

Ice Pack Delays Fleet of Great Lakes Steamers

Nearly forty huge Great Lakes steamers, bound for the head of the lakes for ore and grain, were held for several days in a great ice jam at the foot of Lake Erie, just outside Buffalo harbor. Wedged in the ice, it was many hours before the boats could break through and get out to open water. This picture was taken from an airplane shortly before the boats got out.

JOHNSON SEES BAPTISTS STOOPIING TO POLITICS

Compulsory Acceptance of Genesis Criticized By Biblical Recorder Editor.

Raleigh, May 18.—Action of the Southern Baptist Convention at Houston, Texas, in adopting a resolution requiring teachers in its institutions, missionaries and other officers to subscribe to the earlier resolution accepting the Genesis account of the creation without equivocation was declared "at this distance" to look like a "piece of political chicanery slipped over by some of the western delegates after the easterners had gone home" in a statement issued here tonight by Dr. Livingston, editor of the Biblical Recorder, a Baptist organ.

The convention last week passed a resolution accepting the Genesis account of creation and rejecting all others tending to teach that man may have originated from some lower animal. On Saturday this resolution was followed up by another requesting all institutions, boards and missionary representatives to subscribe to the first resolution as a statement of faith. Doctor Johnson was present at the convention when the first resolution was adopted but had left before the second was acted upon.

Doctor Johnson expressed the belief the convention's action would be without effect so far as institutions other than those directly under the Southern Baptist convention are concerned. He stated that colleges under state conventions did not come in this class.

"I will not know the true inwardness of the situation," he stated, "until I talk with some of those who were there at the time, but it looks at this distance like the final evolution action of the convention was a piece of political chicanery slipped over by some of the western delegates after the easterners had gone home, and I think I am right.

"The convention was very largely attended but most of the delegates were from the west, and were very determined to have an additional doctrinal statement made by the convention. They had prepared one which was more radical than any of us from the east could have possibly voted to adopt.

"A great many saw no need of any further statement whatever, but in order to save a bitter discussion that might have paralyzed the work of the convention, the resolution offered by Dr. McDaniel was unanimously agreed upon, with a general understanding that would be the last word on the subject."

Doctor Johnson added he had met Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, at Louisville, Ky., the day following passage of the second resolution, and "he told me that if he had been at Houston Saturday he would have opposed the adoption of the resolution with all his force."

STILL BELIEVES LAND EXISTS AT THE POLE

Head of Expedition That Will Make Extended Survey Standfast in His Opinion.

New York, May 18.—Despite the negative findings of the Amundsen expedition, it is still a probability that there is a great track of land between the North Pole and Alaska, in the opinion of the sponsors of the American Arctic expedition which leaves this summer for polar regions, with three airplanes for a three-to-five year survey.

Robert Anderson Pope, New York engineer and chairman of the expedition's organizing committee, issued a statement today in which it was said firm belief still was held in the existence of such land and that Amundsen's observation though of great assistance were by no means final.

He said that at most Amundsen could have inspected less than 10 per cent of the region between Alaska and the pole and that because of his flying height it was deemed likely that even had he flown over land it would have appeared to his observers to have been ice.

The American Arctic expedition, financed by prominent alumni of Harvard, Yale, Princeton and University of Pennsylvania, and with Lieutenant Leigh Wade as chief pilot, plans to make a detailed survey of the great district which has been one of the world's great mysteries, and establish sovereignty of the United States in whatever land might be found. To facilitate future air navigation of the Arctic, permanent bases will be established at Wainwright, Alaska, Herschel Island, Canada, and on any new land discovered.

Liquor Is Issue in Pennsylvania Primaries

The race for the Republican nomination for Senator from Pennsylvania is the hottest in years, due to the frank stands on the prohibition question taken by the leading candidates Senator George Wharton Pepper, (left); Governor Gifford Pinchot, (centre); and Will Jam S. Vane, (right).

Nobody can laugh this off

PRINCE ALBERT has been such a revelation to men who thought that they were pipe-happy that three pipes are smoked today where one was smoked before. That's a fact, Men, just as sure as little bees buzz and polliwogs have tails.

And you don't need a degree from Oxford to figure out the reason: The Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch positively and Prince Albert quality makes it the National Joy Smoke. That means you can cram this fine old favorite into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and turn on all five tubes . . . go to it any way you please . . . slow or fast, morning to midnight!

Yes, sir! P. A. is the taste-teasingest, tongue-pleasingest tobacco that ever tumbled into a briar. Its smoke is the coolest that ever sifted into your system. Its fragrance keeps honeysuckle and your favorite rose fighting for second place.

Put it on your pad now: You've got a date this very day with the smoke-shop that hands out P. A. sunshine in tidy red tins. Decorate yourself with the degree of P. A., and get the highest degree of pleasure out of that old pipe.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and half-round tin tins; and round crystal-glass humidor with sponge-insulation top. All sizes with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.
