

Rescue Of Miners One Of Greatest Feats In The Annals Of Mining

All of 43 Men Taken Alive From Mine Expected to Recover From Effects of the Experience.

RECOVERY WAS GREAT FEAT

The Men Were Tapped 800 Feet in Mine Last Friday—400 Had Part in the Rescue.

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Safe after 121 hours of nerve-racking imprisonment in the damp depths of the Pabst iron mine, 43 bewhiskered men saw daylight from hospital beds for the first time today in nearly a week.

Rest for them and the 400 men who labored untriflingly for their rescue was the order of the day.

Entombed 800 feet underground last Friday by a shaft cave-in which killed three mine electricians, the last of the 43 miners was brought to the surface at midnight, adding one of the greatest rescue records in mining annals.

Today the men were recuperating from their harrowing experience. They were given light food replacing their diet of birch bark tea, brewed over improvised stoves made from lunch pails. Birch bark was stripped from mine reinforcements and spruce water was plentiful.

Most of the men, attending physicians said, will be able to go to their homes by tonight.

Rescue was effected through hundreds of feet of underground shafts and laterals, some hurriedly constructed and others weakened and made unsafe by cave-ins.

First to reach the imprisoned men was George Hawes of Chicago, safety expert of the Pullman Company and a former employee of the mine. He was greeted by Tom Trewartha, a shift boss, who with two others were on guard duty while the companions slept. Hawes was followed by Capt. Erickson, in charge of the Pabst mine for the Oliver Iron Mining Co., Capt. Harry Byrnes of the Tilden Mine at Messemont, Mich., and Oscar Owens, chief engineer of the Olvec Company, who made their way through the dangerous rescue passage.

"How are you?" Hawes asked Trewartha.

"We are all O. K. Forty-three men all right," Trewartha replied.

Hawes shouted the news to his companions who were at various places in the shaft. They in turn relayed it and soon those on the surface knew that all were "alive and well."

It was not long until the imprisoned men were awake and rejoicing. All took turns puffing a long cigar Hawes had in his pocket.

Soup, coffee, tobacco and other articles to make the men as comfortable as possible were immediately dispatched. Meanwhile rescuers started making the rescue passage safer with heavy timbering.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last night Samuel L. Sydnalman, 38, father of eight children, emerged. He was the first of the men to come to the surface. Ten thousand persons were jammed about the shaft. Sydnalman, covered with red iron ore, was taken to the mine rescue car for examination. Later, after a few words with several of his family, he went to the hospital.

All of the men were given preliminary examination by a physician who visited them in their subterranean abode. They declared they were all right, but officials thought it best all go to the hospital. Families of each were permitted to spend a little time with them.

None of the entombed men gave up hope. They took care to keep their watches running, and knew they had been entombed five days. Each 24 hours a mark was placed on a piece of timbering indicating that another day had passed.

Larry Uren, the "salvation army miner," often led his fellow prisoners in gospel meetings singing and praying.

That efforts were being made to rescue them was known to the men. They heard blasting operations from time to time, they said.

Preparations for the reunions that are to come were being made in 43 homes today. All Ironwood is happy, and even those unrelated to the men who "came back" are joining in the festivities.

Honors are being paid rescue workers who came from throughout the Gogebic range, virtually disrupting mine activities.

Of the three efforts undertaken to provide a way to bring the imprisoned men to the surface the most hazardous was successful. This was upward from the bottom of the shaft, blocked in several places by the cave-in. Access to the bottom of the shaft was gained through a lateral tunnel connecting with the shaft of another mine.

Working upward the rescuers found the tunnel blocked at the 23rd level. They dug around this blocked section and on the 21st level found the shaft open. From there they worked their way upward through debris to the eighth level, the subterranean abode of the men.

From the 8th level the miners were forced to descend by ladders to the 26th level, and then through a lateral to the other mine, and then up through that shaft to the surface.

THE STATE REVENUES

Total Collections From Auto and Gasoline Taxes $5,671,964.86.

Tribune Bureau Sir Walter Hotel

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—The surplus for 1926-27 should be even larger than the surplus for the fiscal year just past, judging from the manner in which money is rolling into the coffers of the department of revenue and the highway commission. Revenue collections for September, which will be officially announced tomorrow, total $616,154.04, as compared with collections of but $457,899.95 for September, 1925. Total collections for July, August and September, the first quarter of the new biennium, amount to $2,801,088.29, as compared with but $1,840,817.65 for the same three months in 1925, showing a gain in collections of $250,270.64.

