night and Sunday at Kerr Street Baptist Church were a Pentecost. God's power was manifested. These were the best services yet. The singing gets better and better, and Rev. Mr. Fry was at his best. The quartet sang "I Want My Friends to pray for me." Sunday night they sang "Careless Soul, Why Will You Let Me Go?" The church was filled and running over with chairs in the aisle Sunday night. The evangelist preached Saturday night on the subject, "Spiritual Marriage," and Sunday morning on "Looking For Jesus Through the Eyes of His Mother." Sunday night he preached from the subject, "Will We Escape From the Burning City?" using for a text Genesis 19:11. Escape for every life look not behind neither stay there in all the plains of Sodom. He said in part: "This was God's message to one he loved. God sent the message through his servants. There had been a disagreement between Lot's servants and the servants of Abraham. It became necessary for Lot and Abraham to separate so Lot made a choice, but he made it by sight and not by faith. He made his choice of the plains, and left Abraham the old barren hills. People today are making their choice by sight instead of by faith. They are choosing the things which are seen, which are carnal, but the things not seen are eternal. There was prospect of building a large city down where Lot went, and this probably appeared to him. There are evils in the city that we don't have in country; there are many things that are leading our young people down to hell. The automobiles are leading our young people to ruin. The automobile would be one of the best things man every invented if we would dedicate them to God and his service. But, Oh, how they carry people away from the church. Lot did not have the automobile, but he had something just as bad, so afterwards I see a large city down in the plains, and Lot becomes very popular, perhaps he was elected the mayor of the town. Then Lot drops off in his spirituality, he neglects to pray and to have family prayer, so he loses the influence over his family. After awhile I see two men enter the city. They are the messengers of God; they go to Lot's house, but Lot at first would not listen to God's messengers. Listen, God's messengers are in the world now but thousands will not listen. These were God's messengers and God takes care of them; God always takes care of his own. "First, this God became a life and death question with every one. This old world will be consumed some day by fire as was this city and obeying God's message by His messengers is all that will save you. Salvation is a life and death question. Escape for your lives. Jesus is the refuge. If you give Jesus your whole heart you have no time to turn back. "Second, but there were ties that held him in Sodom. Perhaps he had a nice home he did not want to forsake, that he had other belongings that he did not want to leave. People today are letting many things of the world keep them out of the kingdom of God. "Third, then Lot had some trouble getting his family to go with him, because he had lived so ungodly before them. He had let other things come in between him and God. Oh, how many people today, both fathers and mothers, in the same state that Lot was in. But while Lot lingered God's messengers laid hold on him and he escaped. Will you escape? The time has come for you to leave Sodom. What will you do? Will you let some one of God's messengers lead you out? "Service tonight at 7:30. Mr. Fry's subject will be "The Unpardonable Sin." Come and help us fight sin and lead sinners to Christ. PASTOR.

The Streets Are Paved With Gold The town of Nilands, in the Imperial Valley of California, has golden streets—and this isn't a California booster yarn, either. Heavy rain washed gold-bearing silt down on the streets, and this picture shows Alex Under McLaughlin, old-time prospector, panning some of the dust in the main street.

Radio Picture of Lava Flow in Hawaii Here is the first picture to reach America of the lava flow that followed the eruption of Mauna Loa in Hawaii. It was taken Monday and sent to San Francisco by radio Monday night, being telephotored east Tuesday morning. It shows the upper part of a house that is being overwhelmed by the molten lava. Flames are protruding from the roof, and at the right and above the trunk and limbs of a tree can be made out. The cloudiness of the print is due to the fact that radio transmission of photographs is still in its infancy. The sketch in set is an artist's drawing from the radio picture.
