SAYS RABBITS WHISTLE.

The ever amicable George Andrews has attempted to settle the question by assuring both parties that since the animal whistled when it became excited then that animal must have been a skunk.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Windsor, Colorado, used a novel scheme to raise money. Every woman attending the social was charged a penny an inch for every inch of her waist measure. Forty-eight dollars was collected.

Chief L. A. Talbirt, of the Concord police department, in another column of this paper today, calls dog owners attention to the fact that between April 11th and October 31st, of each year, it is unlafted for any dog to run at large within the corporate limits of Concord or within one mile therof, unless such dog shall wear a tag under authority of the law, attached to its collar, showing that it has received rabies yaccine treatment during the current year.

Dog owners who violate this ordinance are liable to fine or imprisonment and police can shoot their dogs on sight. Chief L. A. Talbirt, of the Co

Any veterinary surgeon can admin-ister the vaccine, it is pointed out, and likewise has authority to issue the tag which bears proof of the admin-istration of the rabies serum.

Chief Talbirt stated in discussing the ordinance that such legislation has proved beneficial in the past and expressed the opinion that there will be no mad-dog scare here this year if and when provisions of this law are complied with.

THREE SCHOOLS OF COUNTY COMPLETE
THE YEAR'S WORK

Liberty Ridge, Bear Creek and Rimer Schools Close After Successful Scholas-tic Year.

Three more public schools of the county completed their work today, it was aunounced by Prof. J. B. Robertson, county school, superintendent.
They are the Liberty Ridge, Rimer and Bear Creek schools.
"The work in these schools has been very sattsfactory during the scholastic year," Mr. Robertson stated, Final examinations have been held and certificates of graduation prepared for those who successfully completed grammar grade work in the schools.

It was explained by Mr. Robertson that these schools closed later than a majority of schools due to the fact that they were late beginning work last full.

principle adventurer of Greenyille. Miss., after having survived the hardships of a long tramp from his home to the Crescent City, is ill—from eating gren banamas.

The boy, Edward Richards, Jr., telists an amazing story of how he worked hard, slept little, and after arriving here, ate a large number of banamas on the riverfront and then lay down to sleep in a parked truck, to wake up feverish and with indigestion almost stifling him.

He and a number of boys were playing baseball just behind the leves at his home, he said, when the crywent up that it was breaking just above them. Persons fled in all directions believing, that the turbulent waters of the Mississippi might pour over them at any moment. The boys scattered and Young Edwards ran for home.

"When I reached my house," said the boy, "I found it deserted. The levee had not yet broken and there was no wafter around our house, but I suppose my parents, my brother was no wafter around our house, but I suppose my parents, my brother the suppose my parents, my brother was no wafter around our house, but I suppose my parents, my brother senset and my two sisters. Ruby and Ruth, hed fled because of the alarm. "While I was searching for them I was warned to yet to the levee and so I ran further up the river and took refuge on a levee, along with many others, where the dyke was believed to be strongest."

The boy told of working on the leve for $1.40 a.day just above Greenyile, but that he was unable to keep it—up because of the alarm.