The figures above include only that revenue that goes into the State treasury for operating expenses, and does not include collections by the automobile license bureau of license fees and gasoline tax. License fees for September total $240,053.28, and gasoline tax collections amount to $738,799.01, the largest gasoline tax collected in one month in the history of the tax.

The total received during July, August and September from the sale of automobile license plates, all of which is devoted to highways, amounts to $3,610,861.30, while gasoline tax collections for the same period of three months and which also goes to the highway department amounts to $2,061,013.56. Thus the total collected from the automobile licenses and gasoline tax for the first three months of the present fiscal year amounts to $5,671,964.86, all of which goes to the highway commission to be applied to operating expenses, retiring bond issues, paying interest and for new highway construction.

Taken altogether, the $2,061,088.29 collected by the department of revenue for State purposes, and the $5,671,964.86 collected for the highway department, the total collection for State and highway purposes give the grand total of $7,733,053.17 collected in July, August and September.

The collections from the various sources of revenue for September are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Income tax (personal and corporation), Inheritance tax, Schedule B, Schedule C, Bus tax, Insurance tax, and Total.

The large increase in schedule C collections, which consists of franchise taxes on telephonic and telegraphic corporation and businesses, is generally interpreted as indicating a healthy recondition in business over the state.

No comment was forthcoming from the department of revenue other than that the department was satisfied with both the showing made during September and for the first three months of the present fiscal year.

WANTS REMEDY FOR LOW PRICED COTTON

Governor Whitfield Suggests Conference Where Situation Can Be Discussed.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Deploring the depression resulting from the rapid decline in the price of cotton is already being felt in all forms of business in the South, Governor Henry L. Whitfield today addressed a letter to the governors of cotton growing states, recommending that each appoint a delegation to meet at a central point to discuss plans for alleviating the situation.

The governors are asked to telegraph their willingness to appoint a delegation of five representative business men and suggest a meeting place.

MISS MITCHELL TO GO TO THE HURRICANE AREA

Her Work is Well Known to the Red Cross Organization.

Tribune Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—The North Carolina Department of Public Welfare is going to do its part in assisting the hurricane area of Florida by sending Miss Lillie Mitchell, director of the Laura Spillman Memorial work in the State to Florida, to work with the Red Cross as a case supervisor and director, it is announced by Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, Commissioner of Public Welfare.

The loan of Miss Mitchell to the Red Cross for a period of three months is asked of the Department of Public Welfare in a telegram to Mrs. Johnson from J. E. Gwin, of the American Red Cross in Washington, in which he stated that 150 case supervisors are needed in Florida at once.

Miss Mitchell was formerly with the Red Cross and her work is well known to that organization, and it is because of her ability as an organizer and an executive that her services are desired at this time in Florida.

Miss Mitchell was not in Raleigh today, but Mrs. Johnson said that the department would gladly release her for the three months period and that she was quite sure that Miss Mitchell would accept this new call to duty forthwith. The American Red Cross will assume her salary and all expenses during her leave of absence.

In her work with the Department of Public Welfare, Miss Mitchell has been in charge of the welfare work in four counties, conducted something as an experiment in connection with the Social Service school of the University of North Carolina, by means of the gift of $60,000 from the Laura Spillman (Rockefeller) memorial foundation. These four counties are Wake, Orange, Chatham and Cherokee, and the work has been eminently successful.

THE COTTON MARKET

Opened Easy at Decline of 8 to 16 Points and Was Unsettled at End of First Hour.

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The cotton market opened easy today at a decline of 8 to 16 points over overnight selling orders from the South, liquidation by some of yesterday's buyers, relatively easy late cables from Liverpool and a more favorable reading of the weather map.

Rallies on trade buying and covering by October shorts on the decline were checked by continued southern selling and the market was unsettled at the end of the first hour. December sold off to 14.34 and March to 14.65, net declines of 27 to 30 points on active months.

Private cables from Liverpool said trade calling and covering had been offset by liquidation in the English market, but there was a better feeling in Manchester with demand for cotton cloths from India and the home trade improving.

Cotton futures opened easy: Oct. 14.45; Dec. 14.50; Jan. 14.50; March 14.76; May 15.00.

GEO. E. WILLIAMS

FIRST WITNESS TO AID T. W. MILLER

By Him Defense Hopes to Show the Claims Paid to Merton Were Legal and Paid in Good Faith.

