County Still Behind On Quota; More Contributions Are Sought

A checkup late yesterday revealed that Ashe county is still nearly $2,000.00 short of the goal of $5,000.00 sought in the United War Fund drive which is to be continued indefinitely until quotas are reached.

Only two schools have reported on the "Dime Day", West Jefferson and Lansing. Those that have not observed this day are urged to do so. Schools as well as communities are asked to have some special events to raise money. Jefferson school is having a double-header basketball program tonight for the benefit of the fund. Other schools and communities are asked to have benefit games, box suppers, pie suppers or some other forms of wholesome recreation or entertainment for the benefit of the
