Raleight, April 13.—Governor A.
W. McLean expects to spend the next ten days of two weeks in Wisconsin, at a camp in the north woods, where he will rest and attempt to recuperate more fully from the attack of influence for the suffered during the last general assembly, and from which he never entirely recovered.

Signed to the chair factory to start with.

Seagraves was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Judge W. A. Devin, after he had thrown himself on the mercy of the court and admitted that be had made false entries in the books of the bank, which were responsible for its failure. There was a shortage of approximately $229,000 when the bank closed.

The trial, which started Monday, when Seagraves admitted his guit and was immediately sentenced.

He had nothing to say when he was assigned to the chair factory this morning. Governor to Rest for Two Weeks.

What Will State Surplus Be?

Tribune Bureau
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, April 13.—How much will
the surplus, or credit balance amount to in the state treasury, by June 30, 1927, the end of the present fiscal year? Will it amount to $2,000,000 or more this year?

This is a question being asked as a result of the state auditor's statement for March, showing a credit balance on hand of $3,475,356.19 for the month of March—and the largest credit balance on the books for many months.

Hamilton Back at State Prison.

Raleight, April 13,—"Here I am, Warden, ready to serve the rest of my sentence: lock me up."
So spoke Leon Hamilton, whose parole was revoked several days ago by Goyernor A. W. McLean, because its terms had been violated, when Hamilton walked into the office of 10r. J. H. Norman, warden of the state prison late Tuesday, and surrendered voluntarily. He denied that he had been evading arrest, although Wake county deputies have been searching for him several days. He has approximately two more years to serve on a sentence for highway robbery.

SPENT $21,000 IN A DAY TO ADDRESS PUBLIC

William C. Durant spent $21.000 in advertising Thursday to announce his policies to the American people. Through J. H. Newfark, Inc., advertising agency, New York, he used 1,200 lines each in forty-eight newspapers in twenty-nine cities. These newspapers have an aggregate circulation of $8,800,000.

And he used newspapers because, said he, "they are the only way to reach all the people quickly."

Mr. Durant plans to concentrate most of his automotive attention on a new six-cylinder Star.

DEATH LEFT UNSOLVED

Coroner's Verdict Is That He Was Slain by Gun in Hands of Unknown Party.
Shelby, April 12.—So far as the coroner's jury is concerned the death
on a lonely road last Thursday night of young Harrison Ramseur will remain a baffling mystery for time to in unravel. If the passing years bring up nothing else the new mound in Sunset cemetery here may keep forever the secret of its cause.
After a fourth session this afternoon at 5 o'clock Coroner Eskridge and his jury issued a report reading:
"Deceased came to his death from a shot fired from a pistol in the hands
of an unknown party."
Further than that the report says nothing that might be construed to be a definite statement. As it is the mystery that has gripped the town for nearly a week remains apen for discussion, street opinion varying from suicide to accidental death or murder.
Coroner Eskridge stated after the probe this afternoon no new evidence came up, and only one witness not having been up before was called.
This was Frank Hoyle, Jr., pal and several officials say that after the body was at the undertaking parlors a powder burn could be seen.

Eugene G. Hester. Injured in Auto Accident Near Winston-Salem on Thursday Night. Winston-Salem. April 13.—(P)— Eugene G. Hester, real estate dealer of Asheville, who sustained serious in-turies in automobile serious in-the Yadkinville road late Tuesday afternoon, is expected to recover, according to physicians attending him. Mr. Hester, who had been here several days visiting his sister and son, suffered a badly disfigured face as a result of the accident when he was thrown to the ground and his car turned turtle. He was alone when the accident occurred. Parties passing summoned an ambulance and rushed him to a hospital where he remained unconscious for several hours.