DAUGHERTY TO ACT SEPARATELY

He Will Offer His Defense After Counsel for Miller Has Completed List of the Witnesses.

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The defense of Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy, was begun in federal court today.

Miller is being tried jointly with Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the Harding cabinet. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of their "honest and unbiased" services in connection with the payment of claims of $7,000,000.

The first witness called was George E. Williams, of Passaic, N. J., managing director of the alien property custodian's office. Previous witnesses testified Williams tutored Richard Merton, German metal magnate, in filing for the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs de Metaux claims for the impounded shares of the American Metal Co.

William S. Rand, counsel for Miller, began the defense without an opening address. Daugherty's defense will be conducted separately. Just before Williams took the stand Judge Mack ruled that Williams had not been shown to have in 1921 guilty knowledge of the alleged conspiracy.

It had been objected by counsel for Daugherty and Miller in chamber discussions yesterday that testimony received in the case contained that the conspiracy charge could be shown regardless of whether Merton's claims were valid.

Although Rand launched Miller's defense without opening address, his questioning of Williams revealed that an attempt will be made to show that the $7,000,000 claims were valid, and that they were paid in good faith.

The government in arguments during presentation of its case contended that the conspiracy charge could be shown regardless of whether Merton's claims were valid.

Demand for Unskilled Labor. Raleigh, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The demand for unskilled labor continued in greater volume than could be supplied last week in North Carolina, the weekly report on labor conditions issued by the State-Federal employment bureau indicates.

The report shows that last week 844 persons were placed in jobs in the state, of which 652 were men and 192 were women. The total registration reached 1,140 and there were 1,242 requests for help.

Of the total placements 565 were in the unskilled labor classes. The great demand for this type of labor was attributed to the large amount of construction work in the piedmont section and the cotton picking activities now general in the cotton belt of the state.

Friday, October 15th—Farmers' Day, Rowan County Day, Fraternal Orders Day.

Saturday, October 16th—Sales Day. The Horse Races. The horse race program consists of ten races, each for a purse of $300 or more. Races every afternoon, commencing at 1:30 o'clock. The "cream of the turf" will race at this fair.

Among the free attractions to be presented each afternoon and evening: William & Bernice, comedy acrobatic acts; Van Norman, sensational high dive on bicycle; The Riding Castles, beautiful riding acts; Florentz Duo & Co., comedy acrobats; The Steiner Trio, comedy acts; Roscoe Armstrong & Co., comedy Ford act; Walter Stanton & Co., featuring the giant rooster; Bernardi Greater Shows and Rides will occupy the midway; motorcycle races.

Startling Fireworks. As usual, a costly and elaborate fireworks display, planned and perfected by the Ohio Fireworks Co. will be presented nightly. This year's displays will even eclipse those of last year.

Exhibits on Large Scale. Everything is favorable for a much larger number of exhibits at this fair than ever before. More room has been provided to house the cattle and swine this year. The Berkshire hog show is predicted to be the largest and best in the state. The dog show will be held Thursday, October 14th. This particular department has increased yearly.

Serve as State Fair. The officials are anxious to take the place of the North Carolina State Fair this year as there will be no state fair. This fair comes on the usual dates of the state fair.

Children Admitted. All school children of Cabarrus and surrounding counties will be admitted free of charge on opening day, Tuesday, October 12th.

Programs Commence. Time for the "big doings": Afternoon programs start at 1:30 o'clock sharp. Horse racing and free attractions.

Night program commences promptly at 8:45 o'clock. Fireworks and free acts each night.

Admission Prices. Adults—Day 50c, night 25c. Children, under 12, anytime, 25c. Automobiles, inside—25c.

GRIST IN FAVOR OF IMPORTING MEXICAN LABOR. For Use in North Carolina Cotton Fields and Industrial Projects.

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Frank Grist, state commissioner of labor and printing, is in favor of importing Mexican labor for use in North Carolina cotton fields and industrial projects, if he stated, "we can get rid of them when we are through with them."

Mr. Grist stated that the common labor situation is now in the midst of a seasonal shortage, and that two thousand laborers are urgently needed to pick cotton and do construction work.

"The worst shortage is being felt in Badin where the Tullalosee Power Company is constructing a gigantic dam for a new generating plant. They can easily use a thousand laborers there," he stated.

Mr. Grist said that so far no great number of imported laborers had put in their appearance in North Carolina, but thousands of Mexicans had been reported as being used in the southwest.

