

Ashe Boys, Girls To Aid In Food Production Work

Many Of The Schools Have Been Contacted By Farm
Leaders Of County

Hundreds of Ashe county boys and girls are already making definite plans to carry out some food production project for their contribution to the war effort. About half of the schools in the county have already been contacted by members of the county agent's office and the boys and girls with their parents' consent have signed an "Enlistment for Victory" sheet and checked the job which they can do. Harvey Payne, assistant county agent explained.

The "Enlistment for Victory" is essentially a 4-H club program because the 1,500,000 club members in the U. S. carry out these projects anyway. This year, however, the government has requested that every boy and girl over 10 years of age do something special toward contributing to the supplies of food, clothing, munitions and necessary equipment needed by the armed forces to wage a successful and victorious war, it was pointed out.

It is needless to say that some of the smaller children will not be able to do all the jobs connected with each project such as plowing and other heavy work connected with gardening or crops. With these jobs the parents are asked to help and also assist in the purchasing of seeds, fertilizer, baby chicks, calves or feed in order to carry out a project, leaders explained.

"If your son or daughter wants to do something to help win the war, give them the responsibility of carrying out some useful project which they can sell and receive the proceeds from, this will stimulate their interest and make better farm boys and girls of them. Any other boys or girls of 4-H club age who have not enlisted in the food for Victory program are asked to contact either their local 4-H club leader or the County Agent's office and enlist in some project", Mr. Payne said.

Place Orders For Seed Beans Now

Bean Acreage Should Be Reported To County Agent's Office Very Soon

County Agent Roy Crouse pointed out this week that it was important for all farmers wanting bean seed to place their orders at once so that seed dealers may secure the seed. Mr. Crouse explained that while there is some shortage of seed that the dealers will try to fill orders that they have and for this reason it is important that orders be placed early.

Mr. Crouse also pointed out that farmers should report their proposed bean acreage to his office in order that the records be complete and that a labor survey be made. "We want to have enough available labor when the beans are ready to be picked," he said.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

While we have not heard so much about them, our air-borne command is inferior to none. We have thousands of these especially trained troops and the glider is a necessary factor in their successful operation.

We build gliders in three types and their capacity is a military secret. The type shown here costs about $19,000 each. Buy War Bonds with at least ten percent of your income every payday and help pay for these gliders for our intrepid fighting men. U. S. Treasury Department

Revenue And School Bills Are Debated By Legislature

Raleigh — Two major bills, one to raise $105,000,000 in revenue and the other to set up a State-wide nine-month school term, were debated in the Legislature yesterday. And in the hours the Assembly was not in session, committees worked industriously to report on a multitude of bills, most of which were local.

Apparently determined to reach final adjournment within a fortnight, the Legislature kept a weather eye on its joint appropriations committee which was concerning itself over a $3,507,651 deficit. The spending group booked another executive session today in an effort to eliminate some of the difference between the $122,357,078 appropriations and the $118,849,427 expected to be

Black-Out Test Catches Many With Lights On

Good Cooperation Reported,
Considering Many Did Not Understand Signals

Ashe county, like some other sections of North Carolina, was caught napping Tuesday night by the black-out. The confusion, however, on the part of most people was caused by their lack of understanding the signals, officials pointed out.

The effective work of the wardens soon had the lights out in the Jeffersons and nearby sections that were reached.

Some residents turned off all lights at the warning signal and thought that the second, which was the air-raid proper signal, was the all-clear. This impression, was soon corrected, however, by the wardens. The black-out lasted approximately one hour, from 9 until 10:00 o'clock.

Except for the Asheville district it was apparently state-wide. Chief Air Raid Warden Bernard B. Graybeal said that taking the misunderstanding into consideration, that he considered it fairly successful in Ashe.

Axis Thrust Halted In N. Africa; Reds Retake Nazis Bases

Rommel Is Forced To Relax Pressure On Tunisian Front

The spot light of the war was turned on North Africa this week where the Allied forces have been engaged in a bitter struggle with crack Axis troops and have been pushed back in several sectors.

Hurled back in one sector and stalled in another, the German armored units of Marshal Erwin Rommel relaxed their pressure along the Tunisian front yesterday, giving the stubborn allied defense forces their first rest of the bitter, three-day struggle to keep Nazi spearheads from cracking their lines.

"The fighting has died down," said a terse dispatch from the front, and both sides apparently prepared to make the most of the lull by regrouping and bringing up supplies and reinforcements. In the hills north of the Kasserine gap, Rommel's most dangerous thrust had been halted by (Continued on Page 4)

Many Register For Ration Book No. 2 In County

Registration Will Continue Through Friday; All Expected To Register

Hundreds of Ashe county people have already been issued Ration Book No. 2 this week through the schools and registration and issuance which continues through tomorrow is expected to be completed at that time.

As announced last week, all of the schools of the county will be open from 2:30 until 5:00, through Friday for the registration of the public. Officials said they wanted to make it plain that registration at the schools does not begin until 2:30 and individuals are asked not to try to register before this time as it interrupts school work.

Ralph Campbell, clerk of the Ration Board, said that registration plans were moving along as per schedule with some few misunderstandings.

Merchants report quieter business this week with few types of canned goods offered for sale.

Merchants this week were given large charts showing the points of the various rationed items. These are to be posted in the stores. Merchants who have not received them are asked to call at their post office for them.

A partial table showing the point values of various canned goods is published today on page 8 by The Post for the convenience of the readers.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard last night denounced "irresponsible sources" for circulating reports that the nation faces a food famine and food riots as a result of canned goods rationing.

His words were prompted by publication of a dispatch quoting his aides as saying the food shortage is so acute that they "just don't know what the people are going to eat."

Should Apply For Farm Machinery

Purchase Certificates May Be Secured From The County
AAA Office

"Farmers who need fencing wire, either, woven or barbed, may obtain purchase certificates after they have located the wire in the hands of a dealer or company," County Agent Roy Crouse said. Those who are requesting wire should locate it now and apply at the County AAA office for a purchase certificate, it was pointed out.

Applicants for farm machinery must locate the machine in the hands of a dealer before filing application with the farm machinery rationing committee, it was stated.

Farmers are urged to repair their old farm machinery and make out with it this year if possible as the supply of new machinery is very limited. "Repair your mowing machine, planters, drills and other machines now. If your order is placed with a dealer for repair parts at one you will stand a better chance of getting what you need. Everybody who wants new machinery may not be able to get it due to rationing," Mr. Crouse said.

WAR FUND DRIVE OPENS MARCH 5

It was announced yesterday by Sharpe S. Shoemaker, chairman of the War Fund Drive for the Ashe County Chapter of the Red Cross, that the drive would officially open throughout the county next Friday, March 5.

Before this time materials will be sent out to the various schools and workers in the community in order that they may have what they need to cooperate. A list of workers is being made by Chairman Shoemaker at this time and all volunteers will be welcome. Anyone not contacted by Mr. Shoemaker and wishing to work in the drive is asked to get in touch with him.

"We have $4,300 to raise and it is going to take work and giving on the part of many of us", Mr. Shoemaker declared. A list of workers and plans are to be announced next week.
