

VARYING VIEWS ON FARM RELIEF AIDED BEFORE PRESIDENT

Senator Capper Does Not Agree With the Plan Suggested by Julius Rosenwald.

SENATOR CAPPER NOW OPTIMISTIC

Does Not Think the Republicans Will Suffer Much in the Voting This Fall.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Varying views on the farm legislation proposals were presented at the summer executive offices today by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., guests at the summer white house.

Both Mr. Capper and Mr. Rosenwald agreed substantially in their reports of the business and economic conditions of the country, but while the senator spoke in approval of the price stabilization plan contained in the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill at the recent session of Congress, Mr. Rosenwald said any price stabilization plan was bound to end in a "vicious circle."

The Republican party, Senator Capper predicted, will suffer few setbacks in the congressional elections this fall. He declared President Coolidge was strong in the west, which approved his economy program while being "disappointed somewhat" that he did not support the McNary-Haugen program.

While Mr. Rosenwald declined to discuss politics, he expressed the opinion that reports of "agitation" against the President in the west had been exaggerated, that the farmers "now feel differently" about Mr. Coolidge, and that he is stronger than ever with the people everywhere.

SMITH CHARGED WITH KILLING JOHN DERHAM

Was Remanded to Jail For Another Week After the Hearing.

Centerville, England, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Alphonse Francis Austin Smith, who was remanded last week on a charge of the attempted murder of John Thomas Derham at Stella Maria Villa, was arraigned before a magistrate today on a special charge. He again was remanded for a week.

Smith, who was a grandson of the late Hugh Ryan, of the Canadian Railroad building fame, and Derham who came of a well known British family, are alleged to have fought over the attentions Derham had been paying to Mrs. Smith, the former Catherine White. Derham died of a bullet wound several hours after the quarrel.

Smith, who on his previous appearance in court, had his face heavily swathed with bandages, came into court today with the bandages removed, revealing severe bruises. The only witness today was a police inspector who testified that on August 14 he told the prisoner, then in Maidstone prison, that Derham had died. To this, the inspector said Smith replied: "I am not guilty."

DWYER GRANTED BAIL PENDING HIS APPEAL

Bond in Sum of $50,000 Allowed by Federal Judge Manton.

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Federal Judge Manton today granted the application of Wm. V. Dwyer, head of an alleged gigantic ring operating on land and sea for release on bail pending the outcome of his appeal from the conviction in Federal court for conspiring to violate the prohibition law. His bail was fixed at $50,000.

Rail for E. C. Cochran, paymaster of the alleged ring, convicted with Dwyer, was fixed at $25,000.

Judge Manton, in granting a writ of error, thereby giving Dwyer admission to bail, said that "within the case there are debatable questions which at least formulate a reasonable doubt as to whether the conviction will stand."

MEXICAN TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO BORDER

Placed on Duty Opposite Columbus, N. M., to Watch For Disorders There.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Mexican troops have been ordered to the border opposite Columbus, N. M., according to Juarez military officials, following disorders of the planned movement of a band of 100 heavily armed men into Mexico in a revolutionary movement.

The plot, discovered by U. S. agents, was reported to them by Mexican officials at Chihuahua City, and Juarez. Details have not yet been revealed by the investigating forces.

Additional federal troops have been ordered to Juarez from Chihuahua City, it was said, further strengthening the garrison which was augmented yesterday by the arrival of 175 soldiers. Several large shipments of ammunition also have been received from the interior.

Barr Is Electrocuted

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Charles Barr, Memphis "petting party" bandit, who shot and killed W. O. Spencer the night of May 23, 1923, and wounded his companion, Miss Laura Wheaton, on the outskirts of Memphis, was electrocuted here at 4:47 a. m. today.

The 22-year-old negro died without confessing to the slaying. During his last hours his mother conversed with him.

Barr went to his death calmly. He answered in the negative to a direct question as to his guilt. Barr was charged with the murder of Spencer in July, 1924, more than a year after the slaying, when a wrist watch pawned by the wife of Barr was recovered and identified as the one taken from the arm of Miss Johnson.

Barr confessed before officers in Memphis to the murder of Spencer and also to the double slaying of Duncan Waller and Mrs. Ruth McElwain Tucker, who were killed on the night of January 27, 1923, in an automobile on a Memphis suburban highway. He later repudiated the entire confession.

Gala Week For Dare County And The Many Visitors There

(By Staff Correspondent.) Fort Raleigh, Roanoke Island, Aug. 20.—Men and women who have done great things have had monuments erected to their memory and have had their praises sung in history, but rarely if ever has a celebration been held 339 years after a baby was born in commemoration of the birth of that baby, whose span of life is traceable in history for barely nine days, and then is lost in oblivion.

