Three Weeks Term of Cabarrus Superior Court Ended Friday Morning.

The August term of Cabarrus Superior Court, which continued for three weeks, was adjourned Friday morning when the civil calendar was completed. Only one case was heard during the morning, the remainder of the session being devoted to motions.

The jury returned its verdict in the case of Federal Finance and Credit Co. vs. S. C. Pate, returning a verdict for the plaintiff.

The following cases were ordered continued:

M. L. Stirewalt vs. G. W. Earnhardt.

Brown Contracting Co. vs. John Sloan.

J. B. Colt & Co. against W. C. and Mrs. W. C. Myers.

Counsel for the defendant gave notice of appeal in the case of N. A. Archibald vs. N. L. Swaringen and D. L. Barnhardt, a verdict of $1,300 having been returned for the plaintiff.

The case of R. M. Housel vs. M. L. Furr, in which the plaintiff was given the verdict, also was apealed, as was the case of Ola Isenhour, administratrix, against Dora Elsie Bundy.

The court directed that $25 be paid to the firm of Armfield, Sherrin and Barnhardt for services in the Amanda Bost case. This firm was named to represent the negro woman when she was tried for arson.

VETERANS TICNIC AT RIMER ATTRACTS MANY

Biggest Crowd in History Present for Annual Event Planned for the Veterans.

Twenty-two Confederate veterans and hundreds of their relatives and friends gathered Friday at Rimer for the annual picnic given there for the heroes of the War Between the States.

The attendance this year was the largest in the history and various parts of North Carolina were represented in the vast multitude which gathered to hear the instructive program and mingle again for a day with heroes of gray.

The program opened with an address of welcome by Miss Williams, of Salisbury, and the response was made by Joe Kestler.

Among the speakers were Rev. Clifford Fisher, D. B. Coltrane, of Concord, G. H. Bost and Rev. W. R. Brown. Mr. Fisher delivered the principal address and Mr. Brown closed the speaking program. All of the speakers were heard with interest.

The dinner was served in picnic style and was offered in variety and abundance.

Several pictures of the veterans were made and if they turn out to be good each veteran will receive one. J. T. Wyatt, of Faith, known throughout the state as "Venus of Faith" was present, and will send his story of the picnic to the various newspapers for which he writes.

ADS AIDED FRIGIDAIRE

Newspaper Drive Sent Sales to 25,000 Plants a Month.

Recent price reductions for Frigidaire electric home refrigerators is a testimonial of the effectiveness of newspaper advertising, R. E. Parsons, Kansas City distributor, stated last week.

"In the six years preceding last December," Mr. Parsons said, "only 90,000 Frigidaires had been sold. A newspaper advertising campaign was decided upon, with the result 200,000 plants have been sold and sales now are averaging 25,000 installation of refrigerating apparatus a month."

The Frigidaire plant in Dayton, O., now is being enlarged at a cost of $20,000,000.

Relaying Tracks of Southbound Road
Albemarle Press.

Blasting through solid rock of unusual hardness to a depth of 40 feet at one point and to lesser depths for a considerable distance is on of the tasks of the tracks of the Winston-Salem Southbound railroad between Southmont and High Rock, north of here, according to Mr. F. A. Truett, agent for this railway company here.

The rock in the little mountain where the cut will be made for the new bed of the tracks on higher ground to get above the waters of the proposed Tallassee Power company lake has been pronounced by geologists as among the hardest stone in America. It is reported that fills in the flood area will be built of rock, which may be secured probably from the proposed rock cut. Reports brought here from that section say that a Roanoke concern is expected to do the work and will begin at once. Contract is said to have been awarded for new crossties for the five-mile section.

At High Rock, it is said, the track will be raised eight feet and the depot moved to higher ground.

Prominent Church Woman of Charlotte Died There Thursday Night.

After an illness of about three weeks, Mrs. James W. Pharr, aged 64 years, prominent church woman of Charlotte, died at her home, 6 Travis Avenue, Thursday at 11:50 p. m. She was the mother of W. Neal Pharr, of Concord.

The funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. A. A. McGeachy, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church.

The pall bearers will be: W. E. Price, W. R. Wearn, John F. Jamison, Dr. Oren Moore, John W. Shepherd, Dr. C. M. Strong, James T. Porter, and W. M. Matthews. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery.

Pharr, pastor of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, of Wilmington; William Neal Pharr, of Concord; John Boyd Pharr and Fred Pharr, of Charlotte and Joe Pharr, a student at Baltimore Dental College. The daughter is Miss Isabell Pharr, of Charlotte.

Two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Baches, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Miss Rose B. Thompson, of Philadelphia, and one brother, Samuel Thompson, of Williamsport, Pa., also survive her.

SCHOOL TRUCKS TO BE STARTED ON MONDAY

First Truck to Be Operated by County Schools Will Bring Students to This City.

Truck No. 1 of the sixteen recently purchased by the county school board, will be put in operation Monday and will serve high school students from the Poplar Tent and Cannon-Voile schools.

The truck will bring students from the two schools to the Concord high school, arrangements having been made whereby the county pays for their tuition for six months and the parents for three months.

The driver of the truck lives just beyond Cox's mill and when the Cannon-Voile and Poplar Tent schools are opened he will take children from his neighborhood to these schools en route to Concord with the high school students.

Fifteen students completed courses at the two schools this year and have enrolled in the high school here. The truck will leave the home of the driver each morning at 7:30 and is scheduled to reach Concord at 8:30, fifteen minutes before work begins at the high school.

Prof. J. B. Robertson, superintendent of the public schools of the county who announced the schedule for this truck, stated further that other trucks would be put in operation on the thirteenth.

These trucks will carry high school students from the Gilwood school to Winecoff and from the Bethpage school to Kannapolis.

