

Freddie Erickell, speediest track runner ever to represent Wichita (Kan.) high school, is playing his first year professional baseball. Moreover he's making good. As a member of the Wichita team of the Western League, Erickell is hitting the ball at great clip and fielding superbly. In short, the youngster looks like a small sensation.

THE DANGER SIGNAL!
 When a passenger train was speeding along in the night, unaware of a bridge ahead, a boy climbed on the bridge, waved a lantern and saved the train from wreck. Over a year ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, a distinguished physician, knew of the danger symptoms that threaten health—loss of appetite, languor, weakness, and, being a student of medicinal value of herbs, composed a wonderful remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is a blood purifier. Write for a free copy. Try it today! It's the Danger Signal!

REFORM AMERICA FIRST, SAYS PASTOR

World Grows Resentful of Our Evangelizing Abroad, Asserts the Rev. J. W. Van Zanten, New York World.

What message are the churches bringing to the people of New York? To answer this question The World for the last four years has published reports of pastors' sermons Monday mornings.

A law of life which will help immeasurably in carrying forward the program of world betterment according to Rev. John W. Van Zanten, is found in a passage from the song of Solomon, 1:6—"They have made me the keeper of the vineyards and mine own vineyard have I not kept."

Much of our heated discussions today are over matters which are but remotely related to the facts and realities of every day life. Men are ready to fly at one another's throats over the problem of human origins antedating recorded history—while the real living issues of daily life are overlooked.

World in Disorder. The most obvious and evident consequence of this expansion of view has been to reveal the dead weight of the world's disorder and pain. Especially is this true in America.

est attempts in recorded history to set the world right according to its own accepted ideas of what is right. It has set out to evangelize the world. Nowhere is there more evangelizing zeal than in America. Great problems face the world and with enthusiasm and confidence America tackles them.

There is no denying the fact that America is looked upon by the outside world as a great evangelizer, and if we are going to be honest about it there is no denying the fact that much of it is resented by the rest of the world. And, furthermore, that many of America's program of world betterment are limping most woefully.

Solution at Home. "One of the first things we must learn as a nation and as individuals is that the solution of our greatest problems is right here at home. It is amazing how clearly Jesus saw this and how His whole life-work was built on the clear comprehension of this principle. Never in all recorded history did one look out upon the whole race of men with stronger desire to redeem all life and yet never did one more sternly concentrate Himself on His own small patch of garden than did Jesus Christ. He is supremely the Saviour of the world because he met supremely and perfectly the demands of life in His own personal life and in His own little country.

The path to world mastery is through self-mastery. The hardest lesson we have to learn is to have our own garden first before we attempt to assume direction of the garden of the world. Apply this law to our own problems today. As a nation we stand face to face with menacing evils and we travel hither and you trying to set the world in order. But all the time we forget that it's the state of our own garden which interferes most seriously with our zealous attempts.

"Every great problem waits upon this solution. We long to Christianize the world. We long to bring about disarmament of the world. We long for the day when the kingdom of this world shall become the kingdoms of our God and His Christ. But the path to that fervent hope lies straight through our own garden.

"The world is not looking for a universal censor and schoolmaster to set it in the ways of correction. It is looking for a nation that knows how to be a good neighbor, who keeps his own doorway clean and keeps his own house clean and in order.

Look Out For Borah. The Pathfinder. "Senator Borah has presidential ambitions," says a newspaper article. It is all right for anybody to have "presidential ambitions," this is a free country. But of course Senator Borah has no chance for the presidency.

Over two years ago he declared that the United States would give recognition to the Russian soviet outfit within a year. The Pathfinder said at the time that such a thing would not eventuate—which proves that we knew more about it than he did.

