Miss Roxie Sheets, who has been visiting Mrs. J. W. Noell left for Leasburg last Thursday morning, where she will be the guest of Miss Josie Hambrick.

Mr. E. G. Thompson is now fully prepared to meet all your wants in the grocery line. His stock is fresh and he assures you that the prices are just right. See his ad.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gentry, who have been boarding at the Hotel Winstead since their marriage have moved and are now domiciled in one of the Satterfield houses on South Main.

Mrs. T. Anna Harrison, who had the misfortune to fall off of a horse during Christmas week and who has since had to use crutches, is again able to be out without the help of crutches or friends.

Messrs. W. R. Hambrick & Co. have something to say to our readers this week. Human nature is very much like the world over—when one has a good thing he is almost sure to let you know it. Read his ad.

Mr. W. G. Bradsher, of Winstead, called last Saturday. He had received another large (?) check, but we will never tell the amount, for some tobacco which he had been selling.

Mr. J. D. Clayton, the most punctual paying subscriber on our list, renewed for the year 1896. For a number of years he has renewed on the very day that his subscription expires. How we would love to have 1,000 just such.

We were glad to see Mr. S. Watson McDuffie on our streets during the past week. He has improved in health very much and hopes soon to be entirely well. Mc., as he was familiarly known in Roxboro, was universally popular and the foregoing will be good news to his friends.

Mr. E. J. Ramsey, who subscribes for THE COURIER for a friend in Kentucky, was a visitor to this office Monday. Have you a relative or friend in some distant State? Send them your home paper, for few things would be as acceptable as the news every week from their old home.

Dr. R. J. Teague, formerly of Leasburg, but more recently of Baltimore where he has been taking a post graduate course, has located in our midst and offers his professional services to the public. He makes a specialty of diseases of nose and throat. He is no stranger to the people of this county and is very popular where best known.

The twentieth annual State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of North Carolina, will be held March 19 to 23 at Charlotte. An interesting programme is being prepared. Some strong speakers have already agreed to be present. Every Association in the State should be represented by as many delegates as possible.

Mr. Chas. B. Paylor has had his hands full for the past few weeks. Owing to the illness of Maj. Hunt he has been compelled to stay close at home, and has not been able to see his friends in the country, but he assures them that they can come on to the Farmers' and they will be treated all right. They are making big averages at the Farmers' now—$12.14 including everything yesterday. They tell you all about it in their letter to-day.

They are telling a good joke on one of the bachelors out in the Olive Hill section. He has been bacheling for some time with no one about to bother or feed but a little brother or cousin, but during the holidays he had a visitor who spent several days with him, and after his departure the bachelor said that he had been considering the matrimonial question, but that it was settled for him, as he could not afford the expense of laying three plates.

See notice elsewhere of letter of thanks from Mr. T. A. Winstead to Messrs. Lukin & Long for the very quick and satisfactory settlement of his loss occasioned by fire a few days ago. He was insured in the Liverpool & London & Globe, which is the biggest fire insurance company in the world and a company which always pays cash as soon as loss is ascertained without discount. This famous company's quick adjustment of its loss of three and one-half millions of dollars in the great Chicago conflagration in 1872 when so many other so-called strong companies went down to rise no more, gave it a world-wide reputation and it stands today at the head of all other fire insurance companies and does business everywhere.

Prompt Payment. WOODBURN, N. C. Jan. 11, 1896. Messrs. Lukin & Long, Agents, Roxboro, N. C. GENTLEMEN—Please accept my sincere thanks for your exceedingly prompt settlement of my recent loss by fire. The proofs were forwarded to you the 6th and on January 11th just five days after, the loss was adjusted for the full amount of the policy without discount, viz., $1,000. T. A. WINSTEAD.

Notice. All persons who are indebted to the late Dr. R. A. Morton will please come forward and settle at once. LAMAR R. A. MORTON, Lamar St., Roxboro, N. C. Buckler's Arnica Salve.

That's What The Courier Says. On last Friday night the Roxboro Amateur Minstrels gave their first performance. The weather was all they could ask for, and the house was full to its utmost, consequently the boys were happy and did full credit to themselves. Each and all of them acted their parts well, but especial mention should be made of Oscar Y. Hare as Bones, W. J. Johnson as Tambo, and W. V. Terrell with his Banjo-phon.

