

Person County Courier.

ROXBORO, N. C. Sept. 4th, 1890.

County Democratic Convention meets Saturday.

Who do you guess will be the lucky men Saturday?

Bargains in Clothing, at R. A. Noell & Son's.

New shoes. Latest styles. Lowest prices, at R. A. Noell & Son's.

The town authorities are having the street leading to the depot, put in splendid condition.

There was preaching of the Primitive Baptist church in this place last Sunday and Sunday night and Monday night.

Rev. J. T. Harris was elected Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, at a meeting of the Trustees last Tuesday.

Rev. Sam Jones is expected to be in Lynchburg Sept. 12th. This is a good opportunity for those who have never heard him, to do so.

Capt. Thos. C. Evans, who is well known to many of our readers, died at his home in Kildaville last Tuesday. Capt. Evans was a well known newspaper man.

Mr. John F. Woods, Deputy Collector, desires us to say to any who may have any illicit brandy on hand, that they had better have it gauged, or it will be seized.

It is stated that Hon. Josiah Turner will be an independent candidate for the Legislature from Orange county. We had thought his political days were over.

Mr. Henry Hester, of Hester's Store, brought to our office last Thursday a bunch of wild strawberries of the second crop. This is something we never saw before at this season of the year.

Quite a large crowd of our young people attended the marriage of Miss Annie L. Merritt to Rev. G. T. Watkins, yesterday evening, at the residence of Dr. William Merritt.

In another column will be found an attractive advertisement of Messrs. R. K. Daniel & Son. This is an old and established firm, and they guarantee their work to be satisfactory. When in need of anything in their line, give them a call.

"It goes right to the spot," said an old gentleman, who found great benefit in Hood's Sarsaparilla. He was right. Derangements of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, are more speedily remedied by this medicine than by any other. It reaches the trouble directly.

The election for Superintendent of the Poor House, will be had at 12 o'clock on first Monday of October, 1890. Sealed bids can be left with the Register of Deeds, for the place. Bids will be by the year, for a term of two years. T. H. STREET, Clerk P. J. C. C.

The remains of Mr. William Wagstaff, who died several days ago in Pitt county, was brought to the home of his father at Olive Hill, for interment, last Monday. We did not learn the cause of his death. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wagstaff, were with him during his last hours. This is indeed a sad affliction. The bereaved family have our sincerest sympathy.

No house in the county has a higher reputation for fine pianos and organs and reasonable prices than The Hobbie Music Co., Lynchburg, Va. It is therefore to your interest to examine their instruments before purchasing. They never lose a customer when quality of goods and prices count for anything.

Mr. Louis Goodfriend informs us that his partner, Mr. Bermann, has gone to the Northern markets, where he will purchase an immense stock of general merchandise for their stores in Roxboro and Milton. Mr. Bermann with many years of experience, has the reputation of being an expert buyer, and their customers may expect something nice when their fall stock arrives. They will notify you through the COURIER.

In another column will be found the announcement of Mr. A. R. Foushee, who is a candidate for the nomination of the office of County Treasurer. While we will endorse any man the convention thinks best suited for the place—for we have faith in the Democracy of old Person, and know they will name no one who is not entitled to the place—still we don't believe they can find a man more suitable than our friend, Mr. A. R. Foushee. His Democracy cannot be disputed—his ability as a financier is admitted by all. We hope the people may see fit to nominate him, for he would poll an unusually large vote, and it would afford us great pleasure to devote our few talents to electing him.

We hope to see a large crowd in town Saturday.

Full line of Cooking Stoves at Owen, Barbour & Smith's, Oxford, N. C.

For a good, comfortable, easy wearing shoe, call at R. A. Noell & Son's Cash Clothing House.

Dress Shirts, Negliges, or Work Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Suspenders and Gents' Socks, at R. A. Noell & Son's.

Wooten's Patent Tobacco Hangers for sale by Owen, Barbour & Smith Oxford, N. C.

Rubber Coats, Overalls and large stock of cheap Pants for the working man, at R. A. Noell & Son's.

Ladies' Phetons, Surries and Carriages; big stock, any grade or style; sold and warranted by Owen, Barbour & Smith, Oxford, N. C.

Owen, Barbour & Smith, Oxford, N. C., are alive to your interest, if you want to buy Hardware, Building Material, Wagons or Buggies.

Announcement. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention next Saturday. A. R. FOUSHEE, Sept. 3rd, 1890.

