Mecklenburg Farmers Hold Cotton Field.
Charlotte Observer.

The majority of farmers in Mecklenburg county are holding cotton off the market, but they are all picking and ginning the crop as fast as they are enabled, according to a statement made yesterday by Kope Elias, county farm agent.

He said that the low price of spot cotton had greatly retarded the marketing of cotton and that with the exception of "distress cotton," few bales were being offered for sale. All available pickers are being used and many farmers are hauling negroes from Charlotte to the country for this purpose, it was said.

Mr. Elias said that the ginning plants throughout the county are operating to capacity and that the cotton is being picked faster than it is possible to gin.

The low price of spot cotton has materially affected the scale of wages paid pickers, causing a drop in wages paid from $1.25 per hundred pounds to 75 cents to 81 per hundred pounds picked, he said.

DECIDE ON PLANS TO HOLD COTTON FOR FARMERS

Funds Called Abundant and Available and Storage Plans Are Worked Out.

Greensboro News.
Governor August W. McLean, bankers, warehousemen, cotton factors and textile manufacturers, meeting at the O. Henry hotel Saturday, considered plans for relief of the low price cotton situation and came to definite conclusions as to relief.

These call for withholding a large part of the 1926 crop from the market for a considerable period, a year or longer, with the cotton to be stored, insured and safeguarded in bonded warehouses, and money to be loaned on it to supply the needs of farmers and the needs of business in general.

It was declared that funds for withholding cotton from the market are abundant and available and can be secured from several sources, at as low an interest rate as four and one-half per cent. Loans can run to 1928 if necessary. Reduction in average of at least 25 per cent from the 1926 crop is a necessary part of the plans.

The North Carolina Bankers association was represented at the meeting. Assurances and plans from Eugene Meyer, of the cotton relief committee appointed by President Coolidge, were received, and M. L. Cress, formerly of the federal farm loan board, and a keen student of agricultural processes and needs, was called upon to state the situation and suggest a plan for relief.

The governor appointed a warehouse committee to survey the warehouse situation and he will appoint a finance committee to proceed with plans made.

SOLICITOR HUFFMAN RESIGNS HIS PLACE

Impaired Health Is Given as Reason in Message of Resignation to Governor.

Morganton, Oct. 23.—R. L. Huffman, who has been solicitor in the 16th judicial district for the past 10 years, today tendered his resignation to Governor McLean.

It has been known here for some time that on account of his health Solicitor Huffman was contemplating resigning and the announcement will not be a great surprise. It is expected that Governor McLean will name L. S. Spurling, of Lenoir, who won the Democratic nomination for solicitor in the June primary, to fill Mr. Huffman's unexpired term. Mr. Huffman was not a candidate in that contest.