Yet that is the story of Virginia Dare, born August 18, 1587 on Roanoke Island, was baptized—and after that mystery so deep that none of the facts connected with her life after her baptism have ever been learned. But to quote Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, the chief speaker at the celebration of Virginia Dare's 339th birthday on the site of old Fort Raleigh on Roanoke Island on Wednesday last, "Virginia Dare was in very truth a protoplasm, a humble germ of this mighty race of English speaking Americans which in less than 350 years has spread over practically the whole of this great continent."

And that was the reason nearly 5,000 people, from all up and down the coast of Eastern North Carolina, from its inland counties, and from other states made the pilgrimage by land and water to the birthplace of this first white of white

SECRET SESSION IS HELD BY TRAINMEN TO DISCUSS PLANS

Second Day of Convention for Trainmen of Carolinas Started With Closed Session.

ELECT OFFICERS DURING THE DAY

It Is Predicted That Delegates Will Choose City of Charleston for Next Convention.

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The convention of the Bi-State Boosters Association of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the ladies auxiliary entered into its second day here today with a secret session of the organization. During the session it was expected that W. G. Lee, grand president of the brotherhood, and other national officers will address the association.

During the day officers for the next year will be elected, and the brotherhood will select its next annual meeting place. Last night opinion was expressed by members that Charleston, S. C., would be named, although several other cities both in North Carolina and South Carolina have entered their bids.

Today's session has been pointed out by members of the organization as probably the most significant of the convention. In addition to the election of officers and the choosing of another meeting place the convention will be addressed tonight by officers of the grand lodge and executives of a number of railroads.

The convention will adjourn tomorrow after the morning business session.

20,000 New Pupils Expected

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—More than 20,000 new pupils are being expected to enter the school room for the first time when the schools of the state open for their fall terms in a few weeks, according to A. T. Allen, state superintendent of public instruction. Preparations are now under way to take care of this tremendous increase in the school population of the State.

To offset the claims of growers who base their claims on f. o. b. sales, the railroads will probably argue that there are few f. o. b. sales, and that instead claims should be based on prices quoted four or five days later, when the peaches actually reached the market.

For instance, the prices at Aberdeen on August 5th were from $1.00 to $1.25 a package (crate or basket of one bushel). On August 7th the price had declined from 10 to 15 cents a bushel, or more. On these same days these peaches were selling in Chicago, Washington, New York, Baltimore and other large market centers at from $1.50 to $2.25 a bushel, and from five to seven days later these prices had declined from 25 to 40 cents a bushel, both on f. o. b. sales and destination sales. This is destined to be an important factor in settling the claims.

Some in the sandhills section hope that a settlement can be reached with the railroads and the fruit growers express without litigation, but the majority do not think this will be possible, and look for a large number of lawsuits.

PEACH GROWERS WANT DAMAGES FOR FRUIT

Declare Inability to Get Cars Caused Big Loss to Them in Recent Weeks.

Tribune Bureau Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, Aug. 20.—Lawsuits involving claims of at least $100,000 for damages resulting from delay in receiving refrigerator cars when ordered will probably be filed against the railroads or the fruit growers express or both by peach growers who suffered heavy losses to fruit in shipment, according to representatives of the State markets division of the department of agriculture, just back from the peach orchards of the sandhills. Literally hundreds of peach growers are going to bring suit as the result of their fruit having to wait from one to three days on the loading platforms, waiting for refrigerator cars, which they claim had been ordered in ample time, but which the railroads failed to deliver.

The growers, who are fortified by inspection certificates, showing the condition of the fruit when packed, and again when loaded, say that fruit which was in perfect condition when packed, and loaded on the platforms ready to be put in the cars, after having to sit in the sun from one to three days, became too ripe for shipment and when it reached market scarcely enough to pay transportation charges, and sometimes not that much.

The growers will base their claims as to prices of the fruit on the prices quoted in the Market News, published daily at Aberdeen by the market division during the shipping period, and containing the wire reports of prices in all the market centers.

The railroads, on the other hand, will probably resist the claims on the grounds that prices were very low anyway, and that a delay of a day or two in shipment had very little if any effect on the final selling price of the peaches, and certainly not as much as will be charged in the complaints. The railroads are also likely to claim that the rains and wet weather in July caused the peaches to exceed normal size, making them soft and juicy and hard to pack, impairing their keeping qualities.

To offset the claims of growers who base their claims on f. o. b. sales, the railroads will probably argue that there are few f. o. b. sales, and that instead claims should be based on prices quoted four or five days later, when the peaches actually reached the market.