High school students from the Coddle Creek school, which embraces Iredell county territory, will attend school at Mooresville and a truck will be put in operation for them.

St. Swithin's Day.

July 15th is St. Swithin's day. According to an old superstition, if it rains on St. Swithin's day it will rain on the 40 succeeding days. The legend says that St. Swithin, bishop of Winchester, who died in 862, desired to be buried in the churchyard in order that "the sweet rain of heaven might fall upon his grave." When he was canonized the monks thought they would honor St. Swithin by removing his body into the choir, and they set July 15th as the day for the ceremony. But it rained on that day and continued to rain every succeeding day for 40 days, which the monks interpreted as disapproval of their project by the saints, and accordingly abandoned it. The story is mythical at least in part, for St. Swithin was never actually canonized by the church.

Highlanders Beat Concord By 8 to 4

Fayetteville, Sept. 3.—The Highlanders defeated Concord again today in a rather listless game by an 8-4 score. Ralph Patterson, a local boy, pitched for the visitors but received half-hearted support. "Pop" Simmons played the outfield and contributed a homer in the ninth. The fielding feature was a shoe string catch by Nettles, Highlander right-fielder. He turned a somersault in making the catch but hung to the ball. Hargrave and H. Bryan stole home. The Highlanders play Kannapolis Monday and Tuesday here and Siler Sity the balance of the week.

The score:

Concord ..	020 000 101	4	10 5

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHER

Mr. Editor:

The superintendent of the city schools of a certain city on making inquiry about a certain teacher, gave the following reasons why teachers fail in their work:

1. Lack of knowledge of subject matter or inability to manage children.
2. Attention to card parties, dancing and other society interests, to the neglect of their school work.
3. On account of falling in love with high school pupils.,
4. On account of keeping company with sorry men.
5. On account of night riding without a chaperone.
6. On account of rotten vaudeville and sorry moving picture shows.
7. On account of entertaining company until late hours at night, making good school work next day impossible.
8. On account of failure to take any vital interest in church and Sunday school work, and other community activities.

I feel that this list of reasons for the failure of teachers is so nearly complete and so well put that it ought to have wide publicity so that every teacher should see it, and profit by it. There are some more reasons but these are the principal ones and this superintendent has learned it so well that he is competent to speak out.

The public school teacher is one of the principal moulders of character. I suppose next to the ministry in opportunity and possibility, is this teacher, and that should be for good, and that cannot be unless that teacher has a Christian character.

Think of the teacher instead of having a Christian character, playing cards, dancing, and running to the dirty movies and other of the world's social features. Such a person is not fit to teach the children placed under their care.

I would like to comment on more of these reasons for the failure of our teachers but this would get too long.

Some teachers might say I have not failed. I have finished every school I have taught (although I know of some who have had to give up their schools for these reasons), but I answer, have you measured up to the highest ideal in those you have taught?

I am afraid that many of those who are teaching are doing so only for the cash they get out of it and lose sight of the great opportunity of the profession.

E. MYERS,
A Friend of Teachers.

"COBRA" AT STAR

Brilliant Experts Assist Valentino on First Independent Picture.

When Rudolph Valentino became an independent producing star, he set out to surround himself with the finest technical staff possible to assist him in making his pictures.

Joseph Henabery, who knew and understood Valentino, was selected to direct the star. Henabery started with D. W. Griffith and has made many successful photoplays. Anthony Codewey wrote the scenario as his 400th script.

William Cameron Menzies, who designed the sets for "The Thief of Bagdad," performed the same service for "Cobra," the star's first "on his own." J. D. Jennings and Harry Fischbeck, two of the best known cinematographers in the business, photographed the picture. Gilbert Adrian, who designed the costumes for two of the Music Box Revues in New York, conceived the gorgeous gowns which the women wear.

"Cobra" was adopted from Martin Brown's stage play, which ran for seven months on Broadway. It is a modern story and most of the action takes place in New York. The title means the lure of a fascinating, unscrupulous woman—the lure of the cobra for its victims.

A notable cast includes Nita Naldi, Gertrude Olmsted, Casson Ferguson, Hector Sarno, Claire de Lorez, Eileen Percy, Lillian Langdon, Rose Rosanova and Henry Barrows. The picture, due at the Star on Monday, was produced by Ritz-Carlton and distributed by Paramount.

AH, WELL, JUST FUN.

Chemise Given to Adapter of "Up In Mabel's Room."

The waggish scenario writers and gag men of the Christie studio in Hollywood, Cal., on learning that McGrew Willis was to adapt the famous stage farce "Up In Mabel's Room" for Marie Prevost's new starring picture, which comes to the Concord Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, made him a present of a chemise, the essential basis of the plot of the gay farce, to serve him as an inspiration while writing the scenario version.

According to Willis, the only flaw in the joke was that the "underall" was a cheap cotton chemise, with an inscriptiion daubed in link "Mabel to Mac," while the "plot" of the play is a beautiful silken garment, handsomely embroidered "Mabel from Garry." Just how the frilly, filmy undie figures in the moving picture will be revealed by Miss Prevost when the picture is shown.

Harrison Ford and Phyllis Haver are featured members of an exceptionally strong supporting cast.

Kannapolis Takes Another From Siler.

Kannapolis, Sept. 3.—Kannapolis clearly overtopped Siler City here this afternoon and won with ease the third game of a four-game series, the score was 6 to 4. In quality of performance, the affair was one of the dullest seen here this season. Fifteen hits, including several doubles and one homer, were collected by the Towelmakers. Jarrett and Kirk led the orgy, each securing three safeties. Felix Hayman, Charlotte owner, was among the spectators.

Score by innings:

Siler City ..	030 000 001	4	6 1
Kannapolis ..	220 001 10x	6	15 1
