Ceremony at 3 a. m.
Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 17—Lew Cody, motion picture actor, surprised the film colony this morning by returning from a midnight ride to Ventura, with Mabel Normand, screen actress, as his bride.
The affair developed with all the suddenness of a feature movie, his friends were informed last night according to his secretary. He died with Miss Normand, proposed after dinner, and she accepted, and the couple left immediately for Ventura, some eighty miles north of here. They obtained a license at 2 o'clock this morning and were married by County Recorder Thomas Hill an hour later.

CRESS AND LOWDER SELL BUS BUSINESS

Will Be Taken Over October 14th by Southern Coach Company. Within a month, the Southern Coach Company, with headquarters in Greensboro, will control all of the buses plying between Charlotte and Greensboro.

L. B. Cress, part owner of the Concord-Charlotte Bus Line, Inc., stated here this morning that he and his partner, J. Frank Lowder, had sold their line to the Southern Coach Company, the transfer to take place not later than October 14th. The purchase price was not given but is said to be in excess of $25,000.

Some time ago the Southern purchased the Kirk and Dixie Lines and the acquisition of the Concord line gives them the entire schedule from Charlotte to Greensboro. The Concord line operates two round trip schedules between the Guilford and Mecklenburg capitals.

Messrs. Cress and Lowder are pioneer bus operators, having started the first line between Concord and Charlotte on May 1st, 1922. Later they extended the schedule to Salisbury and then on to Greensboro. Soon after they started their schedule other bus lines were established.

The Concord men now operate ten buses between Charlotte and Wilmington, via Monroe, Lumberton and Whiteville. They will devote all of their time to that line after the Greensboro schedule is taken over by the Southern company.

RIDENHOUR TO START AS TECH QUARTERBACK

Edward V. Mitchell on Visit to State College Camp, Finds Concord Boy Big Favorite.

There is every indication now that Clarence (Peanut) Ridenhour, of Concord, will start the football season at State College as first string quarterback.

Edward V. Mitchell, sport writer of the Charlotte News, has visited all of the camps in the state and after his recent stay with the Tech team in western North Carolina he discussed the team's prospects and had the following to say of Ridenhour:

Ridenhour and McDowall have been alternating at quarterback in the workouts here, with the first named having the call for the post of quarter. McDowall and Hunsucker are sure to get into every game, the coach stated today. In event any changes are made Melton will be withdrawn an inch from the line, shifting McDowall to half. Outen and Hennessy are fighting it out for the full-back berth. Morris and Albright, born the 1925 freshmen are two more men available for the backfield, in addition to several promising men who will join the squad when the Pack returns to Riddick Field.

BUS SMASHES WAGON; DRIVERS NOT INJURED

Tom Kiser Riding on Wagon Which Was Completely Demolished When Hit by Bus.

A two-horse wagon, the property of Tom Kiser, negro, was completely demolished Friday night when struck by a bus near the home of A. H. White on the Concord-Charlotte highway.

Kiser was riding on the wagon at the time of the accident but escaped injury. One of his horses was hurt but not fatally.

The bus was a dead-head going through and carried no passengers. The driver was not hurt although several glasses in the vehicle were smashed.

The driver, whose name was not known, told officers he did not see the wagon until he was struck. He was passing another car, he said, and was so blinded by the lights on the car that he did not see the wagon on the side of the road.

George W. Troutman Dead

George Wilson Troutman, 51 years old, died at his home in Rowan county, about three miles from Salisbury, Wednesday night at 11:15 o'clock. The funeral will be held at the Salem Church, Stanley county, Friday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. P. L. Shore, and the burial was in charge of members of Salisbury Council No. 26, Junior Order, of which the deceased was a member.

The deceased is survived by the widow and several sons and daughters. He was a farmer and a son of the late Henry Moses Troutman.

Kerr Street Baptist Revival

The Lord is still saving souls and reclaiming backsliders at the revival meeting. Friday night was the best service yet. There was a good congregation present. The singing was inspiring and uplifting. Mr. Payne preached a good and helpful sermon from Proverbs 14:14, "The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways, and a good man shall be satisfied from himself." He used for a subject, "The Backslider in Heart." He spoke of the three evidences of a backslider's heart. There were a number came to the front and were saved, and reclaimed at the conclusion of the service. Come and help us sing the old time songs and pray for the lost. Service tonight at 7:30 and on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Come and make yourself at home. PASTOR.

The Editor Felt Complimented

Monroe Enquirer.

Coming out of Charlotte on a recent day three small boys signed me down for a ride in my automobile. No sooner than they had settled themselves in the seat, than I said: "All right, boys, how do you know that all get in jail?"

The smallest of the trio, a bright boy, looking me over, replied: "Well, mister, if you're a 'hogger' we're highway robbers!"

"Thank you son for the compliment," was my reply.

Death of Aged Colored Woman

"Aunt" Harriet Thomas, who was said to have been 102 years of age, died Friday afternoon at the home of her grandson, "Shanty" Bragg, who runs a shoe shining stand on West Depot Street. She was formerly from Davidson, and the funeral service will be held at Torrence Chapel, near that place, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

GUARDSMEN TO BE ON DUTY AT FAIR

Members of Company E Will Direct Traffic and Serve as Guards on the Grounds.

Members of Company E, Concord's crack National Guard unit, will be on duty at the fair grounds when the 1926 fair opens on October 12th.

