Selected for the Courier.

Sir Cupid.

Sir Cupid once, as I have heard, Determined to discover What kind of a man a maid preferred, Selecting for a lover.

Then, with a smile sedate and grim, He changed his style and station, In shawl hat and gaiters trim, He made his visitation.

Then Cupid, puzzled in his mind, Discarded his disguises; "That you no preference seem to find, My fancy much surprises."

Where to Put the Stamp on a Letter. It has become a custom which all thoughtful persons always observe, to place the stamp on the right hand corner of the envelope.

The Condition of Italy. The condition of Italy is indeed deplorable. Nothing is afforded a clearer insight into rottenness of its foundation than the recent foolish bluff of Baron de Fava.

The Germ Destroyer. In the field of discovery and invention, medicine has not kept pace with surgery. That, perhaps, is natural; service surgery is the mechanical branch of medicine.

Great Confederate Gathering. United States Senator Walthall and Ex-Governor Lowry will deliver orations at the unveiling of the Confederate monument in Jackson, Miss., on June 8th.

Baron Fava, the Italian minister has gone home, and the public lost interest in the cause of his going as soon as it was certain that a peaceful settlement would eventually be reached.

Melange of Dots.

It is said that honesty in little things is not a little thing. It is said that good sense is a gold dollar, current at all times, and convenient in all places.

It is said that no evil dooms us hopelessly except the evil we love and desire to continue in, and make no effort to escape from.

It is said that deep learning will make you acceptable to the learned; but it is only an easy and obliging behavior and entertaining conversation that will make you agreeable in all companies.

It is said that every quality of the human mind, however valuable in itself, loses much of that value by being developed out of proportion to some other contracting quality.

It is said that he that would conquer must fight. It is said that the only way to have a friend is to be one.

It is said that charity is a virtue of the heart and not of the hands. It is said that poverty is not a shame, but the being ashamed of it is.

It is said that when tossed on the angry waves of a sea of trouble, a good motto is, "Never give up the ship." But, when the ship manifests a tendency to sink, it is a wise move to swim out and not go down with the wreck.

It is said that sympathy, the feeling with another heart in its mingled experience, whether glad or sorrowful, is a blessing power on the earth.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 10, 1891. Senator Peffer is in demand at public meetings here, and he doesn't forget to impress the principles of the Farmers' Alliance upon his hearers at every opportunity.

Speaking of an interview in which Senator Edmond's characterized the Farmers' Alliance movement as a fever, Mr. Peffer said: "Some people are inclined to belittle these things. I noticed that Dr. George F. Edmond's said that it was nothing but a fever, and that the public were afflicted periodically in this way."

Another distinguished Alliance man, Col. L. L. Polk, president of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, made his first bow before a Washington audience last night, at the public meeting held by Local branch No. 4, National Citizens Alliance.

It is said that the best protection against the people's ill manners are our own good manners. It is said that to lament the past continuously is rather a hindrance than a help to bettering the future.

It is said that there is a transcendent power in example. We reform others unconsciously when we walk uprightly. It is said that when tossed on the angry waves of a sea of trouble, a good motto is, "Never give up the ship."

A Trying Calamity.

Among the minor calamities of life, that of being compelled to break up house-keeping and selling off the conveniences and embellishments of a pleasant, well-ordered home, is one of the most trying.

When the auctioneer steps in to shatter with his hammer these agreeable associations, it is impossible not to regard him as an enemy. He is a conspirator against our peace, and his audience are his accomplices.

Some of the quack medicine vendors advertise to cure an "all-gone" sensation at the pit of the stomach; but, alas! art can devise no remedy for the "all-goneness" a man feels at his heart when the auctioneer's gavel knocks down the last of his household goods.

Now, there are scores of sarsaparillas and other blood purifiers, all cracked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.

That one—standing solitary and alone—sold on trial, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If it doesn't do any good in skin, scalp and scrofulous diseases—and pulmonary consumption is only lung scrofula—just let its makers know, and you get your money back.

Talk's cheap, but when it's backed up by the pledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business!

United States Senator Walthall and Ex-Governor Lowry will deliver orations at the unveiling of the Confederate monument in Jackson, Miss., on June 8th. Gov. Lowry will, it is understood, offer a tribute to the late Jefferson Davis, while Gen. Walthall will speak of the Confederate cause. It will be the greatest demonstration in Mississippi since the war.

The Germ Destroyer. In the field of discovery and invention, medicine has not kept pace with surgery. That, perhaps, is natural; service surgery is the mechanical branch of medicine. The general acceptance of the germ theory of disease, however, opens a new field for medicine, and will take it completely away from the medieval superstitions that still cling to its skirts.
