

DEMOCRATS WIN AGAIN IN CABARRUS COUNTY

Bitter Campaign Ends With All Republicans Defeated; Elliot Majority Largest In County

KANNAPOLIS VOTE AIDED DEMOCRATS

When Vote There Was Announced Hope for Republicans Faded.—Concord Went Democratic.

MISS McEACHERN RANKED SECOND

Polled the Second Largest Vote in County.—Rural Districts Not Disastrous to the Democrats.

Cabarrus voters again showed their preference for Democratic county and State officers Tuesday when they went to the polls and piled up majorities ranging from 702 to 1,292 for the Democrats. The majorities for the most part are about the same as those polled two years ago and are much in excess of the totals of four years ago when the county went Democratic again after many years of Republican regime.

The Kannapolis vote was the deciding factor in the county race, and when Democratic majorities ranging from 500 to 800 were reported from that town there was no further doubt about the outcome. The Democratic candidates came through the rest of the county with majorities but had the "towel town" been Republican members of that party could have been in office.

J. V. Elliott, register of deeds, again led the ticket, piling up an unofficial majority of 1,292 votes over R. M. Housel. Mr. Elliott ran at the head of his ticket everywhere and with Miss McEachern carried one precinct that voted a majority for only these two Democratic candidates. Miss McEachern ran second on the ticket with a majority of 945.

Complete returns on the State ticket will not be available until the vote is officially canvassed tomorrow morning. However, it is known that Senator Overman, Judge John M. Oglesby and Congressman R. L. Doughton ran well with the leaders of the ticket and their majorities will average about 875.

Solicitor Zeb V. Long had no opposition so his vote in the county is close to 5,000.

In the race between F. J. Haywood and A. N. James for the State Senate the complete vote is also lacking but Mr. Haywood also ran well with the leaders on his ticket. In 21 of the 22 precincts he received a majority of 642 and the missing precinct is expected to add at least 180 to his total, having given such a majority to the other candidates on the Democratic ticket.

In 14 of the 22 precincts Senator Overman had 2,362 and Hayes 2,208. In 12 precincts Doughton had 2,483 and Pool 2,308. In 11 precincts Oglesby had 2,261 and Randleman 2,118. In each contest the missing precincts gave heavy Democratic majorities (Please Turn to Page Two)

THINKS DISCOVERY OF CYANITE IMPORTANT

Prof. Greaves-Walker Expresses Surprise That It is of No Value. Tribune Bureau. State Water Hotel. Raleigh, Nov. 3.—Surprise that reported discovery of deposits of cyanite in western North Carolina should have been termed as of no value in Washington was expressed today by A. F. Greaves-Walker, professor of ceramic engineering at State College.

"I was surprised," the professor declared, "at the dispatches which came from a scientist, if he was quoted correctly, saying that there is no commercial value in the product without further investigation than in the simple report of the discovery."

"It is unusual for a scientist to pass such judgment without more complete investigation. I consider that the discovery of cyanite is at least worthy of a complete research to ascertain positively if it can be determined to be of any value. The fact that the substance is so near to the great markets of the country should be worthy of consideration."

That the discovery of the substance is not new, but that it has just been made public was revealed by Professor Greaves-Walker, who spent several days last summer with the owner of the reported find at Burnsville. After examining the mineral he advised the owners that there was nothing to get excited about until an extensive and exhaustive study had been made of the deposit and the physical characteristics of the material.

From observation, Prof. Greaves-Walker thinks that the deposits of the state are large and is of the opinion that, while the cost of the experimental or research work necessary to prove them out would be considerable, it that it would be worth the cost.

WOMAN MAGISTRATE CLEANED 'EM OUT, SAYS ROSS

Couldn't Handle Bootleggers in Randolph Any Other Way. Asheville, Nov. 3.—(AP)—"The men couldn't handle the bootleggers so we got a woman justice of the peace. She cleaned 'em out," declared former State Senator Arthur Ross, by way of introducing Mrs. Emma Gray, Randolph county's one and only woman magistrate.

"There's mighty little liquor to be found around Level Cross nowadays," averred several males who had observed conditions in Mrs. Gray's domain. They added that things were different from the old days when men administered the township law.

Since ascending to office (her commission was granted by the 1925 general assembly) Mrs. Gray is said to have taken an active interest in politics.

She is of the Democratic faith, and her party is particularly active in Randolph right now. The fight for the county's 12,000 votes is so hot that it has gotten down to house-to-house canvass basis. Last election the Republicans won by only 600 majority. This year the Democrats say they're going to take it by 200.

WILKES REPUBLICAN VOTE CUT DOWN 1,400

Johnson J. Hayes Leads Ticket in Home County; 1,000 Majority.

North Wilkesboro, Nov. 2.—Polling a heavier vote than was cast in 1924, the Republican majority in Wilkes county was cut by more than half in the election today with Johnson J. Hayes, Republican senatorial candidate, leading the ticket, in 18 out of 20 precincts.

John R. Jones, Republican, was leading Julius Rouseau, Democrat, by 387 votes for solicitor.

G. E. Ellidge, Republican, was leading T. E. Dancy, Democrat, by 577 votes for sheriff of Wilkes county. All the rest of the Republican candidates were leading their opponents by practically the same majority.

The voting in the off year election was a great deal heavier than in the presidential election of 1924.

The Republicans were leading the ticket by a majority of not over 1,000 votes while in 1924 the majority was 2,420.

Governor Donahy Re-elected.
Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Governor Vic Donahy, democrat, was re-elected to serve a third term as Ohio's chief executive in yesterday's state election.

Returns from seven-eighths of the state's 8,634 precincts gave Donahy a lead of about 19,000 votes over his republican opponent Myers V. Cooper, of Cincinnati.

