

The Everyday Counselor

Rev. Herbert Spaugh, D. D.

Are you a procrastinator? Do you put off until tomorrow what you should do today? Is the Mexican word "manana," meaning "tomorrow," a prominent word in your vocabulary? If so, then read this definition of "manana" by an unknown author which was sent to me by a correspondent who is a well-known news commentator: "The watchword of the weary, the slogan of the slumbering, the password of the peopless." That definition is too good to keep.

We Americans need to read that, as we were certainly "slumbering" when World War I, and again when World War II, came upon us.

Colonel Robert L. Scott, famous aviator of the Army Air Forces and author of the book, "God is My Co-Pilot," from which a motion picture of the same name was taken, delivered a noteworthy address in Charlotte, N. C., recently. In it he sounded a solemn warning that if we are to avert World War III and not be destroyed by it, we dare not slip back into the slumbering attitude which we had when World War I and again when World War II came upon us.

He said that Almighty God had already given us two chances, and he didn't think that we would get a third. He sounded a stirring note of spiritual and military preparation. He reminded us that we are living in a world where a great totalitarian and godless power faces us.

I have often quoted Saint Paul's motto for dealing with evil, "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good."

Grogan-McIntosh Vows Are Spoken

In a pretty home ceremony September 20 at 5 o'clock, Miss Golda Elizabeth Grogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard G. Grogan, of Todd, became the bride of Fyree V. McIntosh, Jr., of Charlotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. McIntosh, of Charlotte.

The wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Boyd at 441 West Boulevard in Charlotte. Dr. Luther Little officiated. The vows were spoken before an improvised background of fern, palms, baskets or white gladioli, and candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride wore a white two-piece suit with green accessories and an orchid shoulder bouquet. She carried a white prayerbook topped with white rosebuds.

Miss Mary F. Carson was the maid of honor and she wore a grey gabardine suit with black accessories and a shoulder bouquet of talisman rosebuds. Harold M. Lominac was the bridegroom's best man.

An informal reception was held after the wedding and wedding cake, ice cream, punch, and accessories were served. Assisting Mrs. Boyd were Miss Carson and Miss Inez Reid.

After a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia, the couple will make their home in Charlotte. For traveling the bride wore a brown gabardine suit.

Twice as a nation we accepted the first part of this motto, but failed to put the second part into practice. We fought two wars to keep from being overcome with evil. Now we must overcome this evil, which is again rearing its head, with good. We must make a practical demonstration of the Christian Gospel in the place of world leadership which we occupy today.

National habits are formed from personal habits. Many of us have a habit of putting off until tomorrow what we should do today. Life is made up of little things. So when we put off the little things, it follows that we put off the big things. We should live each day as if it were our last on earth; doing those things which call for our attention, and if possible doing them now. One of Hitler's famous criticisms of the allies in the last war was, "Too little and too late."

In the parable of the Wise Fool, Jesus Christ pointed a solemn finger of warning towards him that "layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God." (Luke 12:21). He then gave his own motto, "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work." (John 9:4)

Named to Head March of Dimes

Ralph McDonald

For its sixth consecutive year, North Carolina's March of Dimes will be headed in 1948 by Ralph McDonald, of Winston-Salem, educator and civic and political figure.

His appointment was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The 1948 March of Dimes, to be held from Jan. 15-30, will mark the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation, established by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to "lead, direct and unify" the fight against infantile paralysis. The Foundation is supported solely by the March of Dimes each January.

Mr. McDonald is associate director of the extension division of the University of North Carolina, and has organized educational activity of the university across the state through broadcasts and public forums. He has organized the Liberal Arts College Movement, and the Commission for the Defense of Democracy Through Education. He is a former member of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

In announcing that Mr. McDonald again had accepted the March of Dimes chairmanship, Mr. O'Connor revealed that since 1943 infantile paralysis has taken a tragic toll, with more than 72,000 Americans having been stricken.

"Thousands," he warned, "continue to face a long fight for recovery. This summer, unfortunately, we had a 'breathing spell' as polio incidence nationally did not approach the awful total of 1946.

"The cost of the 1946 epidemic alone will run to some $29,000,000, without taking into account the large sums necessary to care for those stricken this summer. We do not know what lets may bring, but we must be prepared."

with green accessories and an orchid shoulder bouquet.

Mrs. McIntosh was graduated from Elkland high school in Todd, attended business school in High Point, and is now employed with

Mrs. Graybeal Hostess To WSCS

Mrs. Gleza Graybeal was hostess to the members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the West Jefferson Methodist church last Wednesday at her home here.

Mrs. B. B. Graybeal led the call of worship with the assistance of Mrs. T. E. Parker and Mrs. A. E. Graybeal.

During the business session, various committees were appointed. Mrs. Jack Rhodes and Mrs. D. A. Sells were appointed on the visiting committee for November. Mrs. J. L. Segraves and Mrs. H. R. Vannoy reported that 12 visits had been made during the month of October.

The subject of the program was "Alcoholism and It's Program" and was discussed under the direction of Mrs. Carl Graybeal with Mrs. J. L. Segraves and Mrs. Sharpe S. Shoemaker taking part in the discussion.

During the social hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments to the twelve members and one visitor, Mrs. James Allen, who were present.

Rehearsal To Be Held For Program

Thirty-eight contestants are planning to play on the amateur program to be held October 24.

A rehearsal will be held at the West Jefferson high school at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Harvey Payne announced, All contestants are urged to be present. If for any reason, some cannot be present, they are asked to contact Mrs. Payne.

Tickets are now on sale for the event, it was pointed out.

TEEN-AGE GROUP TO HAVE PARTY, SAT.

The teen-age party, sponsored by the Ashe County Woman's Club, will be held at the community building, Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced this week.

All teenagers are cordially invited.

The Veterans' Administration in Charlotte, the bridegroom attended Harding high school and Burton junior college and served for two years in the navy. He holds a position with Piedmont and Northern Railway company in Charlotte.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Luther, Mrs. Lorraine Teer, and Miss Geneva Grogan of High Point.

Young calves should be provided clean, dry, well-lighted calf pens and plenty of good hay, grain and protein supplements when they reach the proper age.

Italian rye grass may be grown successfully in nearly every county in the state and it remains green and continues to grow throughout the winter.
