Ashe Lamb Pool Postponed Until Early In July

Market Is Expected To Pick Up After July 4; Little Demand Now

H. D. Quessenberry, county agent, said yesterday that due to the flooded market and slight demand for lambs, that the lamb pool originally planned for this month had been postponed until a later date and would be held as early in July as conditions

He pointed out that it probably will be held July 4 or July 8 and that a more definite announcement, pending market conditions would be made prior to that time, "We are anxious for the farmers to get as good a price as possible and do not want to put lambs on the market while it is flooded," Agent Quessenberry

Summer Arrives Cool And Damp

Summer officially arrived here on Saturday with some of the coolest weather that had been felt here in some weeks. The rains accentuated the coolness of the atmosphere and coats and fires were brought into use. Friday night the thermometer dropped slightly below 40 degrees according to some unofficial reports. The temperature remained unusually dool this week. Many summer visitors shivered even with their coats on.

Commissioners Met On Monday To Consider Proposed Budget For Year

A budget estimate for Ashe county for the fiscal year of 1947-48 setting up a total proposed expenditure of $239,600.00 and fixing the tax rate at $2.25, the same as that of last year, was submitted to the county commissioners on Monday by the count accountant, C. S. Neal.

The county's estimated taxable property is $5,400,000.00. With the tax rate of $2.25 the estimated tax levy is $121,500.00 or $109,350.00 after ten per cent is allowed for insolvents.

From tax penalties and costs, insolvent and intangible taxes and other similar sources the county expects to raise $14,300 in addition to funds from state and federal social security. The estimated budget, which is around $35,000 more than last ville, who will be guest speak- year, contains $27,830.00 for schools, badly needed. There is also a slight increase in expenses of the welfare department, county agent's department and some of the others.

Demand Expected To Be Good On Quality Beans; Cool Weather Delays Crop

The 1947 bean season will officially get underway in this section on Tuesday, July 1, as both of the local auction markets open. indications point to a successful season as the crop, which was delayed by cool weather, appears to show promise of full production, after recent rains.

Last year, according to reports from the county agent's office more than 400,000 bushels of beans were sold on the local mar-Kets for an average of over $2.00 per bushel, bringing an income of around $800,000. This year the initial outlook reveals a good demand and equally good prices on the best quality beans.

According to farm surveys there is a slight increase in acreage this season and with favorable weather, the crop should exceed last years.
