Attractive Party Given For Misses Pemberton.

The following from the Asheville Citizen will be of interest here: "Miss Randall Harris, Jr., and Miss Isabelle Harris were joint hostesses yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harris on Hillside street, entertaining with a beautiful bridge party to compliment their cousins, Miss Mary Pemberton and Miss Adele Pemberton, of Concord, who are spending the summer here."

For the party a profusion of roses, sweet peas, and aged robins, arranged in vases and bowls, decorated the home. At the conclusion of the games, a salad course with accessories were served.

Winning the prizes in the games were: Miss Lila Fisher, who scored highest; Miss Mary Webster, who scored second highest; and Mrs. W. B. Schorr, who cut the consolation. The high score prize was an attractive reading lamp, while the second score prize was a pretty perfume atomizer.

The consolation was a dainty hand-made handkerchief. The Misses Pemberton were both recipients of lovely bougainvillee pillows.

Those attending the party yesterday included: Mrs. Henry Harris, Miss Miriam Robinson, Miss Mary Loreck, Miss Mary Webster, Mrs. Bruce Crosswell, Mrs. John Hooks, Mrs. Allen T. CHILD INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Lois Dixon Undergoing Treatment at Concord Hospital as Result of Accident Near Concord. Lois Dixon, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Dixon, of Gasparilla, Fla., suffered a broken leg and other injuries when struck by an automobile on the Concord-Charlotte highway Monday afternoon. The woman driving the car which struck the child resides in Shelby but her name is not known here.

According to information received here the child was standing beside her parents' car when struck, the family having stopped by the side of the road to rest. In passing another car the Shelby woman drove so close to the Dixon car, say the reports, that she struck the child, breaking one leg, inflicting a deep scalp wound and otherwise bruising and scratching her body.

The woman stopped, it is said, and offered to bring the child to the Concord Hospital where she is undergoing treatment. Her offer was declined, however, the child being brought here by her parents. Later, attaches of the hospital said, relatives of the woman telephoned that they would be responsible for any action that might develop as a result of the accident.

The Dixons have been on a tour of the state and were en route from Asheville to Morehead City when the accident occurred. It was said at the hospital that the girl has no serious injuries although she will be confined with her broken leg for several weeks.

The accident occurred near Rocky River bridge on highway 20.

Meeting of Federated Clubs of County.

A delightful meeting of the Federated Clubs of the county was held at the Y on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The president being absent, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. P. M. Misenerheimer, vice president. Minutes were read and approved. A musical program was given. First was a selection by Mr. Kay Peterson on the flute, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Leslie Correll. This was enjoyed very much.

Also Ralph and William Ward with flute and violin and Miss Millicent Ward at the piano. These young people displayed much splendid musical talent and were much appreciated.

Last on the program was a reading by Miss Rose Ellen White, who recited so well, was asked to render the same again at the next meeting.

The business part of the program was then taken up. The following committees were appointed: Program committee—Mrs. K. M. Sappenfeld, Mrs. T. J. White.

REIGN OF TERROR HAS GRIP ON SYRIAN NATION

Stories of Unspeakable Horror Resultant From War Are Being Recounted. Damascus, June 28.—Syria today is writhing in the throes of one of the cruelest wars ever waged, and charges and counter-charges of atrocities of the most revolting sort constantly are being made.

Stories of disemboweled men found along the roadside, of others found with their ears cut off and suffering from the most atrocious kinds of mutilation, are common.

Without going into the matter of responsibility for the situation, the fact remains that Syria, which it was intended should enjoy peace and prosperity under the protection of the league of nations, now is a country where the bandman operates in the public square.

Reports of the alleged atrocities, have been placed on file in every consular consulate in Damascus and their respective governments have been informed of them. The neutral observers feel that the French government would welcome a league of nations investigation into these charges or should conduct one itself.

CHARLESTON AGE DOESN'T BOTHER GANDERSBURG BAND

Rural Orchestra Continues to Play Old Time Music With Staged Incurments. Somewhere in Cabarrus County, near Gandersburg, on the Poplar Tent Road, is a group of musicians who have not allowed their fancies to roam in this age of jazz and the Charleston. Instead, they have stuck to the good old tunes of yesterday, and are most happy when playing their string music at a good old-fashioned square dance.

They are good you will quickly believe after hearing their music or talking with someone who has. They are so good that they were selected to broadcast their music from the radio broadcasting station in Charlotte last winter.

The Gandersburg Band, as it is known, consisting of E. P. Seaford, banjo, Walter Graham, piano, C. O. Cashion, violin, Ralph Archer, violoncello, George Andrews, violin, O. D. Benson bass viol, and Elbert Graham, guitar, play mostly for their own amusement and for the entertainment of their friends. During the winter they get together at the home of one of the members as often as three or four times a week and harmonize, to the delight of all present. The members of the band live within a radius of two miles of each other and during the winter, when there are no crops to look after, all the musicians being farmers, they are able to meet together more frequently than in the summer. They have been playing together now for more than three years. Several people from Concord were invited to the home of E. P. Seaford, last week for the most recent get-together of the band. Among the guests were two newcomers to Concord, P. H. Chesley and Mr. Duncan, of the Concord office of Happy Valley Lake Estates. With their families, these two gentlemen enjoyed three and one-half hours of the old time songs for the stringed instruments.

"I have never heard anything quite like it before, nor quite so good," said Mr. Chesley, in speaking of the concert. "String music is my favorite and these fellows were just about the best I've ever heard." The Lake Estates men met Mr. Seaford on one of their recent trips to the mountains, Mr. Seaford being one of their guests. They began talking of music and Mr. Seaford invited them out to his home to hear the Gandersburg Band.

