CROWN QUEEN IN REGAL POMP

Crowds Hail Ascent of Kannapolis Girl to Speedway Throne; Beauty Marks Coronation Ceremony.

The most beautiful event of the day's program at the Charlotte speedway yesterday was the coronation of Queen Ada Sweatte, of Kannapolis, who made a pretty picture in her queenly robes as she and her maids of honor made their appearance in the bowl just prior to the final racing event.

O. Max Gardner placed the glittering crown upon the queen's head in formal ceremony and presented her with a silver loving cup.

Miss Sweatte, gowned befittingly in royal robes of satin, trimmed elaborately with ermine and pearls, made her way down the promenade between the runway leading to the starter's box, followed by Miss Allene Moose and Mrs. Jean Abernathy, both attired in the newest modes of the fall season. Other attendants were Misses Harriett Orr, Bernice Loyal, Alice McKinley, Marie Graeber and Blanche Walters.

After the coronation and introduction of Miss Sweatte, the party was driven about the track. Upon their return they proceeded to the royal box. Miss Sweatte was presented the grand prize of $250, a fern stand given by Erskine Smith, a cedar chest by Parker-Gardner, and a hat box by Tate-Brown Company.

LATE FARM NEWS.

(By the County Agents) Washington, N. C., Aug. 24.—(AP)—The dairy business may become a new enterprise in Beaufort county! This report is made by County Agent E. P. Welch, who says that a number of farmers throughout the county are starting the business on a small scale and are arranging to establish a milk route through one section of the county. Many purebred cows are being placed and farmers are taking an unusual interest in the new business, says the county agent.

Polkton, N. C., Aug. 24.—(AP)—The peach growers in Anson county have shipped 110 carloads of fruit this season, in addition to selling many truck loads to nearby markets, reports County Agent J. W. Cameron. One farmer, J. L. Teal, of McFarlan, has shipped 2,500 bushels from a five-acre orchard and sold more than 300 bushels, which were too ripe to ship. While this last was the best yield from any orchard in the county, Mr. Cameron, in announcing results declares that growers are in general pleased with their yields.

Whiteville, N. C., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Tobacco in the Hallsboro section of Columbus county is being damaged by a heavy nematode infestation, reports County Agent J. P. Uinery.

On the farm of G. W. Frink the crop has been practically ruined and on many other farms in the section the crop will scarcely pay the cost of fertilizer and other production costs. Throughout the county the crop is about three weeks late, says Mr. Quinery, and growers are rushed to get it in during the short marketing season.

Old Books Bring $1,100.

(By International News Service) Greenville, S. C., Aug. 20.—Three dusty old books have been sold by the Tusculum college to a Boston book-dealer for $1,100. The books are early American and rare, consequently their high value. Two of them were sermons, and one was printed on the first American printing press and was owned by the printer's wife, Sarah Green.

A camera has been made for the Army Air Service which will take photographs at an altitude of 35,000 feet. The camera is 4 feet long and weighs 100 pounds.

Old-Time Dance is Coming Back; Exit Charleston. New York, Aug. 23.—Old fashioned dancing has staged a revival in this country and the eccentric Charleston is on the wane, leaders of the ball room art asserted today at the first joint convention of the International and the American National Associations of Dancing Masters.

to the revival of the older forms of the dance. "The Charleston never was as popular as most people thought," said Thomas Birchler, of Chicago, editor of The Tensichorean. "It is too dangerous a dance and requires too much skill, time and study to be popular and it takes up too much space in the ball room."

According to one investigator the man who takes a walk alone in New York runs just 38 times more risk of being held up and robbed than if he took the same walk in London.
