COURT CASES

Several Cases Disposed of in Cabarrus Superior Court During Wednesday. Wednesday was a profitable day for Cabarrus Superior Court, an unusually large number of civil cases being disposed of during the day.

In the case of the Mishawaka Rubber & Woolen Manufacturing Co. vs. Foil Mercantile Co. a verdict was ordered for the plaintiff. It was said the complaint had not been answered although filed on time, so a verdict of $377.46 with interest from December 15, 1925, was ordered for the plaintiff.

In the case of Ola Isenhour, administratrix, vs. Dora Elsie Bundy, a verdict for the plaintiff was returned by the jury. Damages in the sum of $500 were awarded.

The case of the Fixall Motor Co. vs. N. H. Linker was continued as was the case of Silar Starnes vs. A. J. Linker.

A compromise was reported in the case of Cabarrus Motor Co. vs. J. L. Ketter and the case was ordered dismissed as of nonsuit.

In the case of Mable Hepler, executrix, vs. J. Frank Cook a verdict of $150 for the plaintiff was returned. The defendant is to pay interest on that amount from March 9, 1925, and all costs in the case.

It was announced that the case of J. B. Colt Co. vs. G. C. and Mrs. G. C. Miller had been settled out of court. The defendants were ordered to pay the costs.

The court being advised that no answer had been filed in the case of P. J. Hartsell vs. W. T. Hooks, a verdict for the plaintiff was directed. The plaintiff is to sell an auto, cows and mules on which he has a mortgage to get the sum of $455.35 and all costs in the case. Any surplus will go to the defendant.

The plaintiff also won in the case of Furst and Thomas vs. J. L. Smith, A. V. Soop and G. F. Rogers. The defendants are to pay $405.29 with interest from November 8, 1925.

One judgment passed by the presiding judge, P. A. McElroy during the trial of criminal cases, was ordered stricken out by him yesterday and the defendant Fannie White was given another chance. Prayer for judgment was continued for two years upon condition that the defendant be of good behavior and appear at the April and October terms of Cabarrus Superior Court for two years to prove good behavior.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. J. H. BARNHARDT

Held Wednesday Afternoon in the Methodist Church at Mt. Pleasant.

The funeral service over the remains of Mrs. J. H. Barnhardt, who died Wednesday morning at her home in Winston-Salem, was held in the Methodist Church at Mt. Simmons Wins Again From Fayetteville.

Concord fans were advised last night that the Gibson team won another hard fought game yesterday from Fayetteville. The score was 5 to 3.

No report of the game was carried in morning newspapers received here, so details are lacking. It is reported that Simmons was on the mound for the Concord team and pitched his usual steady and effective game. Fans here made inquiry about the game and were given the score only, so the manner in which Gibson tucked away the game will not be known perhaps, until the team returns.

This is the second game Gibson has won this week from the Highlanders.

Work at the Fair Grounds.

Carpenters who have been building new stables, a new hog house and a new gate at the fair grounds, in addition to doing repair work are expected to finish their job by the middle of next week and then the grounds will be ready for the fair in October. The weeds and grass in all parts of the grounds have been cut and the roads put in good shape.

COMMISSIONERS WILL SPEED UP MAINTENANCE

Decide to Go More Slowly on Construction and Faster on Maintenance at Monthly Meeting.

Because of the damage done to the county roads during the recent heavy rains, the county highway commissioners, at their regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon in the office of W. G. Brown, county engineer, decided to go more slowly on construction work so that part of the equipment being used might be turned over to maintenance work.

Feeling it most important that the roads in the county be put in proper shape for the winter, the members of the highway commission agreed that a let-up should be made in the construction work now going on in order that the labor and materials might be used for maintenance work. This increased maintenance work will begin immediately, it having been decided by the commissioners that the roads should be in tip-top condition by the beginning of cold weather.

Many of the county roads have been washed out considerably by recent downpours and it is the purpose of the road commissioners to have these washouts filled and other defects in the highways remedied before bad weather sets in.

JACK WILL SERVE "SENTENCE" AT HOME

Charlotte Boy Submits to Larceny Charges But Judge Declines to Send Him to Roads.

Charlotte, Sept. 1.—Jack Stuart, 16, who recently escaped from the county jail, submitted to charges of larceny in superior court here today and was sent home under parole by Judge James L. Webb.

Judge Webb declared he would not send the boy to the roads. He recommended instead the method of home correction.

Solicitor John G. Carpenter declined to ask a road sentence.