Dr. T. N. Spencer, secretary of the fair, announced this morning that the guardsmen will direct traffic on the road leading to the grounds, and on the entrance to the grounds and on the inside. In addition they will do police duty throughout the grounds.

The traffic problem becomes more acute with each fair, due to the increased attendance, and officials think the cars can be better handled by the uniformed men. The uniforms will attract attention, it is believed, and motorists will recognize the soldiers as officers and obey their instructions better than they would civilians, whose status might not be known.

While contact of visitors to the fair has been excellent, fair officials feel that uniformed officers will be able to patrol the grounds in such fashion as to prevent trouble of any kind.

With the exception of last minute details, which cannot be completed until the week before the fair opens, everything is in readiness for the gala occasion. Reports reaching Concord indicate that interest in the fair is higher than it has ever been and all attendance records are expected to be broken this year.

WIDENHOUSE VOTE AT CONVENTION NOT FULL

His Total Vote Would Have Been Larger Had All Precincts Been Represented.

Friends of M. L. Widenhouse, defeated candidate for the Democratic nomination for clerk of court, pointed out that his vote at the convention last Saturday would have been larger had all of the precincts been represented when his contest with J. B. McAllister, party nominee, was decided.

Delegates from Ward Five, this city, were not in the convention when the clerk of court contest was decided. As it is pointed out, the Widenhouse vote from that ward was not counted in the total. Ward Five had ten votes in the convention and as Mr. Widenhouse carried the ward in the primary he would have received the majority of the votes cast in the convention. In the primary the vote was: Widenhouse 30, McAllister 23, so the ten votes in the convention would have been divided as follows: Widenhouse 6.20 and McAllister 3.71.

KIWANIS MEETING

Children Aided at Orthopedic Clinic Attend Weekly Club Meeting.

Local Kiwanians in the work among crippled children, saw the results obtained by orthopedic treatment at their weekly meeting Friday when four children who have recently undergone treatment, were introduced to the club.

Miss Courtney, county nurse, accompanied the children, explained to the club members the nature of the children's afflictions and described how the treatment had benefited them.

Mrs. H. S. Williams was a guest of the club and delightfully entertained the members with two poems by James Whitcomb Riley. She recited "When a Fellow Needs a Friend," and "That Old Sweetheart O' Mine."

Gilbert Hendrix drew the attendance prize which was given by Dr. Thomas Rowlette and Noel K. Reid, who had charge of the program.

Next week the program chairman will be Dr. T. N. Spencer and J. B. Saerell.

Tribute to Rev. N. E. Richardson

On Friday afternoon, August 6, 1926, the life of our beloved friend and brother, Sunday school teacher, and former pastor, Rev. N. E. Richardson was suddenly snuffed out.

Through a man's accident he was snatched up, without prolonged suffering, into the bosom of God Himself.

It is impossible to estimate the loss to our Sunday school and church that his passing causes. Though we cannot in words do justice to his life and influence, we heartily unite in paying loving tribute to his memory. For almost four years since his supernatural life lived among us and was always prompt and regular in his attendance upon all Sunday school and church services. There is not a member of our Sunday school, whether old or young, who has not been uplifted and strengthened by the warm-hearted, earnest prayers he offered almost every Sabbath before for the Sunday school. As he in his quiet reverent way took hold of the Infinite and talked with the Father, he drew men nearer to the Christ whom he loved. In the stillness of these Sabbath mornings we find our hearts yearning to hear his voice again lifted in prayer.

Occasionally he would make a few comments upon the lesson before the whole school that would drive the lesson home and fit the needs of those present. But perhaps his most fruitful labor in the Sunday school was with the class of young college boys, whom he taught for four years. For these young men he prayed, for them he lived, and to them he brought the inspiration and teaching which his years of study and experience and devotion to God made possible. He gave them his best and was happy in doing so, feeling that he was doing an effective preaching as he had never been able to do.

In connection with his Sunday school work we must make mention of the privilege that was ours in having him live in our community.

The door of his home was ever open to anyone in need of help, advice, encouragement, counsel or companionship. He loved men every where—he had a peculiar love and tenderness for his negro brethren, a great example of his every day life was a benediction to all. His life was one of helpfulness of the finest type.

Therefore be it resolved:

First: That although we deplore the unfortunate accident that took him so suddenly from our midst, we look to the Heavenly Father for comfort and strength, and that we endeavor to live by the standards that he lived by.

Second: That we, the members of the Mount Pleasant Methodist Sunday school, extend our love and sympathy to the bereaved members of his family.

Rudolph Valentino Latest and Greatest Picture at the Concord Theatre

Starting in a lavishly produced sequel to the screen story which brought him his greatest fame, Rudolph Valentino comes to the Concord Theatre Monday and Tuesday in the picture which metropolitan critics have hailed as his greatest.

It is "The Son of the Sheik," a story, love-mad opus of the desert, with Vilma Banky, Montague Love, Karl Dane, George Egan, and other noted players supporting Valentino. Love, life and adventure are not sugar-coated in this screen version over Sunday. The forecast also indicated the probability of rainy weather over the week-end. Selling was based on large crop estimate, rumors of another large estimate to come, slick spot demand and generally good weather. Tomorrow's market depends upon overnight weather developments. If they are unfavorable, the market is pat to rally.
