ROXBORO, N. C., Sept. 25, 1901

ON our first page will be found an interview with President Roosevelt by Senator Pritchard, which will give pleasure to all Southerners. The President's expressions are encouraging to the South, and is rather more than was expected by many. If he carries out his promises he has made since assuming the duties of his high office, his administration will be a success, and can but be commended by the people. Unlike the nominee of a convention—he has no promises to fulfill which were made before entering office. He is practically unhampered by such.

OHIO'S PRESIDENTS.

ONE of our contemporaries points out the fact that some strange fatality seems to overhang the presidents which the State of Ohio has given to the nation.

Out of the four presidents who have hailed from the Buckeye state, President Hayes is the only one who survived his term of office. William Henry Harrison died before he had been in the white house thirty days. James A. Garfield was assassinated in the summer which immediately followed his inauguration as president, and William McKinley was just entering upon his second term of office when the assassin's bullet laid him low.

But of course there is nothing in the superstitious idea that the fatalities which have overtaken the chief executives in question proceed from the fact that they represented the state of Ohio. Beyond the mere coincidence involved there is no significance whatever in the fact that three of the presidents furnished by Ohio have died in office.

What has happened in the case of the Buckeye State might have happened in the case of any other state, and there is no cause whatever for alarm or uneasiness.—Constitution.

President Roosevelt.

Theodore Roosevelt assumes the duties of the Presidency under conditions calculated to call out the best that is in him, conditions which will make more ardent his natural desire to fulfill the expectations of his countrymen. While he was in perfect accord with Mr. McKinley in regard to public questions, his strong individuality will doubtless cause some uncertainty until his administrative policies are developed. He enters office more free from political obligations than he could have done had he received a party nomination after a long contest. Mr. Roosevelt has a high conception of civic virtue and his opponents will probably find more to criticize in his doctrine than in his methods. There will be no disposition to prejudge him, but an earnest wish that the governmental policies for which he and his party stand may be tested upon their merits.—W. J. Bryan in the Commonwealth.

LEASBURG NOTES.

Mr. S. J. Oakley died Saturday after an illness of several weeks. He moved to this place with his family a few months ago. He was a useful man with a kind heart. During this short stay he won the respect of the entire community. He was buried at Cedar grove. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

Rev. J. B. Thompson and wife are expected to return in a few days. Mr. Thompson has been to the springs and taking a complete rest for several weeks on account of ill health.

Misses Mary Richmond of Tenn. and Julia Lea of Hames have been visiting their aunt, Miss Willie Lea. Our School opened the 9th under charge of Miss Underwood of Littleton. She is a graduate of Louisville, and comes to us highly recommended.

Miss Anabel Thompson is visiting relatives in Yanceyville.

Our little town was quite alive during the Summer with the home girls, but quiet seems now to reign.

Misses Mary Louis Cormally and Fannie Johnson have returned to G. F. C., Miss Cora to Littleton, and with her Misses Bessie Pulliam and Ella Stanfield. Miss Ella Thompson has entered the Baptist University at Raleigh. Other older ones will leave soon to take charge of schools.

The rush of the farmers is almost over. Tobacco generally has cured well.

Resolutions by Roxboro Lodge I. O. O. F.

That Whereas the Chief Executive of the United States, Wm. McKinley has come to an untimely death at the hands of a cowardly assassin, therefore be it resolved by the members of Roxboro Lodge No. 52 I. O. O. F.

1 That we testify to the high integrity, the great ability and upright christian character of our late President.

2 That it is the sense of this Lodge that in his death, the nation has lost a great chief, the people a warm friend and the country a wise statesman.

3 That while we mourn his death we submit to the dispensation of an unerring Providence.

4 That we condemn and execrate the Anarchistic spirit of which this is the manifestation, defiling the great Pan American Exposition, though consecrating it by the blood of a Martyred President.

5 That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved widow and relatives.

6 That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Lodge and also be sent to the Person County Courier for publication.

Let it Alone

Scott's Emulsion is not a medicine for fat folks. You have never tried giving it to a real fat person. We don't want it. You see Scott's Emulsion builds new flesh. It doesn't want it. Strong folks don't need it. But if you are thin Scott's Emulsion is the medicine for you. It doesn't tire you out. There is no strain. The work is all natural and easy. You take the medicine and it's all there is to it. The next thing you know you feel better—you eat better—and you weigh more. It is a quiet worker.

LARGEST SEED HOUSE IN THE SOUTH.

President Roosevelt spoke well, Saturday, to Senators and Pritchard Money and to Representatives Klutz Livingston and Gibson. It was the language of a broad minded American. He expresses himself as knowing no sectional lines and as proposing to extend the same treatment to all sections of the country. This done the South will certainly be his friend, of its inclination are clearly that way, and it only wants such good reasons for this friendship as the President's words afford.—Charlotte Observer.

Cates News.

Our farmers are very busy saving their tobacco and fodder crops.

Mrs. T. A. Williams, of Durham, and Miss Susie James, of Rock Hill, S. C. are visiting at W. D. Blalock this week.

J. S. Satterfield has gone to Durham to make his future home.

J. H. Cates and J. A. Pearce packed their trunks and pulled for Caldwell Inst. a few days ago.

J. T. Cates, the noted hunter, has caught a very large fox this season.

Griffin Hamlin continues quite ill.

Hurdle Mills News.

Our farmers are all about through pulling fodder and cutting tops, and the meadows are being attended to now more than anything else, nearly everybody is mowing grass this fall as there is an unusual large crop and there is no need for any of our people not saving all the feed they need.

Mrs. Woodson of Brookneal Va. is visiting at Mr. R. L. Wilburns this and last week.

Zachary T. Clayton, son of J. Clayton, was bitten by a snake a few days ago and the little fellow has been quite sick, but he is now much improved.

Mrs. Farmer and her two little daughters of Danville are spending the summer with Mr. B. W. Kirby

Mrs. Farmer's father.

Some of our tobacco raisers are curing their tobacco yellow, some green, some red and some very near black. So our people will be sure to have some that will suit the market.

There will be preaching at the Hurdle Mills Academy Sat. night before the 3rd Sunday in Oct. by Rev. Mr. Hocutt of Durham.

As the nights are getting a little longer the Hurdle Mills people will reorganize the debating society. The time has yet not been decided upon but will be soon and will be reported through these columns.
