This Cape-Coat of Black Shows a Touch of Summer Fur.

Many of the afternoon coats for summer show a sparing use of fur, and when this touch of fur appears there is no smarter combination than black with beige.

For instance, supple black satin makes the cape-coat above, with dyed ermine making the slender collar.

The tiny felt hat is beige to match the fur. This discreet choice of color for the hat and coat makes them smart with practically any summer frock.

Women Pickets on Duty in Front of Main Street Store.

Salisbury Post.

Something unusual and rather novel for Salisbury was observed by passers by on Main Street today, women pickets being stationed in front of a local mercantile establishment displaying a big placard on which was printed in large letters these words: "This store is unfair to organized labor."

This is a part of the campaign now being waged by the recently organized retail clerks' union for an 8 o'clock closing Saturday nights.

The sight of young women on picket duty displaying the "unfair" signs created much interest and comment. Practically every one passing took notice of the new stunt.

The bearers of these signs took turn in picket duty. They stationed themselves on the outer edge of the sidewalk, facing the store picketed, and performed the duty assigned them in a quiet manner, seemingly being content to advise passers by, through the medium of their placards, of their mission.

Nurses to Be Remembered on Poppy Day.

The American Legion Auxiliary of the Fred Y. McConnell post is sending gifts to the sick nurses in Ward I, Oteson, on Poppy Day.

Dainty bed jackets in the pastel shades have been made by the Auxiliary members for each of the twenty nurses, who are unable to be "on exercise."

The proceeds from the poppy sales on Saturday are used in the work of brightening the lives of these "shut-ins," and also for the orphaned children of the World War Veterans. Remember this, when asked to buy a poppy.

At the district meeting of the Auxiliary, held in Mooresville this month, it was announced that the Fred Y. McConnell Post Auxiliary led this district in the membership drive.

SOUL AND SUBSTANCE.

Who can say what is meant when beauty discloses Her soul in her diamonds, or rainbows or roses? Though fleeting as echoes from soft sounding-bells, Her love is the story that kindness tells.

For beauty with meaning more worthy than these, Lies hidden in those who drink misery's lees; You idiot, there, in his corner is God; Await for your kindness, your curse, or your rod.

If of heaven, in life, we ever partake, Remember, of kindness our heaven we make; For kindness is heaven, and whither we go, We carry it with us, we reap what we sow.

-F. J. Perry.

WAR MOTHERS

Regular Meeting Held Tuesday Afternoon at Home of Mrs. D. L. Bost.

The Cabarrus Chapter of War Mothers met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. D. L. Bost on South Union street. About thirty members answered to the roll-call and the names of three new members were added.

In the absence of the chaplain Mrs. W. L. Bell, the devotional exercises were abbreviated. Mrs. C. M. Sappfield reading Psalm 24 and all present joining in the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour conducted the meeting, calling attention to the large and beautiful banner of the North Carolina Chapter which was presented to the State at the recent convention held in Washington, N. C. The banner was designed, painted and presented to the State Chapter by Mrs. Cozart, of Washington.

The various committees then gave their reports and much routine business was attended to. One of the most touching incidents connected with the sale of carnations for Mothers' Day was the visit of the committee to the jail, and the appreciation of the eighteen prisoners, among them three ex-service men, for the gift of the flowers to be worn in memory of their mothers.

Deep sorrow was expressed for the passing away of another member, Mrs. Frank Mills, whose funeral services were held on the morning of May 26th.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was the report of the convention read by the President, Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour. This report was so detailed, clear and interesting that each one could imagine having attended the convention personally.

After the mutual benediction the Chapter enjoyed a social hour and delicious refreshments served by the hostesses, Mesdames D. L. Bost, S. J. Bost, J. F. Goodson and Porter.

News and Views of Women

Woman Analyzes Troubles of India. New York—Physical and not political causes are at the base of the woes of India and the Indian people, according to Katherine Mayo, who, in her book, "Mother India," published today, says:

"The whole pyramid of the Indian's woes, material and spiritual, rests upon a rock-bottom physical base. This base is, simply, his manner of getting into the world, and his sex-life thenceforward."

"Mother India" does not deal with the political situation, but attempts a comprehensive study of social and sanitary conditions of that country. Miss Mayo visited hospitals and harems; talked with princes and politicians, as well as religious leaders, missionaries and British administrators. The author says the western world would be shocked by the revelations of the religious and social customs in India which destroy the health of its women and children.

Paeks 25,488 Oranges in Unique Contest.

Anaheim, Cal.—Wrapping and packing oranges at an average rate of one every two seconds was the speed displayed by Miss Constance Estrada in qualifying for a packing contest said to be unique in this country.

In eight hours Miss Estrada wrapped and placed in position in their boxes 25,488 oranges which is more than the ordinary city population of 25,000 would consume in a day.

Feminine Anglers Outdo Male Waltons.

Evansville, Wis.—Fly fishing is essentially a feminine sport, in spite of its appeal to legions of men, believes O. W. Smith, naturalist, author and minister. In accuracy and delicacy of throw women have the best of it, he observes, although men cast for greater distances. He says that at the Wisconsin lakes where he spends many months of each year women anglers are increasing and that they become adept at casting more quickly than men.

Organize "Open Door" for Women's Equality.

London—The "Open Door," an organization seeking equality in industry and the professions between men and women as well as equal franchise, has been founded by Mrs. Elizabeth Abbott, British suffragist, who plans to develop it into an international movement.

"Many are alarmed at the tendency to legislate with a view to improving the lot of women workers," Mrs. Abbott says. "But the imposition of special legislative restrictions on women leaving men free to make and vary their conditions opens the way to grave abuse."

Many eminent men are members of the "Open Door." Lord Balfour, of Burghley, acts as treasurer.

Mrs. Abbott is secretary and editor of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance.

Charles Johnson's Sentence Commuted. Raleigh, May 25.—Governor McLean tonight commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Charlie Johnson, Charlotte negro, who would have died Friday morning for killing John W. Daniel. The commutation is the result of a letter written by Judge James L. Webb, who doubts seriously the guilt of Johnson and who suggested that the judge declare that the purpose when the passed sentence was pronounced for Johnson. His lawyer serves that when he suggests submission of matter in the degree with 30 years sentence. Prisoner declined to accept Solicitor Carpenter joins the quest.
