

Washington Keeps Eyes To South For Possible New "Break" In Mexico

So Far Nothing Has Been Done in Response to Request for Aid From President Diaz, of Nicaragua.

REVOLT AGAINST CALLES IS SEEN

News of Revolutionary Activity Against Calles Is Emerging From Mexico With Increasing Volume

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—While news of revolutionary activity against the Calles government is emerging from Mexico with increasing volume, the Washington government is studying the request of President Diaz, of Nicaragua, for aid in restoring peace there in the face of "Mexican aid of revolution and armed intervention in Nicaraguan political affairs."

The proposal of the new conservative president of Nicaragua leaves the United States broad latitude in any means it might care to employ in aiding this government, ranging from further diplomatic efforts to bring the contending factions together, to the use of naval forces in quelling disorders and preventing the arming of rebels from Mexican filibustering ships.

Meanwhile Secretary Kellogg's expression of concern over outside interference in Nicaraguan affairs, and the obviously increasing tension in Mexican-American relations is being discussed with intense interest in Mexico City where a feeling prevails that the situation contains possibly grave aspects.

Lacking official representation from the government, Mexican officials have declined to comment directly. Their attitude, however, is that it is only natural for Mexico to desire a sphere of influence in Central America where they feel its interests are identical to those of the United States, that the American government has no right to criticize Mexico for these desires and that while individual Mexicans may have aided Nicaraguan revolutionists the Calles government has not interfered in Nicaraguan affairs.

Active Spindle Hours Totalled $3,360,684.073 With 37,428,398 Spindles in Place

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Cotton spinning in October showed slightly increased inactivity over September this year, and was much more active than in October last, the Census Bureau's monthly report indicated today.

Active spindle hours for October totalled $3,360,684.073, or an average of 224 hours per spindle in place, compared with 217.4 hours in October last.

NOT ALARMED OVER REPORTS OF REVOLT

Mexican Officials at Texas Border Points Say That Threats of Revolution Are "Big Bluff."

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Mexican officials at Texas border points decline to become alarmed over persistent rumors of an impending rebellion.

Statements of Adolfo de la Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, and his brother Alfonso, who enforces were well prepared to start a revolution were characterized as "big bluffs" by General Raymon Lopez, commander of the federal garrison at Juarez.

General Lopez said he was amused by a manifesto issued by Gen. Nicholas Fernandez, former follower of Francisco Pancho-Villa, calling on Chihuahua citizens to rally to the support of Huerta in a movement to overthrow the Calles government.

WILL BUDGET ACT BE SCRAPPED BY THE NEXT LEGISLATURE?

Who Is Going to Be Listened to by the Legislators, Walter Murphy or Angus McLean?

QUESTION NOW IS MUCH DISCUSSED

Is the State Bigger Than One Individual?—Time for Carelessness in Expenditures Past.

Raleigh, Tribune Bureau Sir Walter Hotel, J. C. BASKERVILL (Staff Correspondent)

Who is going to be listened to in the next legislature, Walter Murphy, or Governor A. W. McLean? Will the accomplishments of the present administration so far be undone, the executive budget act be demolished and the coffers of the state thrown open willy-nilly for the political pie eaters to

These are questions that are being much discussed not only here in the capital of the state but in all sections of the state, since the recent statement by Murphy in which he assailed the executive budget act and announced that he would lead a movement to scrap it in the present legislature.

That Murphy has openly declared war on Governor McLean and the present administration is taken for granted, and his statement is regarded as making a serious issue of safe and sane progress in keeping with the new one derived from the present system of taxation?

There is no use for anyone to try to deny, of course, that there is not some very well defined dissatisfaction with the state's budget system.

TAX REDUCTIONS TO CAUSE BIG BATTLE IN NEXT CONGRESS

There Are Indications Now That Principle Battle Will Rage About This One Question.

DEMOCRATS ARE GAINING POWER

It is Also Disclosed That Republicans Are Not Agreed on the Administration Plan.

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Indications that the principle battle of the approaching session of Congress will rage about the tax reduction continued to multiply.

Not only has opposition to the administration plan for reducing the treasury surplus to taxpayers through credit allowances on their payments next year been disclosed in Republican circles, but Democratic leaders have made considerable progress in preparing for a drive looking to enactment of a permanent tax reduction instead of waiting as Secretary Mellon advises, for a more complete demonstration of the present law's operation.

A definite plan to reduce taxes by at least $325,000,000 has been worked out by Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, and Representative Gardner, of Texas, the ranking Democratic members of the Senate finance, and House ways and means committees.

ORMISTON CHARGES 'DEAR DARLING MAN' NOTE

Attorney Makes Public a Letter He Says Was Written by the Missing Radio Operator.

"BUNK," SAYS THE RADIO OPERATOR

Ormiston Also Denies Any Knowledge of Feminine Finery Found in Trunk in New York.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Edward H. S. Martin, attorney for Kenneth G. Ormiston, missing radio operator, of Angeles Temple, Los Angeles, today made public a letter purporting to be from Ormiston, who branded a "bunk" the "dear darling man" letter

Stating that his attorney had informed him that the "dear public" wants to know what I think about the amazing "trunk and love letter" story, Ormiston wrote, "My opinion could be adequately expressed in one word—bunk."

Regarding the trunk, I naturally have no means of knowing. I do not know if the trunk reported as delivered to Mr. Keyes in Los Angeles, is or is not my property. As for its contents, I know no more than any suitable reader of the scandal sheets.

Now we come to that touching, though cryptic little letter, I hasten to thank Mr. Keyes for a real thrill. "The newspapers inform me in great headlines that I was a dear darling man in some lady's estimation. While I am really an optimist, I knew there must be a catch in it somewhere, and sure enough upon reading through many lengthy columns, I found it was only Mr. Keyes trying to establish a reputation as an expert in the art of cryptography."

BOY'S ARM BROKEN BY PRINCIPAL IS ALLEGED

Mother of Lad Lodges Charges Against J. W. Brown, of Fairview High School

Ashville, Nov. 18.—Seizing the arm of a 10-year-old pupil, Joseph Walter Brown, principal of Fairview high school, twisted it with such force that he broke the arm in two places, according to the charge lodged against the principal by the mother of the boy. The display of pedagogical temper occurred after some of the smaller boys had reported that Paul McLean had been placing his finger over the spigot in the washroom an attempt to squirt water on other pupils.

Indignation ran high at Fairview last night. The episode that led to the issuance of the warrant, members of the community state, is only one of a number of alleged brutalities of which Principal Brown has been guilty.
