KEEP THE CHILDREN WITH THE MOTHER. This Advisable Whenever Possible. Orphanage Head Tells Kiwanians.

Salisbury, Aug. 2.—The best place for the children of needy families is with the mothers. M. L. Kesler, of the Thomasville Orphanage, told the Salisbury Kiwanians when he addressed them at the Yachin Hotel the other day.

The first thought of friends when children are not getting sufficient support at home is to rush them to an orphanage and as a result the orphanages are not able to take care of all the demands.

And they do not want to take them if there is a possibility of getting them cared for in the home for it is a bad thing to break up a home that can be held together, he said, and urged the Kiwanian Club to help get a sufficiently large appropriation for mothers' aid from the legislature.

He told of the work his institution was doing in this respect. Thus far they have educated the church in 375 cases. The children are still in their homes and their mother receives a regular remittance. This is the best way to care for needy children, he said, and the State should increase its mothers' aid appropriation.

His institution received applications for 1,200 children last year and many had to be turned down for lack of room while many could have been cared for in the home with less expense.

Mothers' aid will not eliminate orphanages, he said, for in many cases the mother are not physically able to stand the burden of raising a family with proper aid.

T. M. Kesler, chairman of the meeting, introduced four girls from the orphanage as members of the best family in North Carolina. They rendered a musical program prior to Mr. Kesler's talk which greatly pleased the club.

Claims Eating Championship. Lewis Tsigirig, proprietor of a lunch wagon at Morgantown, W. Va., claims the eating championship of his district. After eating two cheese sandwiches, six pork chops, a serving of lettuce and a loaf of Italian bread, one of his friends bet him five dollars he could not eat another meal. The bet was accepted and Lewis ate two dozen fried eggs and a loaf of Italian bread, drank two cups of coffee and a bottle of beer. Then he wanted to bet he could eat another half dozen fried eggs and another loaf of bread, but he could not find anyone to take the bet.

County Commissioners IN AUGUST MEETING. Devoted Most of Time to Routine Matters—Want Dental Clinic Extended Month.

Meeting at the court house Monday members of the board of county commissioners devoted most of their time to routine matters although several other questions came up for consideration during the day.

The board agreed that the free dental clinic for school children should be continued an extra month and the State board of health will be asked to make such continuation. The clinic was originally scheduled to run three months but the commissioners have been advised that another month is needed.

Fifty dollars will be given by the county to the winner in a garden contest now being conducted in the county under the supervision of the farm and home demonstration agents, the appropriation having been authorized at the meeting Monday.

It was decided to sell one lot of the county's property at the county home, the board authorizing the sale.

W. M. Sherrill appeared before the board and extended to its members an invitation to attend the Legion "house warming" to be held on Friday evening of this week. Members of the board expressed the hope that they would find it possible to be present.

The board ordered that the county execute a quit claim deed for any county land covered by the Arceby building, the deed to be made to Mrs. Kate Arceby, Mrs. T. N. Spencer and Loan Arceby.

KANNAPOLIS BOY HAS BEEN GONE THREE DAYS. Officers Asked to Aid in Search for Hoyle Smith Who Left His Home on Saturday.

Police officers here and in other parts of the state have been asked to be on watch for Hoyle Smith, Kannapolis youth who left his home Saturday.

Young Smith is about 14 years of age, with light complexion. He was wearing a cap when last seen. He left his home sometime Saturday and Monday officers were asked to aid in the search for him.

R. L. Smith, father of the missing boy, told local officers he knew of no reason for his son's disappearance, but thinks perhaps a desire to see something of the world may have prompted him to leave.

A youth from Morgantown, whose name was not disclosed, was arrested in Kannapolis Saturday and two pints of liquor were taken from him. Relatives were notified that he is being held here and are expected to come for him during the week. This boy is 14, he says.

Reports reaching Charlotte said that the girl died as the result of internal injuries.

Doctors at first held out hope for her recovery but yesterday, news dispatches indicated, her condition had come to be regarded as more serious.

PLANS FOR REUNION OF BATTERY MEN TAKE SHAPE. Hartsell Mill Band Probably Will Be Secured Since Kannapolis Band Cannot Come.

Plans for the reunion of Battery F men, to be held here August 12th, are taking definite shape now, according to Roy C. Sappenfield, general chairman of the arrangements committee.

Col. Albert Cox, Lieut. Colonel Sidney Chambers and Major A. L. Bulwinkle, officers in the 113th Field Artillery, have been invited to attend and address the reunion and each has signified his intention of attending.

It has been learned that the Kannapolis band, engaged for the reunion parade, will be unable to attend and efforts are being made now to secure the excellent band at the Hartsell Mill. The parade from the Legion headquarters, where the business session will be held, to the Hotel Concord, where "outs" will be served, will be one of the features of the day.

Replies have been received already from many members of the battery who expect to be present. The reunion will be the second held by the battymen and the attendance is expected to be much larger than it was last year at the first reunion.

Captain Morris, who served with the battery from its organization until the men were discharged, will be on hand. He is expected to make a brief talk.

WERE NOT HIS SISTERS

Girls Killed at Gastonia Not Relatives of A. P. Operator.

New York, Aug. 2.—C. T. Wright, telegraph operator on the cross country trunk wire of the Associated Press, was back at his key tonight after his instruments had made him the butt of a grim trick of coincidence.

As he was receiving on his wire last night there came to his ears in the staccato clatter of the Morse code a story from Gastonia, N. C., relating that five girls had been killed in a truck accident. On his typewriter he recorded the account and in the list of dead the first two names were Bertina Wright, 16, and Laura Wright, 20, sisters.

Wright finished taking the story and then "broke" the circuit and stopped the wires a moment.

"They are my sisters," he told the chief operator. "I'm afraid I shall have to ask for relief so I can go there."

A substitute took the wire out Wright changing his first plan, telegraphed for confirmation and details. He received confirmation of the girls' death but the reply disclosed that the sisters killed were not his sisters, who lived in the same town and are of the same age.

Wright's elder sister's name is Lucy instead of Laura, but when he took the story from Gastonia the operator believed "Laura" to be an error, all other identification being so similar.