To the People of Person. I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, and solicit the support of my friends and fellow citizens. If elected I promise to fill the office to the best of my ability. THOS. D. WOODY.

"Five years ago I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and had been given up by my physicians. I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after using two bottles of this medicine, was completely cured."—Angus A. Lewis, Ricard, N. Y.

Notice. It is ordered by the Board of Co. Commissioners of Person county, that there be an entire new registration in the county, preparatory to an election to be held November 4th, 1890, for the various offices, as is required by law, with the following Registrars, viz., Bushy Fork, A. Personal. Mrs. R. Henley is visiting in Virginia this week. M. R. E. Long left last Wednesday to enter Trinity College. Mr. Hall has moved into his new house near Mr. J. A. Carver's.

Mr. Garner Smith, of Haw River, gave us a call last Saturday evening.

Mr. J. H. Henry, of Bushy Fork, dropped in to see us last Monday.

Mr. W. L. Foushee left Tuesday to resume his studies at Wake Forest College.

We are pleased to see little Lois Perry able to be out again after her critical illness.

Mr. W. E. Webb went up to Danbury last week, on business connected with the census.

Mrs. W. H. J. Goodwin and Miss Lillie Yates, of Raleigh, are visiting Mrs. J. A. Noell and Mrs. R. A. Pass.

The Milton Advertiser of last week, says: Miss Corinna Brooks, of Person county, left for Greensboro Tuesday, to enter the Greensboro Female College.

Mr. J. C. Gatewood, the L. & D. agent, has moved into the residence on Academy street, recently occupied by Mr. Hall.

Mr. H. A. Foushee went over to Durham last Friday, where he had already accepted a position as teacher in the Durham Graded School.

Miss Sue Cuninghams, of Cuninghams, left last Wednesday for Natural Bridge, to join her sisters, Misses Maud and Belle, and her brother, Col. John S. Cuninghams.

Miss Bettie Wade, who has been spending some time with her cousin, Mrs. J. R. Chambers, left last Tuesday for her home in Virginia, accompanied by Miss Hallie Barnett.

Mr. A. H. Shaw, of Graham, arrived in Roxboro last Saturday, and will make this his home. He will open a stock of general merchandise in a few days, and will have something to say to the public in the COURIER next week.

Messrs. J. L. Scott, Jr., H. W. Scott, E. S. Parker, Jr., and Currie Moore, of Graham; and Messrs. Crockett and Warren, of Prospect Hill, came down last Friday to witness the game of base-ball between Roxboro and South Boston.

Roxboro Circuit S. S. Conference.

The Sunday School Conference for Roxboro Circuit, convened at Mt. Zion, the 30th day of August, 1890.

Religious services conducted by Rev. T. N. Ivey.

The Conference was called to order by J. A. Long, President. J. T. Sergeant was elected Secretary, pro tem.

The Superintendents who were present, made their reports. The Sunday Schools were found to be in a flourishing condition, keeping open all the year, and attended in general by a gratifyingly large proportion of the older members of the Church. In the Superintendents' reports the fact was brought out that there is being manifested upon the part of our people a deeper interest in Sunday Schools. There are about 500 belonging to the different Schools within the bounds of Roxboro Circuit. The motto is "A Sunday School in every church, and the whole Church at Sunday School."

The necessity of Sunday School Conferences, was ably discussed by J. J. Mackay.

On account of absence of blackboard, Rev. T. N. Ivey was prevented from illustrating the next subject, "Blackboard Teaching."

The Conference then adjourned for dinner. Never before, under the noble trees overshadowing Mt. Zion church, was spread a finer repast, to which any Sunday School Conference, or any other body, did more ample justice. Verily, the Mt. Zion people know how to feed.

Conference convened for the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock, and was opened with a beautiful song service by the different Sunday Schools.

The following question was entertainingly answered by Prof. M. C. Thomas: "Is the Sunday School for the young people alone, or for the whole church?" The fact was brought out that the Sunday School needs the patriarch as well as the innocent child.

"How shall we get the parents of children to Sunday School?" This question was very effectively answered by Col. C. S. Winstead, who stated in order to get the parents out, it is necessary to make the Sunday School attractive, and to teach the parents the responsibility resting upon them.

"What does my Sunday School need?" This was answered by each one of the Superintendents present. Col. C. S. Winstead was elected President for the ensuing year; Geo. W. Moore Vice-President, and J. T. Sergeant Secretary.