Mr. Terrell and his Banjo-phon created the most merriment, and was likewise the biggest sell. The instrument consisted of a banjo with a string fastened to it which was passed out among the audience with instructions to hold close to your ear and hear sweet music. After a goodly number had laid hold of the string Mr. Terrell assured them that he had traveled widely, up and down the Mississippi River, and down the Dan as far as Milton, but that was the longest string of suckers he had ever caught. This brought down the house, and it was amusing to see those who were holding the string try to push it off and appear "innocent."

Another act of real merit was the dialogue of W. J. Johnson and Paul C. Morton, Jr., in which Johnson tells an awful yarn, and when contradicted justifies himself by saying, "That's what THE COURIER says."

"An old-fashioned breakdown," by Street, Hare, Terrell, Daniel, Morton and Woods was exceptionally good. In fact the performance was good throughout, being perfectly clean and free from smut. In only one thing would we criticize the boys, and that is in the boisterous manner of those off the stage while the performance was going on. This detracted somewhat from the play.

We hope they will, at an early day, give another performance, for it really is a quarter well spent. You Get Strong. If you're a tired out or "run-down" woman, with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And, if you suffer from any "female complaint" or disorder, you get well. For these two things—to build up women's strength, and to cure women's ailments—this is the only medicine which, once used, is always in favor. Therefore, nothing else can be "just as good" for you to buy. The "Prescription" regulates and promotes all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and is perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. For ulcerations, displacements, bearing down sensations, periodical pains, and every chronic weakness or irregularity it's a remedy, that safely, and permanently cures.

The best regulator to regulate a people, is Simmonds Liver Regulator. It regulates the liver and the liver regulates the person. If the liver is regular then health is good, but if sluggish or diseased then there is constant Bileness, Indigestion, Headache and all the disorders of the stomach that one hears of. Try Simmonds Liver Regulator and prove it.

The Death of Miss Ida Scoggin. Sadness, like a pall, hangs its sable curtains over another home in Reidsville. The death angel came in the night time of Jan. 6th and claimed Miss Ida Scoggin for his own at the age of 21 years and 5 months. The ties which had bound this family in unbroken unity from the marriage altar until now are broken. The loving ministry of a faithful daughter and sister has ceased; the hands ever ready to help bear burdens of life now lie still and folded on a pulseless breast; the eyes that so often looked in tenderness and love on the dear ones of the family are now dim and closed in death; the tongue once vocal with music for the home joys and in praise of His dear name is hushed till the resurrection morn. We mourn the loss of such a one. But thro' the gloom and sorrow and sadness in which we grope, there comes streaming the bright light of a glorious resurrection and here stands the sweet promise of Jesus, "He that believeth on me hath everlasting life and I will raise him up at the last day."

Our hope that we will realize this promise does not rest on any flimsy foundation; for some six years ago she made a bright profession of faith in Christ and was baptized into the fellowship of the Reidsville Baptist church; and from that time to this, her life was that of a thoughtful devout servant of our dear Lord. Indeed, she was always an obedient, faithful child, servicable, tender and kind in the home; gentle, companionable and congenial with her friends. Her life was beautiful here. We believe it will be glorious yonder. We shall see her no more in the flesh but we trust we shall meet her in the presence of the great King, where the flowers never fade and the songs never die—where there will be no more sickness nor sorrow, and where partings and broken hearts will be forever unknown. We cherish her memory, and as we look around in the home at the paintings wrought by her hand, we read how she loved nature and nature's God, and we rejoice that one day she will roam the Eden fields of Paradise with that dear Savior whom she loved with all the redeemed Israel of God. A FRIEND.

—Cor. Reidsville Review. Says the Wilmington Messenger: "After all the efforts to get the schools interested in the Vance monument fund, not more than $60 has been raised in all North Carolina. This is beggarly and discreditable. What a slow people are our people to help such a patriotic cause! Will not some lady or ladies start such a fund in Wilmington? The men are not going to take the initiative." Sixty dollars in one week is rather disappointing, but not discouraging. Only a few schools have acted yet. Others will help later.