FIGURES FROM THE AUTO LICENSE BUREAU

The Governor Gets License Plate No. 1.—The Figures Are Interesting. Tribune Bureau Sir Walter Hotel Raleigh, June 28.—Are you interested in "figgers"? Not the Flo Ziegfeld variety, however, but the kind that generally repose on automobile license plates. Anyway, here are some of the "figgers" with which the automobile license division is having to concern itself—and they really are rather interesting.

Of course, everyone knows that the governor of North Carolina gets the license plate bearing number 1 on his face, while other numbers from 2 to 50 go to other State officials in the order in which their office was created by the legislature. These license plates are issued for whatever horsepower the machine of the individual official may be, whether flyover or supercar.

Numbers running from 51 to 100 belong in the "A" series and are issued to cars of 85 horsepower and over $400—rather exclusive, you know. Then the "A" numbers jump to 8001 and run to 1200, because the man that was making them got his "figgers" mixed while he was making up the tags. But they cost $40 too.

All numbers in classification "G" from 101 to 4000 are for automobiles belonging to cities and counties for official use only, and are for all horsepower ratings. Not the "K" plates bearing 1 to 5000 are for taxis. These cost the regular price, plus 50 per cent, plus a $10 tax under schedule "B". Likewise license plates running from 4001 to 8000, with the letter "K" on the plate, are for U-Drive-It cars, and the cost is the same as for taxi licenses.

"B" class licenses, costing $30 for cars of from 30 to 85 horsepower, run from 1301 to 1800. The class "E" license—come hither all ye flyover owners—run from 48,001 to 40,000, consecutively and cost $12.50.

Class "C" license fall into two sequences. Before it was found out that Dodge automobiles would be in this class, only 3,000 of these were ordered, running from 1,801 to 4,800. Later this was increased to 20,000 more.

Paris, June 28.—Hat facts are not amiss with the approach of summer days and holiday excursions that usually go with them.

The great vogue of straw which was predicted some months ago is now mirrored at all the smart modistes. Crocheted straws share the windows with the exotics, all rather shiny and all rather soft hued. About the only way of distinguishing an expensive and first-class straw from the cheaper and current kind is by feeling it and examining it very closely. It should be very supple and have the silky feeling.

It has taken a long time to get women away from the little cloche which they know is very becoming, but they have finally accepted the wide-brimmed, high-crowned hats with all kinds of dents and creases in them which are all the vogue this year.

The crinolines are the daintiest of the summer modes. Lewis is showing two which are especially lovely, one in peach color with a high round crown and straight brim which has a band of grosgrain of the same shade around the crown and on the edge. On the side is an exquisite orchid in peach color and yellow and turquoise-blue. The other is in geranium-red with a wide red velvet ribbon edged with silver around the crown ending in a flat bow and long streamers at the back.

Georgette favors the high crown in all kinds of hats. A smart little panama has a high, round crown with a deep wide crease down the center. A narrow brim in the front is rounded to overlap and is finished in a medium shade of brown with a darker brown and rose-colored grosgrain.

The bengal straws one sees chez Patou are certain to be very popular throughout the summer. Green and beige seem to be his choicest colors. In this same house one to be found Leghorn picture hats to wear with "fou" summer frocks, as well as a number of horsehair ones in lovely pastel shades.

Want to Establish Sanatorium in North Carolina.

Tribune Bureau Sir Walter Hotel Raleigh, June 28.—North Carolina's fame as a healthful state has spread far, it would seem. The State department of agriculture, which of late has received hundreds of inquiries about conditions in this state, from persons living in distant states and foreign countries, has received word from two men, one of whom is a physician, that they wanted to come here and establish sanatoriums. Each stated he had heard of healthful conditions here and said he was looking for a place where nature would aid in the restoration of the sick.

These requests for information were referred to the State board of health, in order that the State agency might supply such information as it deemed necessary. One was from New York, the other from California.

Body of Naked Woman Work of Art, Says Shubert.

Paris, June 28.—"Nothing in the world is more artistic than a naked feminine body," said Lee Shubert, the New York theatrical manager, to a reporter of the Paris edition of The New York Herald-Tribune, when asked concerning Flo Ziegfeld's campaign for modesty of the stage.

"The world has no objection to nudity in sculpture or painting," said Mr. Shubert, "so why object to it behind the footlights? Words and actions may be regular, but the human body never is. Nudity is on the stage to stay, I believe."

PALE & PEAKED

Texas Lady Was Advised by Her Mother To Take Cardui, Which She Did With Good Results.

Hamilton, Texas.—Mrs. Gladys Pollevint of this city, says "At times I suffered awfully with pains across my back and through my sides. I would have to go to bed and stay two or three days at a time. It was very worrisome. I managed to keep going, but... did not enjoy myself at all."

"One day my mother remarked on how bad I looked. She said: 'You look so pale and peaked, why don't you take a bottle of Cardui?' She had taken it herself a number of times, and it had always improved her health, so she thought I had better try it."

"I got the Cardui and began taking it, and from the first dose or two I could see a change for the better. The first thing I noticed was that my appetite was improved. I began to be hungry and I enjoyed my meals. I slept better at night. My rest was so much easier that I got the benefit from it. I kept on with the Cardui and took it for several months. The pains in my back and sides grew less until they finally got bothering me."

"Try Cardui for your case. At all drug stores. NO-170."