Oak Grove was selected as the place for holding the next Conference. Owing to the fact that the time of holding the Conference came when the farmers were very busy, it was thought that the attendance would not be large, but not more than one-half the crowd could get in the house, the crowd being so large.

The Conference was a fine success. The singing of the different Schools was especially fine. All went away much strengthened and encouraged by what they saw and heard on the occasion.

The next Conference will be held on Saturday before the third Sunday in July, 1891.

J. T. SERGEANT, Secretary, pro tem.

ROXBORO vs. SO. BOSTON.

North Carolina vs. Virginia.

Last Friday the decisive game between Roxboro and South Boston was played at South Boston. On it the victory hung, and it was eagerly looked forward to and brilliantly played. When the South Boston boys came over here and were so skillfully twisted up three weeks ago they swore vengeance, and last Friday was the day of vengeance selected. In some mysterious way it became known in Roxboro that our friends the enemy had secured the fine bat from Roanoke, Va., and the news put Roxboro to its motto. The telegraph wires were brought into service and Friday afternoon when our boys started "to victory or to death," they had with them help most valuable from Winston. It was nearly three and a half o'clock when the teams got on the ground and faced each other. South Boston's imported men looked glorious in their apparel. They could do so many tricks with the sphere and a man that looked to Roxboro folks alarmingly like John Sullivan was batting balls that endangered every building in the town. Nervous did you say? We surely were nervous. The home team was invincible if appearances were to be relied on. At 3:40 Mr. Scott, the umpire called "Game," with South Boston at the bat. A little fellow in a blue suit of clothes jumped to the pitcher's box. He kinder fondled the ball in a familiar, loving way, jerked up his right foot, gave himself a twist and the ball had hit the catcher's fence—and when he heard it strike Glenn at the bat, after prayerful deliberation, decided he would strike too. Not having a double-contracted bat that hits behind as well as before he didn't touch that ball. The small man in the box smiled—again he looked at the ball as at an old, familiar friend, again the right foot jerked, again the ball had hit the catcher's fence, and Glenn had attained the dignity of two strikes. Thus things proceeded and when the side was out South Boston's nine, reinforced by Roanoke and Danville, had made just as many runs as if they had never been born.

"McGann to the bat, Lanier on deck." The batsman of South Boston came smilingly up—McGann was the pitcher who had turned their laughter to mourning and their joy to heaviness. Broady was in the box and it was a wide and long curve that he threw, but he who had fooled others himself could not be fooled. McGann differed from the famous McGinty in the important fact that he never "went down." The bat seemed as familiar to him as the ball, a base-hit rolled off as easy when he came to the bat as if the curves were all straight balls. Lanier followed with another base-hit, a habit which he had all during the game. But it was in vain. When three men were out Roxboro had just the number of runs that South Boston had gotten in the first inning. The second inning like the first made no difference in the score. Nothing for Roxboro. Nothing for South Boston. But in the 3rd inning Carly of South Boston got his base on balls and by skillful base-running got home. Of the 2000 people witnessing the game 1500 were South Boston sympathizers and every one of the 1500 howled. South Boston had scored the first run! Old men threw off their hats, old ladies waved their parasols, young ladies shouted, while the omnipresent, obstreperous small boy stood on his head and got purple in the face.

It must have been that the 1500 wouldn't have another chance to try their lungs. They didn't shout any more. On Roxboro's 4th inning Morris went to the bat, and knocked a beautiful two-base hit down by 3rd base, McGann followed with a base hit, Lanier with another and Farrel with another. There was a blocked ball and all four came in. Somehow or other old men and maidens, lad and lassies were not near so noisy.

"Twas the light brigade that yelled—the heavy contingent was mute, motionless. And it continued mute. "Rosy" ceased his coaching. The ones so anxious to bet became indifferent and luke-warm. Inning after inning made no change in South Boston's favor. The home-team could get no more runs. Roxboro picked up a run occasionally till its score was 7. The sun shone bright for the few—for the many it gave nothing but intolerable heat. On South Boston's last inning McGann, the wizard with the ball, decided he'd try the out-fielders some. He dropped in an easy ball, and Rosenthal caught it on the end of his bat and in a second or two more Morris in the right field had made a beautiful long catch. Another, easy ball, and Gray in center field had made a running catch that showed the poetry of baseball. Another and Crossett at second base scooped in a liner that compelled a shout of admiration even from the folks that had gotten rather out of the habit of shouting.

The game was done. The interest had been more intense than one not present will believe. The two towns had felt at liberty to search each its own State for the best players. Each had secured the best players. Roxboro and North Carolina were victorious. South Boston and Virginia were in the gloom of defeat. All had witnessed the finest game ever seen in this section of the two States.

