Honor Dr. and Mrs. Pentuff.

The T. E. L. class of married women in McGill Street Baptist Sunday school and the Bereau class of men whom Dr. Pentuff has taught for two and a half years united in giving a very beautiful entertainment in honor of the retiring pastor and his wife and family last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Mills on the Kannapolis road. The home was decorated in autumn colors. Interesting games were plentiful. Between sixty and eighty happy people were entertained in a most delightfully social way. Ample and delicious refreshments were served by the ladies in two or three courses. It was indeed a most delightful occasion.

The church has made no arrangements for a pastor to succeed Dr. Pentuff. He has not determined on any future work. After his resignation the church unanimously adopted the resolutions given elsewhere and the church reported to the Mecklenburg-Cabarrus Association at its last meeting the best year's work in its entire history. There has been a steady growth in all the departments of the church's work since Dr. Pentuff came as pastor in the spring of 1924.

War Mothers to Have Trip Around the World.

Why go abroad? You can take a trip around the world, and visit Holland, Italy, Korea and America with the War Mothers Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 and Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10. The entertainment promises to be a delightful one. There will be refreshments and amusements suitable to each country.

Phone a War Mother, and buy a ticket, or better still, several tickets. They are reasonably priced. Aid the War Mothers!

The following are the homes where each country is to be. Visit each one, but America is the last one to visit, as the tickets will be turned in there: Holland—Y. M. C. A., North Union street.

Italy—Mrs. John W. Propst, E. Corbin street.

Korea—Mrs. John A. Barnhardt, W. Corbin Street.

America—Mrs. J. Frank Goodson, W. Depot street.

Take this trip, grownups and children. It's only twenty-five cents.

America's Youngest.

Long Few, barely 13 years of age, is the youngest Eagle Scout in the United States, having successfully earned twenty-one merit badges. He is the son of Dr. William P. Few, of Duke University. He wears the badge which was presented at the special court of honor held by representatives of the Boy Scouts of America.

The honor is one which is seldom attained, even by youths five or six years his senior. He won the Eagle Scout badge in less than a year after having joined, being only twelve years old at the time the badge was presented.

MAKES AN APPEAL FOR CO-OPERATION

Mrs. S. A. Wolf, President of High School Parent-Teachers Association, Wants More Interest in Work.

In an appeal for greater co-operation between parents and teachers, Mrs. S. A. Wolf, president of the High School Parent-Teachers Association, today declared that there is a "deplorable indifference" on the part of parents in Concord.

"The mothers and fathers do not seem to care what is done in the schools," Mrs. Wolf said.

"The statement is the result of three unsuccessful attempts to secure a quorum at meetings of the High School Parent-Teachers Association."

Two of the meetings were held last spring with less than a half dozen in attendance on each occasion. The third was held last week. Eighteen were present, fully two-thirds of whom were teachers, Mrs. Wolf asserted.

A fourth attempt will be made Wednesday. A letter has been sent to all parents who have children in high school urging them to be present. The hour is 3:30 o'clock and the place is the high school.

An election of officers is to be held, Mrs. Wolf said, when the staff of officials for the new year will be named.

A program for the year's work will also be outlined. Last year's program, the beautifying of the school grounds and the enlargement of the library, will probably be continued and other projects are to be planned, the parent-teacher president said.

A suggestion has been made by A. H. Jarratt, principal of the High School, that the parent-teacher meetings be held at night in order to give men a chance to attend.

"The men should attend and help plan the school work," Mrs. Wolf quotes Mr. Jarratt as saying.

"I am ashamed of the manner in which parents have co-operated during the year," Mr. Jarratt is quoted as saying further. "Not a parent has made an investigation into how his boy or girl is being taught. With as much money as is invested and the time the children have to spend, it looks as though there would be a greater interest taken."

Death of Infant.

Carl, 8-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rogers, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Death was caused by colitis.

Concord Enthusiasts Attend Game.

Among the Concord football fans who attended the Davidson-Wake Forest game in Charlotte Saturday were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Klutz, Mr. and Mrs. James Sappenfield, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Wadsworth, Mrs. Lloyd McKay and guests, Mr. and Mrs. James McKay, of Asheville, Miss Marian Coltrane, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Margaret Virginia Herwin, Miss Helen Marsh, W. W. Flwe, Aubrey Hoover, Roy Sappenfield, William Montgomery, Tom Gay Coltrane, W. W. Morris, Jim Caldwell, G. B. Lewis and many others.

FAMOUS SHOW WILL GIVE STREET PARADE

Genry Bros. Shows Will Come to Concord Wednesday, November 3rd.

Every day when the members of the famous Genry Bros. Shows finish breakfast they begin active preparations for the parade. Well fed ponies and horses in shining harness and waving plumes take their places before glittering parade chariots; the sound of music is heard from bands perched hazardously high; clowns, charioteers, jockeys, Roman hippodrome riders, camels from the great desert with native riders and ponderous elephants, some bearing a weight of feminine beauty in oriental costume, make appearance in a picturesque kaleidoscope pageant more than a mile long.

A man on horseback in a deep voice cries the oft-repeated warning: "Look out for your horses; the elephants are coming." Behind him a bevy of pretty women, buglers trumpet their clarion-voiced instruments, and then Jeanne in polished armor with creaking curtains of chain mail; the flush of tan has tinted her ears and cheeks. She is a young woman adopted by a wealthy aunt in New Haven, Ct., who sent her to Europe to keep her from entering circus life. Her sudden return and her romantic marriage with a clown caused daily papers all over the country to devote considerable space to the incident.

Through densely crowded streets the pageant measures its stately passage. Cages after cages and wagon after wagon filled with rare and costly animals pass in a fantastic panorama. The calliope shrieks madly, and behind it half a hundred boys, playing "hooker" from school, trail tirelessly. The Genry Bros. Shows will come to Concord Wednesday, November 3rd, for performances at 2 and 8 p. m., the door opening an hour earlier. The parade is at noon.

Red Magic.

Antonio Moreno in the feature role, "Mare Nostrum" has been one of the most widely discussed pictures made in recent years.

Ingram and his company traveled more than 10,000 miles from the time they left New York until the picture was completed in Nice, France.

"Mare Nostrum" is Blasco Ibanez's favorite of the stories he has written. He refused to allow the picture to be produced until Rex Ingram was able to do it.

Ibanez and Ingram are the author-director combination responsible for the famous production "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Since that time they have been mutual admirers and close friends. Ingram was one of the first to read "Mare Nostrum" and express his enthusiasm for the story. At that time his health was bad and he was unable to undertake such a strenuous task as producing it in pictures. Ibanez held motion picture rights until Ingram was ready to do it.

"Mare Nostrum" is a triumph for the author, director and two stars.

There are 2174 characters in the works of Dickens.

This Tan Wool Crepe Day Frock is Trimmed With Dark Red Leather. There are several touches which combine to make the frock above essentially a creation of the new season. The two flat lips at each side, the inverted pleats for fullness, and the trimming bands of wine-red leather mark it as one of the smartest of the new day frocks. The little tan is of wine-red velvet, to match the trimming. It has the tightly fitted forehead band, very smart, especially for the youthful miss who does not need a shadowing brim to soften the features.