REPUBLICAN VOTE CUT IN COUNTIES

It Is Said Sampson Elected Democrats by Small Majority.—State Majority More Than 100,000.

Charlotte, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The entire North Carolina delegation of congressmen, ten Democrats, the junior United States senator, Lee S. Overman, Democrat and the Democratic state ticket were returned by heavy majorities in yesterday's biennial election incomplete unofficial returns from every section of the state received here up to noon today indicated.

The referendum bill providing for $2,000,000 bond issue as the foundation for a revolving loan fund from which World War veterans may borrow money to buy homes was leading in scattered returns, but with a very light vote cast in connection with it. The same situation applied to the constitutional amendment providing that the state election board shall officially declare election results instead of waiting for the legislature to convene.

The election was featured by the comparatively light vote in many sections of the state and the overturn of dominant parties in the county races. The Democrats are claiming Sampson county by a small majority. Sampson long has been a Republican stronghold. In the tenth congressional district a number of normally Republican counties went Democratic in the county races, and some normally Democratic counties were reported as having gone Republican.

Definite returns were lacking in a large number of counties, although majorities based on telephone reports from polling places were available. In most of these counties it was stated that the actual figures would not be available until the precinct officials go to their county seats tomorrow with official returns.

The last uncertainty regarding the congressional delegation was removed shortly before noon when figures from two-thirds of the precincts showed the defeat of 7,100 for Congressman Zebulon Weaver and his election was announced. A few minutes later R. Kenneth Smathers, Republican opponent, conceded Mr. Weaver's re-election. Last night Mr. Smathers had asserted that he could not concede until all returns were in.

SHOOTING AFFAIRS AND FIGHTS OVER ELECTION

Several Persons Wounded or Hurt in Western North Carolina. Asheville, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Two shooting affrays, several fist fights and a bomb throwing were reported today from western North Carolina counties as a result of the election yesterday.

Walker Bredlove, Democratic judge of elections in Jackson county, is in a Brevard hospital suffering from five wounds as the result of an argument with Jim Bryson, a Republican, about absentee ballots at a Jackson county polling place.

Bryson, said to have been slightly wounded himself in the affray, is being sought by the police as the man who fired the shots at Bredlove.

The election judge will recover, hospital attaches state, unless complications set in.

Following a meeting of representative citizens this morning a reward of $500 was offered for the apprehension of parties guilty of throwing a bomb in Brevard yesterday. The explosion occurred directly in front of Republican headquarters and shattered windows on both sides of the street, practically demolishing a parked automobile. Mayor C. W. Whitmore is head of a committee which is investigating the bomb throwing and arrests are expected.

Samuel Owen was shot yesterday, it is alleged, when he sought to intervene in an election argument near a polling place in Gloucester township, Transylvania county, will recover. He received wounds in the hand and leg as a result, it is reported, of an attempt to wrest a pistol from the hands of Sylvanus M. Call, who has been arrested and lodged in jail at Brevard.

THE COTTON MARKET

Opened Barely Steady at Advance of 2 Points to Decline of 10 Points.

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The cotton market opened barely steady today at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 10 points, all active months being lower under heavy over-holiday hedging by the South, combined with liquidation and local selling.

January sold off to 12.55, active months generally showing net losses of 9 to 15 points before the end of the first hour. Trading was active. Selling was promoted by a favorable view of the weekly weather report and a tendency to increase estimates of the crop, but Liverpool and the trade were fair buyers, while there also was considerable covering at the decline.

A southwestern authority reported that advances pointed to an increase of 7.1 over the final report of acreage harvested last year which would mean a crop of 18,200,000 bales, but added that a considerable portion might not be picked, owing to labor and weather conditions at the low price.

Cotton futures opened fairly steady. Dec. 12.60; Jan. 12.07; March 12.88; May 13.00; July 13.32.

In New York, Massachusetts and Oklahoma 3 Republican Senators Were Defeated on Tuesday.

FOUR CONTESTS TO BE DECIDED YET

If Democrats Split Even in Them Control of Next Senate Will Pass From the Republicans.

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Once again working control of Congress may pass into the hands of the republican insurgents from the western states.

Slowly mounting returns from yesterday's general election foreshadow the return of the insurgent group to power in the Senate, and indicate a reduction of the republican majority in the House of Representatives.

The Senate insurgents had their ranks augmented by Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, and John W. Blaine, of Wisconsin, while the democrats authored three republican stalwarts—Wadsworth in New York, Butler in Massachusetts, and Harrell in Oklahoma—thus reducing the republican majority to six.

In addition, the Democrats threaten to capture republican seats from Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Arizona, and believe they still have a chance of victory in Indiana and Oregon.

With more than 3-4 of the seats in the House accounted for, the Democrats have made a net gain of six, or thirty less than the number necessary to give them control. Should they pick up even half of the missing seats, which they hope to take from the republicans, the insurgents would be placed in a commanding position.

Several of the Senate contests furnished surprises in the pluralities by which some of the republican senators went down to defeat.

William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, who has served two years by appointment as the successor of the late Henry Cabot Lodge, was snowed under in Massachusetts by former Senator David I. Walsh, by a plurality exceeding 40,000.

President Coolidge in an effort to bring about the election of his friend and political counselor, had thrown his influence behind the Butler candidacy. The President even journeyed from Washington to Northampton to personally cast his vote.

After nearly twelve years of service in the Senate, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., was caught in a democratic tidal wave in New York which again swept Alfred E. Smith into the governorship, and sends Robert F. Wagner, former jurist, to the new senate.

Prohibition figured largely in this contest, with the anti-saloon league placing in the field against Wadsworth, Francis W. Christman, an independent republican, who polled more than 200,000 votes, although Wadsworth was a wet the democrats charged him with a turning a flip-flop on the wet and dry question.