The treatment that our boys received at the hands of the home-team was courteous and pleasant. Twice we have visited South Boston intent on bringing our boys to the team victorious and defeated, but neither the elation of victory nor the depression of a disappointment and defeat makes them forget their courtesy as gentlemen and hosts. The players from Winston besides being the best base-ballists ever seen here, by their quiet, pleasant deportment made a very favorable impression. We feel elated at our victory but we sympathize with South Boston. If the club had made a single clean, base-hit 'twould have been easier to bear, but for all the good they could do with McGann they had as well have had shingles instead of bats.

At the Democratic Primary Convention for this township, the following delegates were elected: W. H. Harris, C. B. Brooks, Dr. J. A. Wise, Green Daniel, C. C. Clayton, J. H. Clayton, R. A. Walker, W. I. Newton, John R. Hamlin, J. W. Younger, Jas. Ashley, B. C. Carver, John S. Clayton, E. M. Walker, Geo. Westbrook and Geo. T. Burch.

Roxboro township being only entitled to eight delegates, a motion was passed to elect sixteen, allowing them one-half vote each, with instructions to the delegates to appoint their alternates if unable to attend.

A. R. Foushee, W. W. Kitchin and C. B. Brooks were elected Township Executive Committee, with C. B. Brooks as Chairman.

From Holloway's.

MR. EDITOR:—I see in a recent issue of your paper the name of G. D. Neal suggested for County Treasurer. No better nomination could be made. The people of Holloway's township would be delighted. He is a good man, a strong man, and an upright christian gentleman, and will carry Holloway's to a man. He is a staunch Democrat, as true as steel, and never turns his back upon a friend or foe. With a loyal heart and an honest hand, he faithfully performs every public trust. In the charge of official duties, he knows no friend but the law. He acknowledges no party affiliations, no political bonds, and no personal obligations. He always goes to the line, let the chips fall where they may. Let every Democrat rally for G. D. Neal. HOLLOWAY'S.

P. C. Ennis, business manager of the Raleigh Southern Farmer, desiring to aid the agricultural fairs of the State, makes the following liberal offer to any fair association in North Carolina:—One year's subscription to the Raleigh Southern Farmer, (a weekly agricultural and family journal,) for the best display of sheep. One year's subscription for the best and largest display of grape. One year's subscription for the best display of either field or garden seed. One year's subscription for the largest number of manufactured articles exhibited by any one factory in the State.

It is expected that these subscriptions be offered as an additional premium for these exhibits. The Southern Farmer is a weekly agricultural journal and one of the oldest and best in the country, and is considered a safe and reliable guide to the farmer.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris Newark, Ark. says: "Was down with Abscess of the Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and am able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewert, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption I may have died of Lung trouble. It has given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at R. Morton & Co's, and J. D. Morris & Co's Drug Stores.

The Census of the Southern States.

The following figures are given as the results of rough calculations from the Southern States census returns: Alabama has now a population of 1,530,000, as against 1,265,505 in 1881. Arkansas has increased from 802,325 to 1,188,000. Delaware from 146,608 to 175,000; Florida from 269,493 to 390,000; Georgia from 1,542,180 to 1,840,000; Kentucky from 1,648,096 to 1,870,000; Louisiana from 939,946 to 1,115,000; Maryland from 984,945 to 1,400,000; Mississippi from 1,181,697 to 1,265,000; North Carolina from 1,399,759 to 1,640,000; South Carolina from 969,537 to 1,187,000; Tennessee from 1,512,665 to 1,700,000; Texas from 1,542,359 to 1,800,079; West Virginia from 618,457 to 774,000. The increase in Missouri has been 400,000, and her population is 2,547,000.

You Are in a Bad Fix.

But we will cure you if you will pay us. Our message is to the weak, nervous and debilitated, who, by early evil habits or later indiscretions, have trifled away their vigor of body, mind and manhood, and who suffer all those effects which lead to premature decay, consumption or insanity. If this means you, send for and read our Book of LIFE, written by the greatest Specialist of the day, and sent (sealed) for 6 cents in stamps. Address Dr. Parker's Medical and Surgical Institute, 131 North Spruce street, Nashville, Tenn.

We North Carolinians have especial cause for thankfulness. Where in all the world is there a land more blessed of heaven. Health reveals in its mountain breezes and soft rains in its spring air.