The late Dr. Jewett is reported to have once written to Mrs. Humphrey Ward: "We shall come in the future to teach almost entirely by biography. We shall begin with the Life that is most familiar to us, the Life of Christ, and we shall move and more put before our children the great examples of persons lives so that they shall have from the beginning heroes and friends in their thoughts."

The editors of this magazine thoroughly agree with Dr. Jewett. It has been, for a long time, their great desire to publish in these pages a "Life of Christ" which shall be, to quote Mr. Hall Cairns' words in the December McClure's, "as vivid and as personal from the standpoint of belief as Renan's was from the standpoint of unbelief."

Is gathered by that tremendously destructive engine, malaria, put on the brakes with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will check its progress and avert disaster. Chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are promptly relieved and ultimately cured by this general specific, which is also a comprehensive family medicine, speedily useful in cases of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia. Against the hurtful effects of sudden changes of temperature, exposure in wet weather, close application to laborious mental pursuits, and other influences prejudicial to health, it is a most trustworthy safeguard. It fortifies the system against disease, promotes appetite and sleep, and hastens convalescence after debilitating and flesh wasting diseases.

For several months past there has been considerable burning of property over on the Virginia and North Carolina line, sometimes in this State and then in Virginia, and all efforts to capture or discover the culprit were unsuccessful. A few days ago J. Buck Stanfield made a proposition to a negro who had been working for him to give him $1,000 if he would burn various houses and barns. The negro, instead of keeping his part of the contract, reported it to the parties interested, who proceeded to set a trap for Stanfield. Arrangements were made for Stanfield and the negro to burn the barn of Mr. Chas. Bass, near Mt. Carmel, Va., at 7 o'clock on last Saturday night. At 8:30 the negro came up and reported that they were on hand. He went back and told Stanfield that all was in readiness, when they proceeded to the barn and poured on the oil and Stanfield fired it. At this juncture the parties who had been in hiding made a rush for Stanfield, but he took to his heels. He was ordered to hold up but he paid no attention to the command, when they opened fire on him, shooting him three times, the third shot bringing him down. It is reported here that he has confessed to the burning of Col. John S. Cunningham's lumber, the poisoning of cattle, and various other deeds of cattle character. The negro who informed on him also implicated one Richard Harris, col., who has been arrested and since confessed.

The trouble grew out of an old feud existing between Stanfield and Mr. Bass. His hatred for Col. Cunningham was because the Col. would not appear at a certain trial and testify as to his good character. His wounds though very painful are not considered serious. This, it is hoped, is the end of a long list of devilish deeds that have been perpetrated in that section during the past year.

Notable and Commendable. The Atlanta Constitution, in its Sunday morning issue, states four facts in reference to the Atlanta Exposition that will make every southern man proud of his section, and gratify every true American heart. The success of the exposition, wonderful in whatever aspect considered, is all the more wonderful and valuable in the light of the Constitution's four features.

1. We made our big show a brilliant success without the attraction of horse-racing. 2. No gambling or betting in any shape was permitted. 3. We did not have to violate the Sabbath in order to draw crowds. 4. We kept the liquor traffic strictly regulated, closing the saloons at 10 o'clock, and allowing no wine, spirits or beer to be sold on Sunday.

Under these strict regulations the exposition was largely patronized, and was pronounced a success by the leading newspapers and most eminent men of the country. These facts carry their own commentary with them, and we defy all the expositions in history to show a better record!

Many stubborn and aggravating cases of rheumatism that were believed to be incurable and accepted as life legacies, have yielded to Chamberlain's Pain Balm, much to the surprise and gratification of the sufferers. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy Will Cure any Form of Blood Impurity if the Bitters and Wash are Carefully used Together. Four or five years ago I had a breaking out on my nose and face; it would come in hard knots, which would become raw sores. The trouble extended to the eyes and weakened them; the lids became sore and discharged. The face had an itching, stinging sensation, as if needles were pricking the surface. Nothing I tried gave me any relief. Some one sent me a pamphlet of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and I concluded to give it a trial. I bought her Remedy and Wash, and I began to improve at once. It soon made a perfect cure, and I have never been troubled since. I also found it a fine tonic and appetizer.
