No More Prohibition Agents.
Several months ago the prohibition enforcement unit was cut almost half in two in the district composed of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, of which Ben C. Sharpe, of Charlotte, is head administrator.

It was believed that later on the force would be increased and there are now 300 applications in Mr. Sharpe's office for these jobs. It was announced last week, however, that the force would not be increased and the 65 men now holding these jobs in this district would be expected to do the work.

The famous fight between John L. Sullivan and Charlie Mitchell at Chantilly, France, in 1888, in which the two gladitors battled 59 rounds with bare knuckles, was for $2,500 a side, or less than many "prelim" fighters received now for ten rounds.

The present season has witnessed more mid-season changes in the mino-league circuits than has been the case in some years,