For instance, the prices at Aberdeen on August 5th were from $1.00 to $1.25 a package (crate or basket of one bushel). On August 7th the price had declined from 10 to 15 cents a bushel, or more. On these same days these peaches were selling in Chicago, Washington, New York, Baltimore and other large market centers at from $1.50 to $2.25 a bushel, and from five to seven days later these prices had declined from 25 to 40 cents a bushel, both on f. o. b. sales and destination sales. This is destined to be an important factor in settling the claims.

Georgia Banks Reopened. (By International News Service.) Clarksville, Ga., Aug. 20.—State banks of Connelia, Demorest and Habershaw, which were closed as a result of the failure of the Bankers Trust Company of Atlanta, Ga., more than a month ago, were re-opened this week, and are now in position to handle the banking needs of these communities under a re-organization, it was announced.

Stockholders of the banks lost about $120,000 due to the Bankers Trust failure, but stockholders put up $200 per share to wipe out the deficit and citizens of the communities voluntarily took stock in the re-organized banks to enable them to reopen.

MORE LIQUOR THAN EVER IN CAROLINA SAYS BEN SHARPE

Dry Director for Carolinas Says Lack of Money Is Making His Work Much Harder.

NEW SOURCES OF THE LIQUOR

Most of It Coming Along the Seaboard in Automobiles, in the Opinion of the Director.

Charlotte, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Blaming the "policy" of Washington authorities, in cutting his force, Ben C. Sharpe, Federal prohibition administrator for the Carolinas and Georgia, has issued a statement declaring "there is more liquor in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia than there has been in the last three years."

But running, Mr. Sharpe declares, has shifted from the mountains to the seaboard, and Florida and Georgia "are sending more liquor up the coast and overland by automobile than ever before."

The administrator said the increased traffic was a natural result of the Washington officials ordering him to cut his force "to the equivalent of what was formerly an ample Federal force for one state."

Reply to Complaint. Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Prohibition officials here today replied to a complaint of Ben Sharpe, administrator for the Carolinas and Georgia with a demand that he develop greater coordination between state and Federal forces.

There were definite hints that he would be called upon also to explain some of his references to the present liquor situation in the district. James Jones, director of prohibition, said there had been reductions in the Federal forces in all areas where executive state enforcement laws were in force.

"We must depend a great deal on the states," Jones said. "We have got to concentrate our forces in New York and other states which have no enforcement acts, or which are lax."

Although Sharpe's force was reduced somewhat, it was indicated officials here were not pleased with the way in which he had allocated those he does have. It is understood he has a large majority of his agents in North Carolina.

"We must depend on the sheriffs and other law officers to aid us in fighting the moonshiners," Jones said, "while the Federal agents give their attention to getting at the larger sources of supply."

Mr. Sharpe Not Found

Charlotte, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Ben Sharpe, federal prohibition administrator for the 8th district, could not be located this afternoon following issuance of a statement last night in which he declared the Carolinas and Georgia were more besieged with bootleggers and rum runners than they had been in three years.

Assistants at district headquarters, however, said that no official on duty there was authorized to discuss the statement of James Jones, director of prohibition in Washington, who said Sharpe should work more in coordination with State officers.

Members of Mr. Sharpe's office said they knew nothing of their chief's whereabouts.

It is recalled, however, that the district forces were recently concentrated in Western North Carolina where in situations were given that conditions were worse than in any other section.

Complaint was made also at the time that the administrator cut his force, that he had shown favoritism in North Carolina in the retention of agents. Several South Carolinians made this criticism including Congressional representatives.

THE COTTON MARKET

Opened Steady at Advance of Two Points to Decline of Seven Points.

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 7 points. There was some selling on the relatively easy showing of Liverpool, and large private crop figures, but the market soon steadied on renewed covering. Traders generally seemed to be paying more attention to smaller private crop indications than the maximum figures, and the rally after the opening also was promoted by reports of further showers in the eastern belt.

December sold up from 16.60 to 16.75 and the general market was steady with prices about 1 to 3 points net higher at the end of the first hour.

Three more private mid-month crop reports were issued, one of them estimating the condition at 68.2 and the indicated crop 15,500,000 bales, while another placed the condition at 63.4 per cent, and the crop indication at 15,800,000. The third report made the condition 62.3 and indicated yield 14,000,000.

Cotton futures opened steady: October 16.75; December 16.73; January 16.77; March 16.97; May 17.08.

