THE JAIL.
Nothing yet has been done in regard to our jail, which is, as we have before stated, an eye-sore to our people.
There are two plaint, emphatical reasons that demand a new jail:
First—It is not secure for the safe keeping of prisoners therein.
Second—That it is impairing to the health of prisoners, even if it was secure.
From a reliable source of information we learn that the sills and framing is in a decaying condition—yes, almost rotten.
If the commissioners and magistrates will meet in joint session and order that a new jail be built we can devise a plan that will be only a nominal cost to the county:
Tear down the present jail, and sell the lot, appropriating the proceeds in the erection of a new one in rear of the Court House.
There is room near the Court House for a jail. Then why not? This would not only be an ornament to the town, but to the entire county, besides being a great convenience.
Again, we, in all earnest consideration, appeal to the Board of County Commissioners and Justices of the Peace to look into this important matter.
Suppose a capital crime was committed in this county, we could not keep safe the prisoner. Pay another county to keep what we should ourselves. In the commissioners' proceedings of December 6th we find that they ordered our county treasurer to pay the Sheriff of Orange county $92.52. For what?
For keeping prisoners, which we should have kept ourselves, thus keeping that amount in our county.
At their meeting of December 13th the treasurer was ordered to pay $28.65 for repairing, wood work and black-smithing, done on jail.
Repairing what? A jail, we said, but, pardon us, we retract. An old lull, we should have said, that is capital fuel for a fire.
The Chairman of the Board of Commissioners have called a meeting of the magistrates to meet the 1st Monday in February to look into this matter. Let every magistrate in the county turn out and give this most important matter a thorough, impartial consideration. See notice elsewhere in this issue.

In New York it has become a question whether people who live in hotels ought to be regarded as "of society."
THROUGH the efforts of Hon. Ruden T. Bennett, representative from the 6th North Carolina congressional district, Congress has appropriated $150,000 for the purpose of erecting a public building in Wilmington. Mr. Bennett is an able representative, and ever faithful to his constituency.
SECRETARY LAMAR, of Cleveland's Cabinet, was married on the 5th inst. in Mason, Ga., to Mrs. Holt, who is a true Southern woman of the highest type, the sweetheart of his youth and to whom he has been engaged for a long time. Our Washington correspondents' matrimonial gossip will cease for a while.
A CHICAGO editor and a doctor has just fought a duel, with sabres, about a woman. Two creoles, one being an editor, of New Orleans, were about to fight a duel recently, but was arrested by the police. Two duels have just been fought in Mexico, in each case between an editor and a doctor. This doesn't look like dueling is on the wane. It shows that it is anything but pleasant to be an editor.

THE TRADE DOLLAR.
The bill introduced by Senator Sewell for the redemption of trade dollars, provides that for a period of six months United States trade dollars, if not defaced, mutilated or stamped, shall be received at their face value in paying of all dues of the United States. For the same period, holders of trade dollars, on presentation of the same at the United States depositories may receive in exchange like amounts in face value in standard silver dollars or subsidiary coin. The trade silver dollars shall not be reissued, but shall be received in standard dollars.—Greenboro Patriot.

S. N. FINGER, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has informed the public that the School fund receipts for the fiscal year, ending November 30th are $670,000—an increase of $38,000 over the previous year; that there are in the State 547,000 children of school age; 305,000 enrolled in public schools—an increase of 60,000 over last year. The average attendance was 185,000. He has estimated there are 30,000 pupils in the State in private schools.

MR. JOHN R. WEBSTER has been elected Speaker of the House, over Overman, of Rowan, by 59 to 57, in the present legislature. He has always professed allegiance to the Democratic party. The assembling of the legislature was never a better time for him to prove it; indeed, his democracy was tested. Any man that will allow himself to be used by the Republican party to defeat the Democrats, we doubt his democracy, and as Mr. Worth, of Randolph, said, in speaking of such Independents "May the Lord have mercy upon them."

CONGRESSMAN REID'S RESIGNATION.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 31, 1886.
HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE, SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
Sir—I hereby respectfully resign my office as a Representative in the 49th Congress from the fifth congressional district of the State of North Carolina, to take effect from date.
Respectfully yours,
JAMES W. REID.

INDEPENDENTS.
In reference to what Mr. Worth said concerning Independents the News & Observer of the 6th has this to say: "As honest Mr. Worth said yesterday 'May the Lord have mercy on the soul' of the man who, having been elected by democrats, coming here as a democrat, and openly avowing himself a democrat, permits himself to be used for the advancement of the purposes of the republican party. There can be no future for such a man. He will be ground to powder between the upper and nether millstones of public opinion. The people have no use for one who is neither fish nor flesh politically, and nothing short of contempt for him who betrays a trust that is given him. How the man elected to represent democrats, who lends himself a tool to the republicans will justify himself before his constituents passes understanding."