Reports from that section, however, indicated that while they make good laborers they do not make the best citizens, and that they have been branded as undesirable in so many places they have settled.

SAYS TARIFF RATES WILL BE INCREASED

This Prediction Made By Senator Burke, of Massachusetts.

Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Another wave rippled today in the ocean of campaign arguments ebbing and flowing between Republican and Democratic spokesmen whose activities are concentrated upon the November elections which will decide the control of the 70th Congress. After breakfast and luncheon engagements with President Coolidge at the White House, Senator Wm. M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the republican national committee, brought the tariff to the fore with the prediction that some of the Fordney-McCumber schedules now in effect would be revised upward at the coming short session of Congress, while Senator P. G. Gerry, chairman of the Democratic senatorial committee, in a statement from his home state of Rhode Island, accused republican managers of misrepresenting the past and the present, and showing an ability to formulate a program for the future.

GOV. McLEAN AT NORTH WILKESBORO TODAY

Wilkesboro, N. C., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Governor Angus W. McLean today brought a message to several thousand citizens gathered here for the Wilkes County Fair.

The Governor's address dealt largely with matters of agriculture. He said tribute to northern North Carolina for its diversification of crops and said other sections would do well to follow their example.

He gave many facts and figures to support diversification of crops. "The farmers of the state as a whole need to learn not to rely solely on two crops, cotton and tobacco," the Governor said.

ALLEGED DOPE PEDDLERS ARRESTED IN TAMPA

Dr. B. M. Tyson and Several Women Among Those Arrested.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Ten persons including a physician and several women were arrested on charges of violating the federal anti-narcotic laws during a series of raids in the Ybor City section of Tampa late last night and early today.

Cocaine and morphine valued at more than $15,000 was seized, authorities stated. Among those taken into custody was Dr. B. M. Tyson, Ybor City physician, from whom one of the agents claims to have purchased a quantity of morphine.

LODGES COMPLAINT AGAINST HEAD OF ASHEVILLE NEWS

Charges Are Made to the Stated Clerk of Presbyterian Church by Rev. C. H. Enfield, of Asheville.

15 COUNTS ARE MADE IN LETTER

Clerk States That Charges Have Been Forwarded to Board Which Will Give Matter Consideration.

Asheville, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Grave charges including allegations of immorality, extravagance, inefficiency, failure to keep accurate accounts, a sneering attitude toward Christian ministers, "inhuman treatment of students and faculty," and the use of the school's employees and equipment to work on his private property, have been formally preferred against Dr. John E. Caffee, president of the Asheville Normal and Associated Schools, by Rev. C. H. Enfield, of Asheville, a Presbyterian minister, and former member of the Normal school faculty.

These and other charges have been filed by Mr. Enfield with Dr. Louise L. Mudge, at Philadelphia, Pa., stated clerk of the General Assembly, Presbyterian Church in the United States. According to a telegraphic statement from Dr. Mudge, the charges have been referred to the church board of national missions which has immediate jurisdiction over the school, pending a meeting of the general church council in December.

Dr. Caffee refused to make a statement for publication when questioned concerning the charges which had been made against him.

Dr. Enfield, who is now teaching in the public schools at Swannanoa, was a member of the Normal School faculty here for three years. He was not reappointed to the Normal School faculty last year. In his letter to the stated clerk Mr. Enfield includes fifteen specific charges against Dr. Caffee, which he states are preferred "in the interests of a higher type of Christian service in these our mountain missionary schools."

BABE RUTH MAY ENTER HIS SEVENTH WORLD'S SERIES

No Other Player Has Placed More Than Six—Other Records.

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Babe Ruth will break his first world series record by going out to the park and taking his place in the opening game. If the big fellow retains a grip on his health and is able to play, he will enter his seventh world's series. No other player has played more than six.

Tied with Ruth up to this year at six participations in the baseball classic were J. Franklin Baker, Everett Scott, Eddie Collins and Wally Schang. Baker is farming and not interested in playing world's series baseball. Collins and Schang can not better their records at the moment for the White Sox and Browns are not winning pennants this year.

The leading exponent of baseball biff played three world's series under the colors of the Boston Red Sox and wielded his mace in as many series for the Yankees.

Other records may be expected to fall if the Babe is in the game. He will have to score more than eight runs to better one mark—for he is tied with Tommy Leach for the most runs scored in one series at eight.

Ruth is tied with Goose Goslin and Joe Harris of Washington for the most home runs in one series, three, and with Hooper of the Red Sox and Kauff of the Giants for two home runs in one game. Ruth smashed out his circuit blows in successive innings, October 11, 1923.

