Miami, Fla., Oct. 21.—(P)—Escaping the third tropical hurricane which in the last two months has ravished the Bahama Islands and the lower Florida peninsula Miami today apparently had suffered no damage from a 60-mile gale which blew here for several hours last night.

Warned yesterday by the government weather bureau, residents fled to public buildings for refuge from the storm which was expected after causing loss of thirty lives in Havana and damaging windows and signs in Key West.

A rising barometer at 3 o'clock this morning, however, and a diminishing in the force of winds and se cause police to believe all danger had passed and the people were advised to return to their homes.

Following the warnings yesterday, hundreds of Miami residents began an exodus and northbound automobiles filled highways leading out of Miami, while railroad stations were packed with others awaiting passage.

county who will stake their all on cotton next year. The lesson this year was too exacting to be forest and the parting season.

It wasn't particular foresight that makes the cetton flop bearable this year. Rather it was a generous working of nature, according to a council sign of points in the cotton market today.

It wasn't particular foresight that makes the cetton flop bearable this year. Rather it was a generous working of nature, according to a council seven sus of opinion among farm leaders. However, Cleveland farmers did set and force the season of pinion among farm leaders. However, Cleveland farmers did set and fruit erops, provented what might have been a serious situation.

With the present situation prevailing, cotton selling low, everybody offering advice and none confident enough to act upon it, farm leaders—those who think ahead of the calendar—bave reached the conclusion that in the coming year chickens and cows will supplant cotton as the cash crop for Cleveland county.

Which doesn't necessarily mean that there will be no cotton planted acre will not be given over to cotton. In stead the farmers of Ceveland county will play safe to the extent that there will be no cotton planted acre will not be given over to cotton.