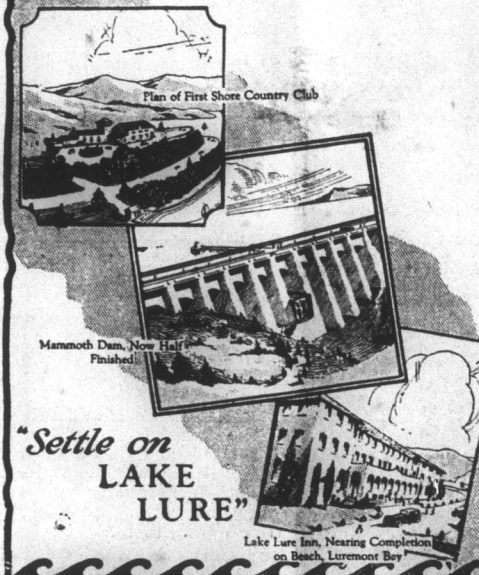

There are so many able, sane and patriotic men in this country that there will never be any necessity to man—irrespective of party—who would make such a blunder as to prophesy the recognition of Russia as Senator Borah did, and who would work for it as he has.

THE Big Hit of 1926 is LAKE LURE.

Carolina People Have Invested Heavily

Several hundred prominent citizens of North and South Carolina are investors in Lake Lure. They have put in more than $4 million dollars. First they bought the company's securities. Now these same investors are buying lakeside home sites.

Lake Lure is the "Big Hit" of 1926 in The Land of the Sky, the great Summer Playground of the South. Lake Lure becomes its largest and most central attraction. The South is rapidly buying up Luremont, its first lakeside residential park. But only the vanguard of the visitors has arrived. The big rush will come after June 1. The opening Day at Luremont is set for June 15. This gives our near neighbors—residents of Carolinas—only 21 days more of advantage in choice of locations at the original prices.

The average cost of a homesite at Luremont is low—too low, compared with what is being paid in resort areas far less attractive—lake frontage—lakeview—frontage on State Highway N. C. 20—all city utilities—plus central situation in a $6,000,000 development.

There can be no question as to prices and values going up. The thing to do is to "cinch" one or more of the choice sites before all are gone—Only 1000 acres can be made ready this year.

Consult district office and arrange an early trip to Luremont via Lake Lure lines.

21 days more "inside track"

Within that time Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana will be here, bidding for Luremont lake front and lake view home sites. Beat them to it! Come along! Those who wait may be too late.

and meaning well—but we have been on the scene long enough to know something about what is going to happen and what is not.

If the Republicans should be so foolish as to nominate Borah for president—which is unthinkable—it would cause a coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans which would defeat him. In other words the fall can't wag the dog—however much it may want to.

Anyone wishing to paste this up on his mirror and wait for time to determine whether it is true or not may do so, and if we prove wrong we will roll a peanut from Eastport, Me., to San Diego, Cal.

Confederate Money. The Pathfinder. Question: I sometimes see Confederate money for sale and most of the bills are new and crisp. Are they reprints from the original plates or are they printed from newly engraved plates, counterfeiters of the old bills? Is there any law against reprinting Confederate money or making copies of it? Answer: The treasury department says it is unlawful to print Confederate money either from the old plates or from bogus plates.

B. & L. Idea Gaining Ground. Charlotte Observer. According to a compilation just made and announced by the State insurance department at Raleigh, more than 10,000 individuals became shareholders in the building and loan associations during the past year, these 10,000 persons representing an increase of approximately 12 per cent. There are today in North Carolina more than 92,000 persons holding shares in building and loan associations.

who has a real appreciation of the building and loan idea recognizes it not only as an economic but as a social force. The building and loan plan is enabling thousands of persons to purchase and pay for homes who would otherwise not be able to do so and when an individual becomes a home owner he becomes a better and more useful citizen, a better husband and father, and a more independent and dependable unit of society generally.

TODAY'S EVENTS Wednesday, May 26, 1926 Greetings to Queen Mary of Great Britain, who today enters upon her 60th year. Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, today rounds out its first score of years as an incorporated city. Philadelphia is to be the meeting place today of the general synod of the Reformed Church in the United States. A New England foreign trade conference has been called to meet in Boston today for a session that will continue over tomorrow. The re-election of James M. Lynch, of Syracuse, N. Y., as president of the International Typographical Union is expected to result from the general election to be held by that organization today.

Says House Betrayed Wilson. Not only did Col. House "betray" President Wilson but House and Lansing were responsible for the failure of Wilson's policies, Dr. Stanton Colt, of London, told the Ethical Culture Society at Philadelphia. "When the president returned to America," she said, "House and Lansing got together with Clemenceau and Balfour, and this little group undid all the brilliant work of the previous session and framed the Versailles treaty."