NORTHERN CAPITAL IN THE SOUTH.
The Augusta Constitutionalist says: "Some of the boys want a new North. Well, it would be a good thing to have about the house, but is not easy to procure. That old North is gradually scooping up all the available property in the new South." We are not so certain that there is not such a thing as the new North. Certainly the North is not in its feelings towards the South what it was ten, or even five, years ago. No one who reads the northern papers can, we think, fail to be convinced of that fact. With the exception of a few organs there is a growing disposition with the northern papers of all shades of political opinion to give the South a fair hearing. Touching the declaration that the North is gradually scooping up all the available property in the new South, we say let her continue to "scoop." We have no fear of disastrous results to the South from such a proceeding. Nearly every purchase of property in the South by northern men means the starting of some new enterprise and a demand for southern pluck, brains, and co-operation.—Richmond Dispatch.

Messrs. EDITORS: Please allow us through your paper to make our humble acknowledgements to the kind friends of Roxboro for the very generous and hospitable reception given us at the elegant parsonage of the Person circuit, on the evening of 29th ult. You can better imagine our capacity for appreciating a kindness of this sort, when you learn that nine of us (including Mr. McJannet's driver, Hillsboro) had been packed up for seven hours, in a buggy and a two-seated carriage, without any dinner, facing a bleak wind, accompanied by a drizzle of rain—and of course the children and band boxes must be kept dry, if the coarser material was exposed a little. At last the sable driver called out Roxboro! Not knowing a soul in town, we knew not what to do, nor where to go; but we decided to make as if we would drive right through and be gone; but we didn't. Right in front of Mr. Long's store three men rushed towards us as if they would say "you are my State's prisoner," but they said "How are you brother Hoyle?" It was brother Sergeant, Tillett and Rev.

M. T. Best, the latter my colleague on the circuit. These three walked with us to the front of one of the nicest houses in town, and then brother Sergeant said "turn in here." "Oh my! is that the parsonage?" was the chorus from the huggies. They took charge of the conveyance, and hurried us into the house where all the rooms were arranged and warmed. We will never forget the hearty hand shaking and welcome of those ladies, Misses Jordan, Gregory, Winsted and Satterfield, and a little later Dr. and Mrs. Fuller, and last but not least brother Willie Webb.
"Come to supper," was the next demand upon our excited nerves. And oh, such a supper! The coffee, chicken, and a score of other nice things, and especially the beautiful oakes. We soon discovered there was a power behind the throne. The supplies continued to come in. I wish all the newly married couples, upon whom I have asked the benediction, had had such a supper as we had that evening. That supper has forever exploded the theory that "many cooks spoil the feast." For we have learned that many noblehearted, and well taught hands, had a part in that reception, with whom we have not had the pleasure, as yet, of meeting. We were again rejoiced, next morning, to see the corn and hay for William, and the flour, meat, meal, lard, coffee, sugar and even stove-wood and kindling prepared right to hand for us.
Respectfully,
PATERFAMILIAS.
Roxboro, N. C., Jan. 11th 1887.

Present Exchange.
[Chicago Journal.]
A deal of leakage among glass and crockery can be prevented by the simple precaution of placing lamp chimneys, tumbler and such articles in a pot filled with cold water before the same are packed in boxes. Both the water and cold allow it to cool slowly. When the articles are taken out and washed they will resist any sudden changes of temperature.
Girls in Russia.
[St. Petersburg Vedomosti.]
Our girls are learning trades in order to make their own living. The woman's industrial school is everywhere. The girls (learning bookbinding, typesetting, shoemaking, book-keeping, making of toys and artificial flowers, wood carving and painting, sewing, libraries, women's and children's hospitals and many private offices are now superintended by women.
Unique Designs in Silver.
[Cleveland Journal.]
The "artistic movement" has been the means of reviving much that is beautiful, especially in the silver-mine's craft. Many of the richest and most unique artistic designs of several centuries ago are now reproduced taking the place of the old designs which have offended good taste so much in later epochs.
Cinnamon for Ants.
Powdered cinnamon will scatter black and red ants effectually. If strewn in the cracks of cupboard shelves and along the edges of the cake boxes the pests will soon disappear.
Mourning Bouquet.
The correct mourning bouquet is strictly purple and white. A feather fern or two or a little smilax may be used, but no other green.
Dr. S. Johnson: Marriage is the best state for a man in general; and every man is in a worse state in proportion as he is in it for the married state.
The topmost pine in the church was accidentally part of the marriage ceremony, as appears in one of the Salisbury miscellany.
A woman made the first orange box used in California, and she runs a factory which turns out 50,000 of them a year.

Big Prices For Tobacco.
Win Carver, Esq. who lives four miles from Roxboro sold Wednesday, July 14th at Cooper's warehouse, Henderson, N. C., at 30, 33, 45, 17, 50, 55, 69, 75. Average for five best grades including smoking lugs $56.87. Mr. Carver reports the tobacco market at Henderson booming for all grades of good tobacco, and that for clever treatment and high prices Cooper's warehouse takes the lead. Now is the time and Cooper's at Henderson is the place to sell your tobacco—give him a trial and be pleased.
The Star Warehouse, Danville.
Dr. J. M. Hutchings & Son, during the past year, sold several million pounds of tobacco for the farmers of North Carolina and Virginia. They made high averages for the immense quantity sold and we are glad to note that the farmers were well pleased with the prices. They are earnest workers for their patrons and never fail to please them. Give them a fair trial when you go to Danville.