Execution Taken in Wife Affection Case

Asheville, Aug. 19.—Legal steps to collect the $3,000 judgment obtained against Dr. Wallace C. Murphy, former superintendent of public instruction in Buncombe, were taken today, when attorneys for Dr. Nicholas A. Mandelous, plaintiff in the action, secured an execution against the home of the former superintendent.

The trial of this case caused something of a sensation recently when Dr. Mandelous alleged that the superintendent had alienated his wife's affections and had used his official position to seduce the wife of the plaintiff, who was at that time a teacher in one of the county schools. Dr. Mandelous asked damages in the sum of $50,000.

Mail Order Fiance, Broke, Jilts Girl; Repents, Recoups, And Married

(By International News Service) Gardner, Mass., Aug. 20.—Miss Anita Desmaris, 20, jilted at the portals of the church, has forgiven her "mail order" fiance, and they will be married after all.

The girl's broken heart was quickly mended when Anthony G. Meuer, of West Allis, Wis., reached her car for the first time in his life and convinced her that it was all an accident.

And although she had forewarned all men forever, Miss Desmaris changed her mind, as girls sometimes do, and took him back. Many months ago Anita began a correspondence with Meuer, an electrician in the western city, making his acquaintance through the medium of a publication. Letters were exchanged and pho-

POINCARÉ CABINET TO AID THE FRANCE

Program of Restrictions to Prevent the Exportation of Money Has Been Decided On.

GRAIN AFFECTED BY THE ORDER

The Cabinet Is Anxious to Keep at Home Money Now Going Out of the Country.

Paris, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Poincaré cabinet today outlined a drastic program of restrictions in an effort to prevent exportation of French money abroad and to restore the franc to stability.

The restrictions deal with the importation of grain and all other products, as well as curtailment in the use of necessities produced within France.

Additional limitation on the importation of wheat by the compulsory production of other grains in foreign countries, as outlined in yesterday's meeting of the cabinet, is part of the present program.

REPUBLICANS REFUSE TO GIVE UP HOPES

Think Their Candidate For Governor Has Chance in Tennessee. (By International News Service.)

Dayton, Tenn., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Republicans of Tennessee, encouraged by the factional bitterness engendered by the Democratic primary campaign of Governor Austin Peay and his chief opponent Hill McAlister, are said to be considerably more optimistic of their chances of success in the November general election.

This optimism has directed attention of members of the party to the gubernatorial nominee, Walter White, of Dayton, former state senator, who received the unanimous endorsement of his party for the honor, and was unopposed. That this nomination may prove something more than an empty honor was the belief expressed by many Republicans.

White was born 44 years ago on a small farm in Meigs county. He moved to Rhea county as a young man, where he was engaged in school activities for twenty years. His first job was that of a "hired man" on a neighbor's farm at $10 a month and board. He worked his way through Chattanooga Normal University, Tennessee State University and Cumberland Law School. He is superintendent of education for Rhea county, the site of the celebrated Scopes evolution trial, and it was through his efforts that prosecution of Scopes was instituted.

He has served as representative, state senator and was formerly editor of the Rhea County News. He will launch an active campaign about August 15th, he has announced, stressing education and good roads as his chief issues.

MAN KILLED IN FALL FROM GEER HIGHWAY

Apparently Took Eyes From Road and Car Ran Off Precipice.

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Plunging 300 feet down the side of a mountain in a light touring car, Albert Hunt, 64, of near Greenville, was killed; Tho. Thomas and Theo. Ponder, of Danville, were painfully though not seriously injured late Thursday afternoon on Geer Highway near Caesar's Head, about 30 miles north of this city.

The three men had been in the mountains since Monday and were returning to their homes in this section when the accident occurred. Mr. Hunt, driving the car, evidently had his attention attracted to the rearrangements of packages by Ponder and Thomas. The car left the center of the road and skidded in the soft dirt to the edge of the precipice, where it fell almost perpendicularly for 300 feet.

Hunt was thrown against the edge of a cliff receiving a fractured skull and other injuries which caused his almost immediate death. Thomas and Ponder were thrown from the car during the long fall, each sustaining painful injuries. Thomas and Ponder were taken to their homes by a bus driver who first discovered the accident. The light car was demolished apparently beyond repair when it crashed into a tree.

Another Clue in Hall-Mills case

Jersey City, Aug. 20.—(AP)—State Senator Simpson, special prosecutor in the Hall-Mills murder investigation, said today he had received a letter stating that a man named Tierso, proprietor of an inn near New Brunswick, picked up a gold brooch at the scene of the murder a few days after the bodies of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were found.

The letter said Tierso turned the brooch over to Fred David, chief of Middlesex county detectives.

The man who wants to make his dreams come true must wake up.