The Babe is tied with a number of fellow athletes, past and present, for the number of extra base hits in a series, with five, but holds undisputed first place for the most extra bases on long hits, 18, compiled in 1918, 1921, 1922 and 1923 by four home runs, two triples and two doubles. He also has established a tie with Hooper and Kauff for the most extra bases on long hits in one game, six.

He was in a receptive mood for a record in 1923 when he was given eight bases on balls during the series.

The versatile Ruth also has his name engraved in the department devoted to pitching records. He pitched 20 scoreless innings for the Red Sox in 1916 and 1918, going 13 innings the first year and 16 the second.

Ruth has a total of four world's series home runs against six for Goslin of the Washington Senators, who hit three in 1924 and three more in 1925. Ruth will have to get three in the series to establish a new record.

Shot Woman But Balked at Dog.

(By International News Service) Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Josephine Eva Werneth Farmer, acquitted "unwritten law" slayer of Mrs. Mary Lee Scott, called police to her home here to kill a stray dog.

Mrs. Farmer admitted killing Mrs. Scott on the witness stand. She charged Mrs. Scott had stolen the affections of her husband, Jim Farmer. The jury acquitted her.

Farmer and his wife are still living together. When a stray dog kept hanging around in her yard, Mrs. Farmer went to the phone and called police. Officers killed the canine.

War Mothers of Charlotte Send $232.27 to Veterans.

Charlotte, Sept. 29.—The Charlotte chapter of war mothers forwarded $232.27 to disabled world war veterans at the government hospital at Otten today, according to Mrs. W. S. Pratt, chairman of the State committee of the chapter.

The money was raised here last Saturday from the sale of forgotten notes, she said.

DETECTIVE BYERS OF WRECK OF THE POLICE CAR

Second Charlotte Officer Dies of Injuries Received in Wreck of the Car at China Grove.

Salisbury, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Detective John M. Byers, of the Charlotte police force, one of the officers injured in the automobile wreck near here Tuesday afternoon when the car in which they were making a riot run to High Point turned over the times, died in a local hospital shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. His remains will be taken to Charlotte.

This is the second death as a result of the accident. Chief of Detectives Orr, of Charlotte, dying Wednesday afternoon. Detective H. M. Joyner, also of Charlotte, who sustained a badly injured back, was said this morning to be getting along fairly well.

Chief Joseph E. Orr Dies of His Injuries. Head of Charlotte Detective Bureau Succumbs in Charlotte Hospital. Charlotte, Sept. 29.—Joe Eckels Orr, chief of detectives of the Charlotte police force, died this afternoon at a Salisbury hospital. His death was caused by internal injuries received yesterday when a high powered police car answering a "riot call" to High Point in connection with the police convention there, overturned near China Grove.

DETECTIVE CHIEF ORR ALSO DEAD

Officers Were Answering "Test Riot" Call From High Point When Car Was Wrecked.

Little hope was being entertained by hospital attaches at Salisbury late tonight for the recovery of J. M. Byers, another Charlotte policeman, who was seriously injured in Tuesday's tragedy. Byers was reported as being "very low" and his chances for recovery were said to be slim. He has a fractured skull.

H. M. Joyner, the third Charlotte officer injured in the crash, was reported as being "about the same." Joyner is suffering from an injury to his back. He is not believed to be fatally hurt.

Chief Orr was conscious until the end. He died while hospital attendants were preparing to turn him over on his back to relieve an intense chest pain the chief had complained of since the tragedy.

Unfortunate circumstances prevented Mrs. Orr, the widow, from being at the bedside of her husband when he died. She was in Salisbury yesterday morning, but returned about noon when she was informed that Chief Orr was "practically out of danger."

She was in Charlotte when the death of Chief Orr occurred at 3 p. m., but immediately returned to Salisbury. Other members of Chief Orr's family were in Charlotte when he died, it was said.

The body of the dead chief arrived in Charlotte tonight.

Chief Orr was the son of the late Joe L. Orr, for 40 years a member of the Charlotte police department, and at the time of his death in 1906, its chief.

TO CARVE FIGURES WITHIN TWO YEARS

Figures of Davis, Lee, Jackson and a Color Bearer Now Being Made at Stone Mountain.

(By International News Service) Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30.—Carving figures of Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis and Stonewall Jackson, and a Confederate color bearer on the precipice of Stone Mountain is well under way.
