Soft Tan Flannel Makes a Useful Resort Coat. Flannel of a soft tan is used for the effective sports topcoat shown here, which suggests a design that may be carried out in a great variety of materials. A basket-weave fabric, for instance, in any pastel tweed would be smart with the same patch pockets, small collar and side folds for fullness. Pastel tweeds are finding smart favor for children's suits, and this means, without a doubt, that the same tweeds will be popular for resort and travel coats.

Mrs. Parks Hostess to Book Club. Mrs. J. G. Parks was hostess to the Friday Afternoon Book Club Friday at 3:30 at her home on South Union Street. Before the regular meeting, a short musical program was enjoyed. Little Misses Louise Parks, Grace Thomas and Lorraine Cress played beautiful selections on the piano. Then Miss Elizabeth Parks gave a gypsy dance and a toe dance accompanied by appropriate music on the Victrola. Both dances were beautifully executed and the effect was very pleasing.

When the regular program was taken up, current events were given and discussed as usual. Then Mrs. B. R. Craven gave a humorous reading which was greatly enjoyed. It was entitled: "Elizabeth Eliza writes her club paper." Next a St. Patrick's Day contest was put on by Mrs. Craven, and in this Mrs. Frank Armfield won the prize.

After this the hostess invited the guests into the dining room where a lovely luncheon was served, in which the St. Patrick colors were used with pleasing effect. The lace-covered table was decorated with a huge bowl of narcissus and tall green candles. Place cards took the form of Irish gentlemen. During the luncheon each guest was called on to give an Irish joke; and as one good joke called for another, the guests lingered around the beautiful table till a late hour.

Varsity Chooses Girl Cheerleader. Baton Rouge, La.—Male varsity cheer leaders must look to their laurels now, for the co-eds have entered the field and are leading the grand stand fans with success. Although girl cheer leaders are still considered unusual in some sections of the country, Louisiana State University defied convention and officially appointed Elizabeth McGuire to lead its shouting.

Policewoman Uses Sympathy for Weapon. Wichita, Kas.—Miss Inah Mae Peterson, director of the women's bureau of the municipal police department, a regular member of the force, uses no club or handcuffs. Common sense and sympathy, she says, are her weapons against the incorrigible girls with whom she comes in contact. More than 900 cases came under her supervision last year and hundreds of letters from the girls attest to her success with them.

Co-operative societies of fruit and vegetable growers now exist in all but three of the 48 states. Immediately following the marriage and during the evening Mr. and Mrs. Scott left for their honeymoon in Cuba and Bermuda after which they will make their home in Atlanta.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Alice Boone Cross, Marion, N. C., and Jane Stamey, Shelby, N. C., who wore green taffeta; Eddie Thompson, Concord, N. C., and Mildred Michaux, Greensboro, in sunset taffeta; Kathryn Carpenter, Concord, N. C., and Elizabeth Gilkey, Marion, N. C., in orchid taffeta. Their dresses were made alike with basque bodices and full skirts with uneven hemlines. In the front of the skirts were insets of georgette beaded with gold and silver beads. Silver kid slippers completed the toilettes.

Each carried a colonial bouquet of old fashioned flowers in yellow, lavender, pink and blue tints framed in a lace holder and tied with contrasting shaded ribbon. Mrs. Frederick B. Spencer and Mrs. Clark Hungerford, Macon, Ga., were the dames of honor. Mrs. Spencer was gowned in blue-orchid georgette heavily beaded in pastel shades. Mrs. Hungerford was in pink georgette made with a tight basque and full skirt, embroidered with silver sequins. Both carried arm bouquets of pink and yellow roses, lavender and blue sweet peas and pink and yellow snapdragons tied with French bow knots of pink ribbons.