"I wouldn't ask your honor to send this boy to the roads," he said. "But there should be some suitable institution for the disposal of such cases."

"For the cost of three miles of paved highway this county could build just such an institution and a great problem would be solved."

"I am going to ask the legislature for such a home. And if they find that this boy, or any such boy, is not worth three miles of paved road North Carolina will hang her head in shame."

BABY DESERTED HERE STILL AT HOSPITAL

Illness of Welfare Officer Has Prevented Him From Acting in Case.

The baby boy left by unknown persons at the home here of Dr. J. S. Lafferty last week, is still at the Concord Hospital where he was taken soon after discovered in the living room of the Lafferty home by Mrs. Lafferty.

J. H. Brown, county welfare officer, recuperating from a recent operation has been prevented by illness from giving as much attention to the case as he had expected to.

Mr. Brown was up last Sunday for a short while but his condition again Monday was such that he was forced to remain at home and his condition has not yet sufficiently improved for him to fully investigate the case and find a home for the babe.

It is reported that several Concord couples have signified a willingness to give the child a home but so far as is known Mr. Brown has not talked with these couples and therefore has reached no decision in the case.

Mrs. J. H. Barnhardt.

Winston-Salem Journal.

The death of Mrs. Hattie Misenheimer Barnhardt, wife of Dr. J. H. Barnhardt, was the occasion of profound sorrow among a large number of people representing a wide area of this state.

Being the wife of a Methodist minister, who was elevated to the important post of presiding elder, Mrs. Barnhardt had the privilege of meeting many people in different parts of the state. Since she was a woman of intelligent sympathies for people in all their experiences and was an energetic and effective worker in church enterprises, her personality became impressed upon both people and their communities.

Her death is all the more to be regretted because she had reached that period of life when seasoned character is most fruitful in influencing human lives.

At such a time as this, her flesh and blood and near friends must rely for consolation upon the truth that death when it deals with a good person is like a die of great value that presses into the consciousness of those who had been touched by it.

The number of unemployed in Great Britain on July 26 was 1,805,500, according to official figures. This was 407,500 more than a year ago. The figure does not take into account the unemployed miners.

THE WISE GUY.

A New Production Coming to the Concord Sees James Kirkwood as Evangelist.

Frank Lloyd, who produced the well remembered "Sea Hawk," has just completed a new production for First National which promises to surpass in interest his previous achievement.

This is "The Wise Guy," with James Kirkwood in the title role. The picture is booked to be shown at the Concord Theatre tomorrow and Saturday.

Other featured in the cast of "The Wise Guy" are Betty Compton, Mary Astor, Mary Carr, George F. Marion and George Cooper. It was especially written for the screen by Jules Furthman.

"The Wise Guy" sees Kirkwood in the role of a crook who turns to evangelism as a means of making money. He traveled from town to town with a big tent-tabernacle, and while he holds the populace of the towns spellbound with his eloquent cant his confederates go through the congregation and strip their pockets.

In the end, however, the faking preacher's holy words convince his "gang" and finally even himself, and they decide to go straight.

It is a powerful picture, one of the strongest that Frank Lloyd has ever made, and with a story like the thunder of a cannon.

Kannapolis Wins at Siler City.

The Towlers from Kannapolis were too much for the Siler City team in their game yesterday at Siler City, the Cabarrus county team winning 7 to 0.

A wet diamond hampered the work of the two teams but the Kannapolis outfit hit with such abandon that even the mud could not stop the scoring. The Towlers secured eleven hits and made but one error. Kannapolis scored three times in the second, three in the eighth and once in the ninth.

"Lefty" Sherrill did the pitching for the winners and he allowed but four hits. They were too scattered to bring results.

McClain did the catching for Kannapolis while Sanderson pitched and Buckner caught for the losers.

Old Soldiers Reunion.

The reunion of Confederate soldiers will be held at Rimer Friday, tomorrow. Interesting exercises will be held, and dinner will be served on the grounds. All are invited. This is a reunion of all Confederate soldiers in Cabarrus and adjoining counties.

Thomasville, Sept. 1.—Rev. G. O. Ritchie, of Faith, has been called to the pastorate of Grace Lutheran church in this city and it is learned that he has resigned his field at Faith and has accepted the call to this church. The membership feels that good fortune has come to the church and community in the acceptance of this gifted Christian man and able minister of the gospel. Rev. C. Ross Ritchie who has supplied the church for the summer has two more Sundays before leaving for school at Columbia where he has one more year before graduation. The young man has made a fine impression on the community during his short stay.
